THE RECORD WILL TELL

THE appointment of Dr. Frank Porter Graham to the United States Senate to succeed the late J. Melville Broughton is one of the most significant political events in North Carolina history.

No other man in this state is quite so controversial as Dr. Graham. No one else inspires such fierce loyalty and devotion; no one else arouses such bitter enmity; no one else is so quietly unopposed as the polemic and means which course about his head.

His assets are tremendous — in number and variety.

1. He is a kind-hearted, Christian gentleman, with a strong sense of social justice and the courage to stand for what he believes is right.

2. He is an independent thinker, reliant upon and responsible to no pressure group, conservative or liberal.

3. He is a man of great learning, of original thought, able to master mentally the great questions of modern civilization and bring them into balance.

4. He is a man of national and international renown who wields great influence in high places.

5. He is a skilled and adept politician, who has shown his mettle year in and year out as chief lobbyist for the Greater University of North Carolina.

6. He is a competent administrator, both in his own sphere of responsibility, and in the ability to attract good men to his staff and inspire them to loyal and devoted service.

7. Of those assets, and others, will stand him in good stead as a United States Senator.

But he has certain liabilities, which are the inevitable corollaries of his nature:

1. He is far too trusting of his fellow men, has thoughtlessly permitted individuals and organizations of questionable motives to use his name and that of the University he heads for their own selfish purposes.

2. He is a firm believer in a strong Federal Government built along the social welfare lines, which would sacrifice local initiative and responsibility for the easy-going, let-Washington-do-it philosophy, and which would be entirely too charitable with the taxpayer's money.

3. He is a militant advocate of unionism, an issue over which North Carolina is sharply divided as illustrated by the fact that the General Assembly has outlawed the closed shop.

But these may not be, after all, such big liabilities, for there is every reason to believe that Dr. Graham, once he leaves the rarified intellectual atmosphere of a university campus and comes face-to-face with the practical problem of kneading a swelling Federal budget into proper shape, will begin to temper his theories with realism. He may find that there simply is no way to pay for the grandiose social welfare state that he and others of like mind have envisioned.

Let us hope so.

In any event, the people of North Carolina will have an opportunity in 1950 to pass on his stewardship of the exalted position given him by Governor Dock. We trust that the terms of a political paraly and named the man whom he, at least, thought best qualified for the job.

Time and the record will tell whether the Governor chose wisely.

THE NEW LABOR BILL

WITH the preliminary obstacles out of the way, the administration effort to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and revert to the basic Wagner Act with minor variations will face its major test on the floors of the House and Senate in the coming week.

It is certain to provoke a bitter battle, the outcome of which will indicate, far better than the filibuster, whether the administration has any real control over this first Congress.

So far, the division in the Senate Labor Committee which approved the Administration bill by an 8 to 6 margin, and the House Labor subcommittee, which also approved the measure by an 8 to 5 vote, have been strictly along party lines. The Democrats have favored the Administration bill; the Republicans have opposed it. In all probability the full House Labor Committee will split in a similar fashion when it reports the measure out this week.

Party lines may not hold, however, when it comes before the House and Senate.

It is generally agreed by all that certain revisions in the Taft-Hartley law are desirable. But the charge that the Taft-Hartley Act has been a "slave labor law" and ought to be abolished outright is poppycock. It has done more than anything else to bring a degree of relative stability to management-labor relations.

What everyone should be trying to do is work out such changes as are necessary to give labor and management equal rights and responsibility, and to protect the public from against unscrupulous labor leaders.

To accomplish this, at least five safeguards must be retained in any new labor law. Four of them are being outlined by Business Week magazine as follows:

1. Protection against national emergency strikes that can bring disaster to the community.
2. Regulation of the closed shop so that employees cannot be deprived of their individual liberties.
3. Withholding of Government support from Communist elements that work in the unions and in the labor movement.

THE STUDENT AND THE ATHLETE

SCHOLARSHIP, which generally tends to slip south to the ranks of big-time college athletes, comes out not too badly in figures lauding from the University of North Carolina on this year's freshman class. And the active Tar Heel student does pretty well by himself, too.

For instance, the current freshman class qualified no less than 71 members for initiation recently into a national scholastic fraternity. Last Fall the freshman football squad had 80 members, and the supposition is that the 80 were the top athletes for the particular season.

Of freshman students who made half A's and half B's and qualified for the fraternity, 53 were residents of North Carolina and eighteen were matriculates from out of the state. The football squad of 80 had 68 Tar Heels and 12 out-of-state athletes. The first was 74 per cent and in the second (athletic), 72 per cent. In other words, there were more Tar Heels as top students than as top footballers.

Athletics may be at that stage that the dog of higher education, as we suspect that it is, yet it is comforting to find that a certain paragon is also up to the mark. The high incidence of Tar Heel honor students in this is significant.

One of the arguments advanced for raising University standards at the door is that the home-educated Tar Heel youngster suffers by comparison with out-of-state students who have the benefit of being schooled in the best of schools. The figures do not support this but apparently the figures do not prove it.

J. Steele Harmon, representative of the Standard Printing Co. of Louisville, was at Clark Wednesday at County Clerk John Cull's office and left some blotters. One of the blotters appears the following: "These trying times are the good old days we'll be longing for a few years from now." —Nicholas County (Ky.) Star.

Georgia's Legislature has finished what it was to do and adjourned in 45 days. As a course, judging from some of the bills the boys passed, it's a good thing for Georgia it didn't go on longer. We think the Tar Heels are the good old days that were more Tar Heels as top students than as top footballers.

Miami has outlived the wearing of masks and hoods. Maybe next they'll get around to some of those slacks. —Fort Myers (Fla.) News-Press.

A Statement of Principles

Meet The New Senator

(On Jan. 13 Dr. Frank Porter Graham answered a broadcast by a radio commentator, Fulton Lewis Jr., with the following statement of his position on controversial subjects. Since it represents the most complete and latest statement from the new Senator from North Carolina, it is being reprinted as information to News-Readers-Editors, The News.)

RETURNED this morning from Lake Success and New York where I acted as advisor to the Indonesian situation and find your telegram here. In view of your questions and implications I hope you will use my statement to provide content for your answers.

Know nothing of any action except decision of Atomic Energy Commission.

I have always been opposed to Communism and all totalitarianist dictatorship. I opposed both Nazi and Communist aggression against Czechoslovakia and earlier Russian aggression against Poland and later Communist aggression against other countries.

I was for aid to Britain against Germany when Germany had the pact with Russia. I was a member of the United Nations Committee on the Fight for Freedom Committee.

During the period of my active participation, the overwhelming number of members of the Southern Conference were to my knowledge anti-Communists. There were several isolationist friends of the Conference with which I disagreed. The stands which I supported as the main business of the Conference were such as the following: Federal aid to states for schools; abolition of freight discrimination against Southern commerce, agriculture, and industry; anti-unionism for the inspection and control of atomic energy resources and consider the Russian threat to co-operate a major setback for the world.

I have from the beginning been a member of Americans for Democratic Action which has been a leading force for the inspection and control of atomic energy resources and consider the Russian threat to co-operate a major setback for the world.

I have continued to support the Baruch-Acheson-Lilienthal plan for the inspection and control of atomic energy resources and consider the Russian threat to co-operate a major setback for the world.

I joined with the majority of the people among whom I sponsored these committees were well known as loyal Americans. If members of these committees had ulterior aims it was without our knowledge or approval. From past experience I am aware of Communist technique of infiltration into organizations.

I was on committees against Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco in Japan; for civil liberties and other such committees during last score or more of years. I joined with the majority of the people among whom I sponsored a salute to the Red Army holding the gate at Stalingrad. I am still glad to see the gate closed and the Red Army held back.

I was not turned for further suggestions against freedom. The overwhelming number of the people among whom I sponsored these committees were well known as loyal Americans. If members of these committees had ulterior aims it was without our knowledge or approval. From past experience I am aware of Communist technique of infiltration into organizations.

Organizers with good purposes. However, I do not now renounce any stand I made for human freedom.

I supported the major domestic and foreign policies of Woodrow Wilson and Roosevelt including such Roosevelt policies as lifting the embargo against the 50 destroyers to Britain and lend lease to the allies. I have from the beginning supported the Marshall Plan.

I supported Mr. Jepp's strong statement of the American stand in the Security Council against Communist and Russian attempts to destroy the Republic of Indonesia.

At the University of North Carolina we stand for the lawful freedom of our students to have their own political organization. The far largest number are Democrats, the next largest number are Republicans, and the third largest number are State Rights Democrats. There are a number of followers of Norman Thomas and a few number who are followers of Henry Wallace who include a dozen or so Communists to whom we accord and will continue to accord the lawful freedom of this community.

While personally holding that a membership in the Communist Party is not per se proof of an individual's crime against the Government, I uphold the right of the Government to follow the rulings of the Attorney General in his interpretation of the State law to deny the use of a State building to the Communist Party.

Our faculty with all their intellectual freedom are conservative or liberal in the highest American tradition and will be protected in their lawful and decent American citizens.

I have been called a Communist by some sincere people. I have been called a spokesman of American capitalism by Communists and repeatedly called a tool of imperialism by the radio from Moscow. I shall simply continue to oppose Ku Kluxism, imperialism, fascism, and Communism wherever I find them.

Deceptive Glow

WASHINGTON

BEHINDING with the release of the official signing, the Atlantic pact is being floodlighted with publicity. It is a deceptive glow. The step is a momentous one.

The very brightness of the glow conceals the fact, however, that the pact is a deceptive glow. It may encourage the illusion that the mere signing of the pact is in itself a complete achievement.

Nothing could be further from the truth. The pact is merely a beginning. If it is not a beginning, then it is a deceptive glow.

Quite properly the pact has been compared to the Monroe Doctrine, which signalled the end of European intervention in the Western Hemisphere. But the mere enunciation of the doctrine by President Monroe did not guarantee the independence of this hemisphere from further encroachment.

That came out of a whole series of events—both words and deeds—which gave substance to the doctrine. It came out of the growing strength and authority of the United States. The Monroe Doctrine was laid down by President Monroe was given substance through the years.

What this makes abundantly clear is the need to stress the peaceful goal of the pact. It is a pact for self-defense within the framework of the United Nations and its great potentialities for good in that context must be held and recited at home and abroad.

If the pact is truly a beginning and not just another step, then it can serve as the basis for a new kind of world society. The Atlantic pact is a deceptive glow. It may encourage the illusion that the mere signing of the pact is in itself a complete achievement.

Another reason for putting all the emphasis on the peaceful intention of the pact is the fact that the Russians are the most suspicious of the pact. There is the strong probability that the Russians will actually believe their own propaganda that the pact is an alliance of Western powers, under U.S. domination, to contain the Soviet Union.

A recent analysis of Soviet propaganda showed that the Russians are actually believing their own propaganda that the pact is an alliance of Western powers, under U.S. domination, to contain the Soviet Union.

From the military point of view, all that can be done under the pact for several years is to begin to restore something of the strength sapped by the war. From the political point of view, the pact is a deceptive glow. It may encourage the illusion that the mere signing of the pact is in itself a complete achievement.
