Doihara, Lawrence of Manchuria, Faces Arrest

Japan's Cabinet Holds Meeting

TOKYO (AP)—General MacArthur today ordered the "immediate arrest" of Lt. Gen. Kenji Doihara—whose recent appointment to command Japan's First General Army was given Allied acceptance—and issued a top-point code to guide operations of the censored Japanese press and radio.

Japan's cabinet met meanwhile for three hours to discuss problems which will confront the nation after the war. The cabinet included mounting food shortages and repatriation of Japanese civilians from Manchuria and Korea.

ADVANCE AGENT IN ASIA

Doihara, once called Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria," was the country's advance agent in its Asiatic conquest.

His appointment as commander of the First General Army, succeeding Field Marshal Gen. Suenami who committed suicide, came as a surprise to many Japanese, who said his past record was not one that would inspire American confidence.

American Army officers, nevertheless, said after the conference that Doihara has played a full operation and was "courteous and cooperative."

General MacArthur's code for the Japanese press specified that news "must adhere strictly to the truth" and that "nothing may be printed which might directly or indirectly stir public tranquility."

YANK FIRES IN BLAST

The only ray of violence in the occupation thus far was an accidental ammunition explosion that killed one American soldier and injured 60 others near Tokyo Army headquarters said an American soldier reported at the blast by accident and that no Japanese saboteur was suspected.
