Canine Saves Two Lives Bandit Flees As Dog Attacks Him

By RAY STALLINGS
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Jo-Jo, his watchdog belonging to the R. S. Yandies, 223 S. Cecil St., was given credit today for saving the lives of his owners last night by attacking and driving off a Negro man who, attempting to rob the Yandies Grocery Store at the point of a gun, shot and wounded Mr. Yandie in a scuffle when Mr. Yandie attempted to get his gun.

Mrs. Yandie told police the man came in their store at about 7:15 P. M., pointed a gun at them and said he was going to kill them both. She said she screamed and ran to the back door and the man followed her, but was driven back by the barking of Jo-Jo, who was tied with a long chain on the back porch of the store.

The dog's slashing attack drove the man back inside the store, where he cornered him behind the counter, Mr. Yandie ducked behind the counter and got his 22 caliber pistol, but was jumped by the intruder, who wrestled the gun out of his hands.

The bandit shot Mr. Yandie twice during the scuffle for possession of the gun, one bullet striking his left arm just above the wrist, and the other hitting between the middle and index fingers of his left hand.

The intruder fled through the front of the store, and the big gray German police-dog was prevented from chasing him by his chain to unleash him.

Mrs. Yandie rushed to a neighbor's house and called the police, who carried Mr. Yandie to Memorial Hospital, where it was learned that a knuckle had been shattered and the arm was broken. One bullet was still in his arm, and the other was found at the scene of the shooting. Police said it was a caliber bullet.

Mrs. Yandie said the Negro was light-skinned, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds, and was about 25 years old. She said he was wearing a light-colored suit, over his face, a brown suit, and a handkerchief tied over his mouth.

City police reported no arrests as yet.

HERO DOG - Jo-Jo, the German police-dog, credited with saving the lives of his masters, is shown above with Mrs. R. S. Yandie, Jo-Jo's attacked and drove off a bandit attempting to rob the Yandies grocery at 223 S. Cecil St. last night.

When Sheriff Photographer Don Martin snapped his flash camera, the dog lunged at him but was held back by Harold, son of Mrs. Yandie, who is out of range of the camera.

Temperature At Airport Tumbles To 8 Degrees

Cold Wave Covers Entire South

By KIMMY WORTH

The Weather Bureau today advised shivering citizens to dig in for a cold week-end today as another mass of cold air moved through the back-west and headed for the South.

The temperature is due to tumble again tomorrow night following a much warmer day. A minimum of 25 degrees is forecast for tomorrow morning, considerably warmer than the low of eight degrees at the airport and fourteen degrees in the city this morning.

Clear skies are forecast through today but heavy clouds are moving toward the Carolinas and skies are expected to be overcast by tomorrow morning when the temperature is forecast tomorrow afternoon.

At 7:45 A. M. today the temperature at the Municipal Airport at the station varied the cold it has been here since Feb. 1, 1947, when the thermometer first showed the minus degree. That day was the coldest in the city since 1888.

A blizzard cold over the Atlantic Duke Power Co. city transmission lines at the station varied the cold it has been here since Feb. 1, 1947, when the thermometer first showed the minus degree. That day was the coldest in the city since 1888.

Early yesterday the Weather Bureau predicted that the temperature would drop to 18 degrees this morning.

Seven persons including a woman and a two-year-old child were saved by firemen who raised ladders to the burning building. The families had lowered themselves from apartment windows to the marquee.

The fire was first observed by Lee Agner, a canteen operator, who heard an explosion and notified the Fire Dept. The explosion, later said to have been caused by an accumulation of gas, was heard by the residents of the building.
