

Sugar Short For Canning

The availability dates of applications for home canning sugar allowances will be announced within the next two weeks by the MacKinnon War Price and Rationing Board, J. A. Scoggin, chief clerk, said today.

Home canning allowances for sugar, reminded Mr. Scoggin, will be a maximum of fifteen pounds per person, as compared with twenty pounds per person the first of this year.

There will be no more than a maximum of 120 pounds of canning sugar allowed per family unit, regardless of the number of persons in the family unit, said Mr. Scoggin, who also urged Charlotte housewives not to apply for more sugar than they actually need.

The United States Employment Service recruited more than 600,000 persons for war jobs away from their home towns in 1944.

Eager Purchasers Hitler Extras Sold At Fast Pace Here

Some of the thousands of Charlotteans jamming the streets late yesterday afternoon may not have believed the news of Adolf Hitler's death, but it didn't stop them from snapping up the two Charlotte News extra editions which heralded the news.

The first extra hit the street shortly after 5 P. M. "Newsboy Joe," a veteran veteran salesman, fought more than he could handle in front of The News building and through his big stack of papers without leaving his post.

By the time "Joe" went back for the second allocation, thousands of other papers had been distributed to the uptown boys and sent to neighboring towns. One salesman on Independence Square sold "Extras" but once in fifteen minutes. He just handed out papers and made change as fast as he could while buyers stood three and four deep waiting their turn.

There was one humorous side-light. A young lady approached a salesman on the square, handed him a quarter for three papers. She started to walk away without getting her change. The newsboy called her back, but just as she turned around "That's all right. Go ahead. I'll keep the rest."

She laughed, and walked away as the crowd laughed, too.
