Peruvian Troops Smash Bloody Revolt in Port City

Sailors And Civilians Take Over Warships

Rebels Routed From Strongholds

By Luis Leon LIMA, Peru.—(AP)—Government troops held full control over the port of Callao today after smashing a bloody revolt by sailors and civilians.

The insurgents, who seized and took full possession of warships were arrested and installations at Callao, Lima's port, launched the revolt yesterday.

By late last night, Government Infantrymen, supported by tanks and fighter planes, had routed the rebels of their fortified strongholds and apparently had captured them all.

There was no official indication of the number of casualties or how many persons took part in the revolt. All accounts indicated, however, that the number of dead and wounded was large. An army spokesman said there were no more casualties that trucks brought to the scene to suggest amputations.

BLAMES OPPOSITION PARTY The Government of President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero said it cannot be held responsible for the opposition party's actions.

"Comdr. Enrique Aguilera Pardo, who's well known because of his Aprila killings because he was the leader of some warships," the communique said.

The rebel first strike occurred about 11 A. M. Felix Piaggio Stagnaro said, when about 50 civilians, well equipped with Navy arms, attacked a Callao police station.

In rapid order, sailors and civilians seized the Naval Academy, the Government slaughterhouse and the National slaughterhouse.

First Since Break Ickes And Truman Talk In Capital

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes today paid his first call on President Truman since Ickes quit the Cabinet in a huff in 1946.

Kind rumors of nation-burying, Ickes — He saluted Old Curmudgeon — told reporters after talking with the President.

"In good time I will make a statement. He said that he and Mr. Truman talked issues, campaign issues. I thought I knew his position but I just wanted to know."

A reporter asked if he considered issues more important than his personalization in the forthcoming election.

Issues are paramount importance in this campaign, Ickes replied, adding emphatically "the paramount."

He was asked whether he would release his statement to the newsmen in general or make it through the news agency. He said he would write his break with the President.

Ickes grinned and said: "I don't think I'll be selfish with it."

He was asked whether he hadn't brought his hatchet, Ickes replied, "Left it in my car."

Soviet Curbs Travels Of Diplomats

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Russia has issued new travel restrictions which in effect confine foreign diplomats to the Moscow city limits, the State Dept. said today.

The restrictions apply to travel in the Soviet Union by staff members of foreign missions and consulates, the department said. They were issued last Thursday.

The department said news reports about the new order, filed by American correspondents in Moscow, have been held up by a Soviet censor.

The new Soviet order was described as a supplement to regulations issued May 15, 1947.

The department said the new regulation adds a new and greatly expanded list on hotels and localities in or to which travel is prohibited for members of the staffs of foreign missions and consulates.

For all practical purposes the list of forbidden cities (territory of the USSR, the principal additions being the newly acquired territories, such as Sakhalin).

Tragedy Things Were Looking Up And Then-- WINSTON-SALEM.—(AP)—The body of former Roy Fitcher, who was killed that day on a job, was found today.

Fitcher had left to get a job. He was seen the home, and a State highway patrolman came to the little home on North German and Rural Hill.

Truman Back In Capital After Tour

From his car at right, President Truman addresses crowd upon his return to Washington Saturday from 5,300-mile cross-country campaign tour.

Sign at left describes Truman as "Our Man." The President told the crowd, "I have just begun to fight."

U. S. Answer Given PARIS.—(AP)—Warren R. Austin of the United States challenged Russia today to agree to effective international control of atomic energy.

He opened in the political committee of the United Nations assembly, the Western powers' drive to answer Russia's latest switch in tactics in the atomic energy debate.

Austin said he hoped the time for throwing "old tomato cans and dead cats" is over. He added he hoped the delegates could get down to real work.

His answer to violent attacks by Moscow and Andrei Vishinsky and Dmitri Z. Manuiloff of the Soviet Union was that he would try to do nothing to make the committee's job harder.

Vishinsky, Russia's deputy foreign minister, started the committee Saturday with a resolution calling for the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission to continue work.

He said the committee should continue work on a treaty banning atomic weapons and a second treaty establishing effective international control of atomic energy.

Austin declared the United States and majority of the atomic commission want effective control. He said if both mean the same thing, the last is simple.

He said he believed, however, the Russians did not mean to accept the majority plan and were not prepared to go ahead in the same way as the rest of the committee.

The American said Russian reaction in debates indicate they actually are not ready for effective international control of atomic energy. He said the Russians still adhere to nationalistic aims.

U. S. Seeks To Bring Case Before U. N. Council

Soviets Propose 4-Power Party PARIS.—(AP)—Russia fought hard today to keep the Berlin crisis out of the hands of the United Nations.

The United States fought just as hard to get a Security Council hearing for the eastern city but said that the Soviet blockade of Berlin is a threat to peace.

Andrew Y. Vishinsky, Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister, said the Security Council has no jurisdiction in the case, since the proper organ is the four Council of Foreign Ministers.

Philip C. Jessup, speaking for the United States, declared in rebuttal: "If the Soviet Union wants peace, let us refer to the United Nations."

There was no indication when a vote would come on whether the Security Council will accept the U. S. position.

Vishinsky's argument to the council follows closely the line taken by the Soviet Union earlier in the day, which demanded that the Berlin crisis, out of the hands of the United Nations, be referred to the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Secretary of State Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met for two hours while the Security Council was in session.

Vishinsky opened the argument, after the Council spent an hour quibbling about whether the kind of translation system to use, by declaring that the Western powers' proposal for a treaty of the Berlin blockade is "deplorable."

By their action in pushing for a Security Council hearing, the UN Charter forbids the Council to discuss anything concerning Germany unless invited to do so.

Vishinsky denied there was a Soviet blockade of Berlin. A number of the delegates insisted the Russian said Western charges against Soviet military authorities in Berlin were of a "ludicrous nature."

Presumed Down At Sea Plane Is Missing With 21 Aboard

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A twin-engined charter airliner with 21 persons aboard was "presumed down at sea" today after it sounded distress calls over the Atlantic Ocean.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration official listed the plane as downed by the New England Air Express Co. on Puerto Rico way after "an accident is presumed to have occurred."

The plane's gasoline supply was exhausted at 4:45 A. M. (EST). It was last heard from, calling the international distress signal "Mayday" at 1:44 A. M.

The plane's presumed plane is down somewhere between Charleston and the Bahamas, the CAA said. "The gasoline is gone and we haven't heard from it for several hours."

The Coast Guard said it was believed a radio "fix" was established between the plane and a ship located the plane about 55 miles north of Nassau.

The search area was bounded by the islands of Abaco Island and Berry Island. Hopewoman Betty Carstairs' famed "SOPHIE" expressed.

Red Protest Is Discounted

BERLIN.—(AP)—U. S. authorities said today they regarded as "trivial" the protest of 2,000 Russian protesters against the U. S. and British plans to set up a Berlin air lift.

The protest was said to be an answer "to some sort of an answer" to the U. S. and British plans to set up a Berlin air lift.

Fla. Storm Warnings Up

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Southeast storm warnings were hoisted today from Miami outward over the Florida keys and to Fort Myers, Fla., as a tropical storm developed in the Caribbean Sea.

Highest winds reported were 50 miles an hour in squalls, but Weather Bureau storm forecasters were concerned because of its swift development and a critical flood situation in South Florida.

A big cattle growing area north of Ocala, Fla., is flooded from the Sept. 21-22 hurricane, and the situation in the rich Winter vegetable growing area around and south of the lake is such that heavy rains will have inevitable serious consequences.

The storm, already moving in the hour of darkness, is expected to strike the Florida coast with winds up to 140 miles an hour and poured heavy rains over the southeastern quarter of the peninsula.

Huge Bank Firm Faces Hearings

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Federal Reserve Board announced today it will hold public hearings on the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco's proposed merger with the Bank of America.

The announcement—the first official disclosure of the case by the reserve board—said that Transamerica itself had requested that the hearings be made public.
