County Is Alarmed At Move To Shift Lead

McAden Urges Continued Sharing Of Health Costs

County officials expressed both amazement and concern today over the movement apparently underway by the City Government to revamp the jointly-operated health services.

Chairman S. Y. McAden sees no reason why the City should limit its scope. "Why not," he asked, "inventory all of the joint operations?"

The County took the position that the movement was premature since the City only a few months ago appropriated $10,000 and the County a like amount for the purpose of sponsoring a survey by the Institute of Government to determine the advisability of consolidating some City-County agencies.

"I would seem to me," said Mr. McAden, "that the desirable thing would be to await the results of this inquiry."

However, since the City apparently already is accumulating facts on health department functions, McAden said the County promptly began to assemble some facts, statistical and legal, of its own.

Said Mr. McAden: "The fact is, it is today that now, if the City is going to shift its health department, it should shift the health department of the City."

While the City is apparently concerned over a single department, McAden said the County is concerned over the health department as a whole.

Perhaps a little division there would be advisable, he continued, for the County to go into a huddle with representatives of the General Assembly to get "other adjustments made."

"I feel certain," said Mr. McAden, "that city officials will want to the health department as a whole before too much is done. After all, the County has its side of the story. Certainly, the financing of the health department is a very important one."

OPINION RECEIVED

An opinion has been received and prepared for distribution to County Commissioners. George Franklin, general counsel of the League of Municipalities, who wrote City Manager Henry A. Vance, City effect that it is time for the City to stop being a "sleeper" and to get out of health and welfare fields.

McAden took notice that the letter came from an official of the Municipal Association. Perhaps it was not a bad idea, he said, to find out what the County Commissioners Association of North Carolina thought on the same subject.

Chinese Aid Plan Scored In Congress

McAden Urges Continued Sharing Of Health Costs

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) said the civil strife in China has passed the point where "mere economic help will be enough."

"We should furnish military supplies to enable the Nationalist Government (of Chiang Kai-Shek) to use the equipment we have already given them," the New Hampshire lawmaker told a reporter. He added:

"The expenditure of many billions of dollars to halt the spread of Communism in China is a little sense if at the same time this Government sends China to go to the Communist by default."

Bridges is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which will have a big say over how much money China is to get and how it is to be used.

However, the first official look at the Chinese situation is shaping up on the other side of the Capitol.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee announced that it will start hearings on the subject of European recovery legislation, but plans to start work on a foreign aid bill, or bills, by March 2.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is just starting work on a $3,300,000,000 Marshall Plan measure for Europe, but no immediate action on it will be taken by the China matter.

Plan Special Instruction For Backward Children

McAden Urges Continued Sharing Of Health Costs

Charlotte's mentally retarded children will, for the first time, have the opportunity of special instruction through a two-year program, according to plans formulated today at a meeting of representatives of the City School Board, the Community Council, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Council office.

Plans call for instruction to be offered by:

- 1) A pre-school clinic and kindergarten to be operated at the Episcopal Church; and
- 2) Public school classrooms, if the State Board of Education will approve the teaching plan.

This project will place a new trail in North Carolina in the field of education.

Charlotte's Junior Chamber of Commerce has expressed much interest in a school for "exceptional" children and will bring to the City Board of Education, assistant director of education at the University of Mississippi, Dr. Schmidt, who has greatly aroused the attention of authorities in education and in medicine by reportedly raising the normal intelligence quotient of some 250 mentally-deficient children in Chicago.

The 39-year-old education director, who is a native of North Carolina, met on March 31 at the Ship Ahoy. Approximately 200 County parents of retarded children, community leaders, and other well-known residents of Charlotte, including Dr. Schmidt, met for the purpose of discussing the project.

The complete failure on the part of the nation of the world to outlaw the killing of members of a conquered population.

"It is not our province to write international law as we would have it," the decision said. "We might as well apply it to a life-long, as pointed out by Miss Mildred Batten, executive secretary of the Community Council at today's meeting. She said that Dr. Schmidt has thrown a bombshell into the field."

NEW FIELD

This field in education is new in that most persons take the long-accepted view that mental deficiencies are deemed to a life-long, as pointed out by Miss Mildred Batten, executive secretary of the Community Council at today's meeting. She said that Dr. Schmidt has thrown a bombshell into the field."

Until After Primary

Louisiana Tax Probe Is Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move for a Congressional investigation of income tax returns of some leading Louisiana politicians today was blocked until at least early next week.

The move means an investigation and report is almost impossible before the Louisiana gubernatorial primary on Tuesday. The House of Representatives is among the individuals it is proposed to investigate.

The developments came in this order:

First, the House Rules Committee approved a resolution calling for the investigation. This sent the resolution to the House floor.

The delay, Hallock explained, was caused by several factors. The death of Rep. Robinson (R-Ky.) and the insistence of Rep. Herbert (D-La.) opponent of the investigation, that there be a roll-call vote on the resolution.

Since the House is under a "gentleman's agreement" that there will be no controversial legislation taken up before the election, Hallock said the tax investigation could not be considered today.

The Rules Committee's action came after a spirited session during which charges of "stonewalling" by "informers" flew hot and fast.

The investigation would be made by a special seven-man committee under terms of the resolution.

It was requested by Rep. Herbert (D-La.) that the investigation be conducted by a "committee of inquiry" composed of two Democrats and one Republican.

Rep. Herbert (D-La.) said he had been told by a "source" that the investigation would be conducted by a "committee of inquiry" composed of two Democrats and one Republican.

New Racial Row Is Stirred Up

Wallace, on a speech-making tour of the South, gave no indication that he plans to lead any call to "come home, all is forgiven."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee raised an out and out distrust signal today in the face of the Henry A. Wallace third party drive.

Chairman J. H. McGrath said he hoped Wallace will "realize" that he can accomplish nothing in the defeat of the Democratic Party's program of practical liberalism in 1948.

McGrath virtually appealed for abandonment of the Wallace campaign in a radio speech last night.

The address followed McGrath's radio address in Tuesday's New York Congressional election, a big danger sign for the Democrats.

Wallace, on a speech-making tour of the South, gave no indication that he plans to lead any call to "come home, all is forgiven."

He was announced at Miami Beach that his supporters have obtained 49,000 signatures to put his name on the primary election ballot in California.

Wallace, who is a member of the state by which about 475,000 votes in 1948.

Meanwhile the row between national Democratic leaders and party members over Wallace's campaign is still being stirred up.

A group of Southern congressmen today called for a "come home" campaign to get Wallace out of the country.

They said that Wallace's campaign is a "disgrace" to the Democratic Party.
