tell you, it is one of the most concrete things they have ever had occasion to encounter.

There is, however, some question in the minds of a few officials of some industries about the aericonsess of the problem, for about the serviciousness of the problem, for a preliminary which is causing the odor; and so far as preliminary investigation has gone, it has been considered their duty to correct it.

SUDAW Creek, if it is not indelicate to Say so, is a problem which anyone with a none can recognize.

Sometimes, inchanglotte, the City Council comes up against an abstract distuation which some consider a problem and others came adome, however, when it was explained not a problem. Sugaw Creek and the stench which lays thick as a London fog about it is anything but abstract, On a Summer evening, nearby residents will mins a state to responsibility. Within the mendate objection, to the creek — the mediate objection, to the creek — the state of the mediate objection will be lessened somewhat. Cooler weather will hold down the odor, But there is always another Summer — and Summer, with Susaw Creek in its present condition will still smell. We must not, in the more agreeable months of the Winter, forget Sugaw Creek, Now, while interest and odor are at their heights is the time for action.

The Council's current course, carried through, will prove — we are sure — one of the most popular of recent actions.

A COSTLY BATTLE

CARRYING on a world-wide fight for for democracy has been a costly business for the United States. Oversea loans and gifts in the past ten years have cost almost as much as it takes to run the entire Federal Government for two years. A summary by Congressional Quanterly shows that a total of aimost $72,000 covernment since July 1, 1393. Only $90,000,000.000 less than the Federal budget for fiscal 49 and 50.

000 less than the Federal budget for fis-cial 49 and 50.

In comparison with the cost of World War II. overseas expenditures are not so startling. The armed services spent $255,000,000.00 of the way years, and ad-yocates of past overseas spending-argue that $72,000,000.00 very elite enough if they helped avoid months multi-billion become a greater asset to the State.

If only the cheapest sort of black-top road such as many other sections of the State epilor, it would bring lens of thousands of extra dollars a-year in income to the flahrmen, where 80 per cept of the people depend on the products of the sea, but must accept five cents a pound less for their fish because they reach the market in poor condition by reason of the long delay in transportation.

The great hardship involved in getting trucks across the long stretches of difficult sands has been gailing through the years to these people, and at times the hardship, the expense and discouragement contribute to a spirit of despondency and defeat among them that is not wholesome for the State, and is a situation unworthy in a state of the magnitude of North Carolina

This is the most unusual circumstance in the State, and the wonder is that the State hasn't corrected this situation long ago.

In any other part of the State, condi-tions far less critical would have been relieved long ago, for a special grant of money would have been made, and the matter soon over, and the people made

In many instances vast sums have been spent to replace costly engineering blunders or to re-route or replace roads unneces-sarily constructed through political manip-ulations.

It is difficult for many people at a far distance, to realize the full extent of the conditions that prevail on Hatteras Island, and the unfair treatment its people have received.

of grants, or, for most practical purposes, a gift. Grants totaled over $50,000,000,000. The rest, $11,000,000,000 was in credits. Credits are roughly equivalent to, loans. Uncle Sam expects repayment.

Some of the money, $7,000,000,000 has come back to us in repayments by the debtor nations and from the sale of goods and properly original.

or nations and from the sale of goods and properly overseas.

The program continues, although at a reduced pace, with almost $2,000,000,000 proposed for 1950. Of this total $1,450,000,000 would go for military aid to the Alantic Pack countries: $100,000,000 and to the Alantic Pack countries: $100,000,000 continues that American technical and scientific know-how be made available to the undeveloped areas of the world: $175,000,000 for China; $150,000,000 for Korea, and $50,000,000 for Korea, and $50,000,000 for Spain.

s150,000,000 for Koréa, and $50,000,000 for Spain.
However, it is unlikely that the full program will receive Congressional sanction.
Congress does not appropriate money for grants and credit these days without stiff battles. The ECA allotment was whittled down and there is every indication that the other requests will face equally tough.
The battle for democracy was worth winning at any cost. But we must not make the mistake of throwing money down rat holes.

Now is a worthy task at hand for Governor Scott to correct a great injustice—not one of his making, but one that becomes his responsibility—because his administration is dedicated to fair-play. It is administration is dedicated to fair-play at his has promised no one a broads, and here is the outstanding opportunity in the State to do a great and worthy deed quickly. It would be a shining star in his administration. Nowhere else in North Carolina is there so glaring an instance of this kind: and no one in North Carolina could honeably do otherwise than praise him for relieving this condition, once hips were fully informed of the true situation.
