Survey Shows Nixon Weak In California

By Earl C. Behrens, Political Editor

Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be defeated for President in California by any one of five potential Democratic nominees for that office, a state-wide survey disclosed yesterday.

The five Democrats who would defeat Nixon, according to the poll, are, in order of strength, U. S. Senator John Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson, Governor Edmund G. Brown and U. S. Senators Hubert Humphrey and Stuart Symington.

The same poll showed Republican Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York would lose to Kennedy or Stevenson but would defeat Brown, Humphrey or Symington.

PARTY'S BEST

Despite this, Nixon, according to 71 per cent of the Republicans queried, will be the party's strongest candidate.

The poll of 1530 persons, weighted accurately on basis of registration, was made by Facts Consolidated, an organization which samples political and business trends. It was understood to have been financed by interested Republicans.

The survey was made in mid-June, thereby not taking into account any gains Nix-

Farm Labor Probers Hear New Abuses

Complaints of employer abuses in the Mexican farm labor program mounted yesterday.

Assistant State Attorney General Charles O'Brien said numerous new reports of irregularities have been received since a sweeping investigation of the program was ordered last week.

At the same time he said the probe, until now confined mainly to Southern Califor-

Fires Sweep Closer to Yosemite

Two major forest fires swept closer to Yosemite National Park late yesterday, crushing the hopes of firefighters who — hours earlier—had them almost contained.

One thousand men fighting a four-day-old blaze in southern Mariposa county were done in by strong winds.

The blaze jumped a fireline and streaked to within three miles of the Yosemite national vacationland — but still some 18 miles from Yosemite valley.

SECOND FIRE

Twenty miles to the north, near Briceburg, another nearly contained fire was windwhipped alive again.

A Forest Service spokesman in Sonora said both fires were burning "hot and brisk" at nightfall, with "very little chance of control."

He said there is "no immediate threat" to Yosemite, but "both are burning in a northeasterly direction—toward the park."

The southern Mariposa blaze has blackened 13,000 acres, including 1000 in Sierra National Forest. Some 2200 acres of timber have been lost to the Briceburg fire.

PLUMAS BLAZE

Another fire was out of control in Plumas National Forest and two outbreaks were controlled in Shasta-Trinity National Forest and El Dorado National Forest.

The Plumas blaze broke out in the Feather river canyon area, 20 miles northwest of Quincy, yesterday afternoon. Dispatcher T. A. Pettigrew said 2000 acres were burned off by nightfall, with no hope for immediate control.

Hose Halts Runaway Airplane

MACON, Ga., Aug. 2 (AP) — Harold Thurston cranked the propeller to start his private plane with the throttle open too much today. The plane lurched forward, breaking a mooring line.

Thurston, 38, ducked away from the propeller and grabbed the tail section.

He tried to crawl over the tail section to the cockpit but the plane was going too fast; also too fast for him to drop off.

The plane rolled around the Herbert Smart airport nearly an hour at about 35

'Bravo, America!' In Warsaw

WARSAW, Aug. 2 (AP) A cheering, singing crowd of 250,000 Poles today gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon the greatest reception he has had during his travels in 60 foreign countries.

For almost 15 miles excited Poles showered Nixon with flowers and applause after he flew in from Moscow.

"Bravo America!" the crowds shouted, repeatedly. "Nothing ever exceeded this," said the overjoyed Vice President after his drive from Warsaw's Babice military airport to Myslewicki Palace at the edge of the capital, where he and his wife will stay during their three-day visit.

NIKITA'S VISIT

The welcome, in enthusiasm and perhaps in numbers, surpassed the official reception tendered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev who came here about two weeks ago.

Said Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press representative, of the crowd: "A quarter of a million is a conservative estimate."

Crowds, ten persons deep in places, slowed the Nixon motorcade half a dozen times. They threw so many flowers into his open limousine that on four occasions they had to be swept out.

Dozens of bouquets hit the

The wedding date was set as August 22.

The international romance already had the blessings of the elder Rockefeller. The Governor said in New York

Nixon Shows Skill in Rough Interview

By James B. Reston

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 — Vice President Richard Nixon's long years of political controversy are beginning to pay off.

He has been in the center of so many battles in the last decade, usually as the principal target, that he has learned to control his temper, his voice and even his facial expressions.

This much, at least, he proved today when he held a full-dress news conference here under trying and even dangerous circumstances.

The conference was held in the ballroom of Spaso House, the residence of the United States Ambassador, which is a vast, ornate structure built in Czarist Moscow by a sugar baron.

TV COVERAGE

Nixon opened the conference to Soviet correspondents. To guard against charges of favoritism, he used an interpreter from the Soviet foreign ministry, Yuri Lepanov, a tense and eager young man. He let in the television cameras, Soviet

GM May Back Auto Exhaust Cancer Study

New York Times Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 2— General Motors is considering financing a broad study of the possible link between auto exhaust fumes and lung cancer.

And in a related move the company reportedly is developing a new filter to reduce noxious fumes that pollute the air.

The proposed cancer study would be carried out by the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. It would be the first such project sponsored by a single auto manufacturer.
