the Suwalki district in East Prussia, now less than 20 inner ahead of the Red Army.

The German High Command said the Russians struck from northwest of Tarnopol, where they last were reported within 30 miles of strategic Luow, and west of Luck, 120 miles southeast of Lublin, which guards the southeast approaches to Warsaw.

A drive from Luck also would be a southern flashing threat to Brest-Linovak, fortress town in the surface of the two wars, which stands Daniels Sees
