British Troops Mop Up Dutch Road Junction

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON.—(AP)—British troops, turning flamethrowers against German bazooka nests, struck through the big Dutch road junction of S-Hertogenbosch in mop-up operations today, and the Germans fell back in retreat on a fifteen-mile front above and below that key city.

S-Hertogenbosch was captured except for isolated enemy pockets, a front dispatch said, and supply roads leading north and south were snipped.

Even as the British pressed on, the eastern end of the German bow-shaped salient westward around the Belgian Estuary Islands through Canadian seizure of the neck of the peninsula in a famous north and northward drive.

The British reported the capture of 1,400 prisoners Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in the Estuary Islands, and virtually all were from the 72nd Division.

FLOOD, RAIN OF CITY

The British have flooded the southeastern corner of S-Hertogenbosch in an unsuccessful attempt to hamper the attacking infantry, who had to wade inside the city has ended and the resistance of scattered parties could not delay complete occupation of the city more than a few hours.

A field dispatch declared the capture of S-Hertogenbosch would shorten the British force estimated at between 60,000 and 70,000 men in Western Holland below the Maas to 30,000 men.

ESTUARY ISLAND FUSIN

Another Canadian column striking westward advanced slightly farther into the tip of South Beveland, taking Vlissingen, and now adjacent Walcheren Island command the Scheldt Estuary Land to Antwerp.

On the Canadian advanced in diminishing Brekens pocket on the south shore of the Estuary opposite Walcheren Island, Fall of Fort Frederik, Prussian fort which captured Brekens port was imminent, said a front report. Below

Brekens the Canadians reached the Oosterbeek-Schondel Rd. The Canadian-British offensive threatened the whole German stand below the Maas, and German forces, undeterred in Western Holland are known to include patched up units of eight divisions, the 83rd, 80th, 245th, etc.
