Member Of Dewey's Campaign Party's Hit By Tomato Sauce

Sen. Ball Is Struck, Mrs. Dewey Splattered
Third Incident Of Campaign

By JACK BELL
EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY TO ST. PAUL — (AP) — An overripe tomato, hurled from the crowd, struck Senator Joseph H. Ball (R-Minn.) on the shoulder and splattered Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey today at Alberta Lea, Minn.

The incident occurred shortly after Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican Presidential nominee, had endorsed Ball's bid for reelection to the Senate in a local platform appearance.

Ball, Dewey campaign train was just pulling out of Alberta Lea station when an unidentified person lobbed the tomato from the crowd of 3,000 persons there.

It struck Ball on the shoulder and splattered the black suit worn by Mrs. Dewey, standing nearby.

OTHERS ON PLATFORM
Ball, Dewey, Senator Ed Rye (R-Minn.) and Gov. Luther Youngdahl were on the platform. They were not struck.

Dewey aides said there was no way of knowing at whom the tomato was aimed.

It was the third tomato-throwing incident of the Dewey campaign. The first occurred at Fort Morgan, Colo., and two were hurled at Dewey earlier in the week at Mt. Vernon, Ill.

Traveling across Minnesota to St. Paul and then to St. Paul, Minn., Ball, Dewey and Rye (R-Minn.) on foreign and farm topics, Dewey called for the reelection of Ball.

The latter is opposed by Minneapolis Democratic Mayor Hubert Humphrey.

Ball, who bolted the Dewey-Bricke ticket in 1944 to support the late President Roosevelt, joined the Republican Presidential campaign train at its first Minnesota stop, Alberta Lea.

Dewey praised Gov. leader Harold E. Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota, "one of the finest leaders of our time."

Stassen, who served as governor after Dewey's death, had been in the state for many months.

Truman attacked Ball in a St. Paul speech Wednesday, largely because of the Minnesota bombing during the war, and the act's operations and recommendations possible changes.

President Truman declared today: See SENATOR BALL on page 14-B.

Pamela Spends Restless Night

CHICAGO — (AP) — Little Pamela Lamphart spent a restless night after yesterday's second operation for the removal of the tumor in her rare bladder malformation.

Dr. Roger T. Vaughan, an oculist, said the girl's temperature was 100 and her pulse rate increased proportionately.

These conditions, he said, are not dangerous and not infrequently follow the removal of a tumor. The operation was similar to that noted after the first operation several weeks ago.

Hitler Estate Confiscated

MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — A German denazification court today ordered confiscation of the personal belongings of Adolf Hitler and his family.

Chairman for the defendants were not one showed up to occupy them.

Hitler was declared a major Nazi offender—if he is alive. But the court said all available evidence indicated that Hitler died in Berlin in 1945 with Eva Braun, who became his wife a few hours before they reported committed suicide.

Hitler's personal property consists of an apartment house in Munich, his mountain hideout at Berchtesgaden, which was destroyed by aerial bombing during the war, and approximately 5,000,000 Reichsmarks. This sum was owed Hitler by a Nazi publishing company, chiefly for sales of his book "Mein Kampf."

The court said Eva Braun was not a Nazi party member, but derived personal advantages as "Adolf Hitler's concubine." Her property consisted of a four-room house in Munich, purchased by Hitler in 1933.

The court ruled that Hitler's property will go to the state of Bavaria. Eva Braun's house will go to the restitution fund for the benefit of the victims of Nazism.

Cordial Reception Predicted Truman Visit Will Attract State Political Big-Wigs

By FRANK C. ADAMS
Charlotte News Special Writer
WASHINGTON — When President Truman speaks to Tar Heels at Raleigh on next Tuesday he will receive an enthusiastic reception, a gracious show of Old North State hospitality, and a show of respect and good manners from even his harshest opponents.

Over a direct wire linking his Washington and New York offices, Byrd said he "couldn't conceive" of his state giving the President of the United States anything but a reception in keeping with his high office and the deep regard the South has always held for the Presidency regardless of who might be the White House occupant.

North Carolina Congressmen and Senators are at home and many of their Washington friends are expected to attend Tuesday's rally at the State Capitol.

Italy Faces Strike Crisis

By JOHN P. MCKINIGHT
ROME — (AP) — The Italian Government, faced with a Communist threat of a nationwide general strike today to forestall imminent walkouts by transport workers and movie operators.

A strike of the nation's bus, short haul railroad, streetcar and ferry boat operators has been set for Monday.

The Labor Ministry called representatives of the union and the municipality agreed transport systems to a meeting today to try to reopen negotiations. The break-down in negotiations brought the Communist delegates protesting.

More than 1,000,000 Government employees, most of whom left their work for varying periods yesterday.

They had a promise of support from the Communist Party, which Giuseppe Di Vittorio, who threatened a general strike of his own.

He threatened a general strike of his own, which would involve the Government's demands of the State workers.

A walkout also was reported threatened at the big Milan plant of the Fiat Automobile Co. after the discharge of five workers alleged to be Communist.

The Russian state policy, he charged, was to use the threat of a strike to force the slave armies in the Soviet Union.

In the U.S.S.R. this vast body of cheap labor is utterly without human rights. The slave army is a monstrous slave system, recruited from Russia's own citizens, which has no parallel in world history.

Hoose Back From Convention Traffic Condition Warning Condition

By DICK YOUNG
Charlotte News Staff Writer
A red light warning of decentralization of business is already flashing in the mind of Engineer Herman J. Hoose today. Back from the convention of the Institute of Traffic Engineers at Philadelphia, Mr. Hoose reported that off-street parking and one-way streets provided the major theme of the convention.

And Ray S. Churchill, of Churchill-Palmer Associates, architects and city planning, said that the Institute of Traffic Engineers, declared that the first step in the decentralization of business is the decentralization of business in American cities.

Vishinsky Speaks Out At Meeting Of Council

Effort Reached To Reach Accord

By LOUIS NEVIN
PARIS — (AP) — Andrei V. Vishinsky broke his silence on the Berlin crisis in the Security Council today but only to say he wouldn't debate the issue.

The Russian Deputy Foreign Minister broke up his response to direct questions from Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, and France said they would supply it.

Then Vishinsky arose. He said it was a "very skilled" maneuver, but that it was "naive to believe the door of central efforts to mediate the Berlin question."

Vishinsky repeated his argument of last week that the Berlin dispute belongs in the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference, not the Security Council. For that reason, he will continue to refrain from making a speech in the Security Council.

The Western powers have accused Russia of threatening world peace by its blockade of Berlin, and of using the blockade as a "neutral" nations of the council had in mind "any question of doctrine."

"We asked the questions in a normal fashion," he said. "We think the decision of the Security Council is the result of oratory that got carried away."

He said the council would accept Vishinsky's refusal to speak, but that it was not permissible to his country.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain pointed out that the Soviet Union had refused to accept the council's decision.
