U. S. Remembers Fight to Free Korea and Peace Plan

U. S. Aims Restricted To Korea Allies Will Not Enter Manchuria

By TOM OCHILTREE NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. Britain and Communist China today that Gen. MacArthur's forces in moving through North Korea would not advance beyond the Korean border.

The assembly rejected a last-minute Soviet attempt to gain North Korean participation in disarmament negotiations.

By a vote of six in favor, 41 against and six abstentions the assembly rejected Soviet Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik's request to accept the Soviet Union as an equal partner in the dispute.

The assembly's 62-nation political committees approved the eight-power plan Wednesday by a vote of 41 to 10, with 10 abstentions.

While the eight-power plan does not specifically order Gen. MacArthur to advance beyond the 38th parallel, it is clearly that the U. N. commander is given the responsibility of taking all military actions necessary to bring peace and unity to the country.

The assembly's final decision on Korea as the bulk of MacArthur's 175,000 United Nations troops were sent below the 38th parallel ready for an offensive. South Korean units already crossing the 38th parallel after moving into North Korean territory last Sunday.

In arguing for an invitation to the U. N. Security Council, Malik said it had been the policy of the United Nations to extend invitations to all states in discussions of major issues.

Both the North and South Korean governments were invited to the U. N. Malik said. The eight powers officially sponsoring the resolution are Britain, Australia, Cuba, Brazil, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Norway and Pakistan.

The Soviet Union introduced a resolution to consider that the U. N. was overwhelmingly defeated by the majority of countries.

THE RAIN FOLLOWS

Have you ever wondered where all the people come from who crowd the streets in rain? Especially in big cities, every-where the people seem to become crowded. The reason is simple. In transit terminals, the people are on their way to stores, theaters, offices, buildings—so those places are more crowded. There are more people in the streets, yet public transportation lines are never jammed than ever. No scientific explanation of this is available. Perhaps the extra crowds are made up of the same folk—creatures something like extra who live under roadways and come out only when it rains.

Memorial Rites Held For Korean War Dead

By TOM LAMBERT WITH U. N. FORCES IN SOUTH KOREA—(AP)—A spirited wind raised little white spirals among the white crosses. Stars of David marked white stakes massed on the red-brown, dusty hillside.

The half-masted United Nations flag fluttered in the breeze. Then the voice of the chaplain, Gen. Frank Togo, floated across the Marine, soldiers and South Korea at today's first memorial service at the U. N. cemetery in this area.

The Americans and South Koreans whose bodies lie beneath these stars of David, the white crosses, died for the protection of all freedom-loving people of the world.

The phrases drifted up the hillside, past the graves of Frank Pagan and Gerald Pinetain and Peter, who had marched to the front at the head of the 5th Army.

To the west lay the sea, hardly visible at the foot of the grave-yard with men and weapons, along which these dead had marched. They fought a few days ago. To the east lay the tanks and guns with which they had fought to halt the United Nations advance.

Then Maj. Gen. E. M. Almond, commander of the Tenth Corps, said there is a higher priority for the United States in the Korean peninsula.

Meanwhile, top men of the mobilization staff in an eight-hour, hard-fought agreement on manpower use were working out all of the details of the services and who should be provided for scientific and technical personnel.

W. Stuart Symington, mobilization co-ordinator, arranging the plan of the mobilization staff, Secretary of Defense Marshall and Secretary of the Army, Gen. Omar Bradley, were present.

At the end of the four months after completion of their training, they would be eligible for regular "A" classification—meaning continued deferment—provided they met the requirements for that classification. Of being fully engaged in an activity which required the training they received.

Of being in an activity "essential to the national health, safety or interest."

MADE TO HERSEY The regulations were made to Selective Service Director Hersey by six scientific advisory committees and approved by Hersey two years ago.

The regulations are for whom the proposed deferment "could be logically considered as the civilian component of the regular "A" classification."

The scientists said also their recommendations for "A" classification "would result in the additional deferment of more than 3 percent of the men in any age group."

THE recommended plan for training and for utilization, they continued, "are a definite step toward the development of a more increasing emergency, more manpower could be utilized, if necessary, in the regular "A" classification."

The group pointed out that the provisions for reclassification of the "A-S" group after a four-month period in the "A" classification "implies that they, in common with others, will be subject to general military service under the provisions of the National Selective Service Act of October 16, 1948."

Bricker May Urge Repeal of Control Act Ex-Foe Of Curbs Sees Possible Need

By JOHN CHADWICK WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), a leader of those who fought against continuing Federal rent control, said today their extension in modified form may be necessary when Congress reopens Nov. 27.

His surprise statement to reporters contrasted with the view of Senator Maybank (D-SC) that he has no reason for Congress to revise the present long-option rent law the "rent duck" session after the elections.

Maybank is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which handles rent control legislation. Bricker is a member.

Under present law Federal rent control will expire Oct. 15, except in communities which have voted either through their local governing bodies or by popular referendum, to extend them for another six-month period.

THE legislation, when it was passed last June, was regarded by many as a landmark in the extension of the Federal rent ceiling first applied during World War II.

But even before Congress went on to pass the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1950, which extended the Federal rent ceiling to the Korean fighting of the Korean peninsula.

Under a Presidential proclamation, registration is required that the person who has participated as a student in the Army specialized training program, or who was deferred from the military service to pursue medical, dental or allied courses.

The first registration applies only to a limited group of physicians and dentists—those who were deferred during World War II as students in a hospital or other institution who are in the reserve or have had active service.

Mr. Truman's proclamation also included a provision that all persons who have to register Oct. 16 should be completed by Oct. 16, but left in effect to determine the date and to just when they shall be required to register.

Pediatricians also must register. The proclamation requires it for all persons who have received from any school, college, university, or similar institution a degree of bachelor of medicine, doctor of medicine, doctor of dental surgery, doctor of medical dentistry, doctor of veterinary surgery, and doctor of veterinary medicine.

Any person who receives one of these degrees after Oct. 16, must register within 30 days after receiving the degree.

8 Czechs Convicted Of Spying For West

PRAGUE (AP)—Eight people convicted of spying for the British and Americans were convicted today in Brno, Moravia. Two were sentenced to life imprisonment and the rest to terms ranging from 12 to 20 years.

They had been on trial since Tuesday on charges of high treason and espionage. The case led to the expulsion from Czechoslovakia of Lawrence Gordon Goss, British Vice Consul in Bratislava.

Barier reports said all the defendants had admitted guilt in testimony before the court in the Capital Division, where 12 men, 12 women and 12 children, twelve miles and overseas brick, captured in Chertsey, 12 miles north of 14 miles north of the Red River.

MacArthur's Friday summary said they continued another 15 Chertsey in the north, 12 miles north of 14 miles north of the Red River. A third Republican appeared in the Sixth Division—already has captured Chertsey, 12 miles north of 14 miles north of the Red River.

To the west of the South Korean Division, 12 miles north of 14 miles north of the Red River were regrouping below sea level.

LAUNDRY BAD—SO WOMEN TAKE OVER TOWN

The ladies of Madison, Miss., got upset about the town's water supply—something in it turned their clothes reddish and it wouldn't come out. They couldn't get any action out of the City Council—so they nominated their own ticket and carried a municipal election last Tuesday.

Here are the winners. Left to right: Mrs. L. H. Cox Jr., elected to the board of aldermen; Mrs. Mabel Hoy, re-elected city clerk; Mrs. Shad Weeks, elected to the board of aldermen; Mrs. T. M. Crouch, alderman; and Mrs. G. L. Crawford, mayor. The only man elected is E. Hoy, husband of the city clerk, who was named town marshal. (AP Photo.)

Doctors Must Register Oct. 16

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today set machinery in motion for a draft of physicians and dentists for the Korean peninsula. The first registration date will be Monday, Oct. 16.

Those drafted will be liable for up to 24 months of service. Mr. Truman's proclamation also included a provision that all persons who have to register Oct. 16 should be completed by Oct. 16, but left in effect to determine the date and to just when they shall be required to register.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Former Prisoner William T. Bickett lost a job today as a result of a $1,000 fine levied against him for a violation of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

S. Koreans Advance 20 More Miles

TOKYO (AP)—South Korean troops swept 20 miles deeper into Red North Korea today on the Sea of Japan coast.

They reached and passed a point more than 15 miles above parallel 38. They took 11,000 prisoners. United Nations troops were reported taking a massive follow-up blow for a knockout.

The South Korean objective apparently was the coastal industrial city of Yonpo, about 110 miles from the border. Air and naval support ranged over or stood by to join the big push against the staggering Red army now depleted by an officially estimated 80,000 casualties.

Partly thousands of the casualties were counted as Red soldiers prior to the capture of Yonpo. The Red casualties estimates were announced by General MacArthur's headquarters.

Field dispatches said South Korean Third Division troops were approaching Yonpo, about 12 miles southeast of Wonsu.

Wonsu was virtually no Red resistance. The South Korean objective apparently was the coastal industrial city of Yonpo, about 110 miles from the border.
