

Weather
Partly cloudy and slightly warmer tonight, low 34; Saturday fair and mild, cooler Saturday night.
More Weather Data on Page 12-A

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas
Charlotte, North Carolina Friday, March 17, 1950

THE CAROLINA NEWS

Final Edition

30 Pages—Price Five Cents

Justice Dept. Hits Form For FBI To Decide Loyalty

What, 5 FBI Agents, 100000

House Ideas Is Termed Dangerous Would Change Bureau Functions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Justice Department today denounced a Congressional proposal to require the Federal Bureau of Investigation to pass judgment on the loyalty of some Government employees.

The plan, already approved by the House, is fraught with peril, not only to the bureau, but to the country itself.

The department said the FBI is now solely an "investigative and fact-finding agency." The proposal, it continued, would make "an extremely radical and undesirable change" in its responsibilities and functions.

The plan is included in amendments to the National Science Foundation bill now in conference between the Senate and the House. WOULD REQUIRE FINDING

The amendments, adopted by the House, would require the FBI to make a definite finding concerning the loyalty of any person employed by the foundation or any one of its contractors.

The department's views were set forth in letters to members of the House. The amendments were introduced by Representative Percy Foreman, of the Alabama delegation.

Foreman said the bill reflected also the views of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, and Secretary of Defense George L. Brehm.

While the department is "firmly of the belief that disloyal persons should be removed from the foundation," Ford wrote, the amendments "go beyond this."

He said in his opinion, "they would bring about a departure from American concepts of justice and democratic government."

He pointed out that the FBI now does not evaluate or make recommendations with reference to information it collects. It merely submits information to the Federal agencies and lets them make the final decisions.

ACTIVITIES RESTRICTED

"The fine reputation which I believe the bureau enjoys today as an impartial investigative agency," he said, "results in large part because it has carefully restricted its activities to the making of investigations."

He added that the bureau "is not expected to go beyond the field of investigation and into that of making the determinations called for by the amendments."

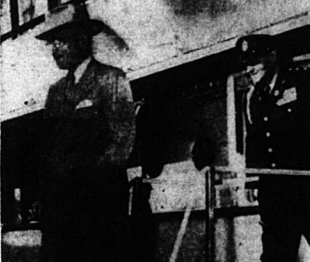

Ford said that if the bureau is called upon to make the proposed decisions, "its efficiency and good reputation as an investigative agency would be seriously impaired."

He also quoted Hoover as believing that approval of the amendments "lay a foundation for making the bureau a state police organization."

By barring employment of anyone who is quoted as being a member of "a subversive organization," Ford said, the amendments could also "deny to the foundation the services of many Americans of unquestionable loyalty to the United States and its form of government, who innocently joined a so-called front organization with the highest motives and who without their files or suspicion of its subversive character."

He pointed out that in the case of an experiment made by the Justice Department, it has no facilities for conducting investigations abroad.

TRAIN MADE RUN—BUT IT TORE UP THE STREET

It seems that you just can't stop that lone freight train of the little Smoky Mountain Railroad. Pushing its cars ahead, the puffing, puffing locomotive chugs backward down the main street of Sevierville, Tenn., leaving broken pavement in its wake. Tired of having the middle half of the busy thoroughfare taken up by tracks of the little-used railroad, the town resurfaced Bruce St. for three blocks—tracks and all. But this didn't block the spunky little railroad which thrives on bankruptcy and other sorts of troubles. It had two carloads of potash and cement to deliver across town—so ahead it went. Workmen went ahead of the train, digging pavement from the tracks. Three hours were required for the trip of 1,800 feet. (AP Photo).

State Dept. Defense Of Service Hit

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mundt (R-SD) criticized the State Department today for defending Diplomat John S. Service without waiting for a new investigation of his loyalty record.

Mundt, the department's warm endorsement of Service, has been accused by Senator McCarty (R-Wy) of being pro-Communist, cast "with poor grace" at a time when Service's loyalty "appears to have been questioned."

Service, American consul at Calcutta, has been ordered home by the State Department for allegedly failing to report scores of the Civil Service loyalty test board.

John E. Curley, Deputy Undersecretary of State, said yesterday that McCarty has "revived 'dead, discredited, disproven' charges against Service."

McCarty said Service has been "three times in the last five years but now has 'this brilliant career as a diplomat above mere intrigue' that has been defended and defended himself against 'unsubstantiated' charges again."

McCarty said Service has been "a man of high character and high ability, but who has been disgraced by his own actions, such as his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board, and his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board."

McCarty said Service has been "a man of high character and high ability, but who has been disgraced by his own actions, such as his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board, and his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board."

Roosevelt Letters Opened to Scholars

HYDE PARK, N. Y. — (AP) — President Franklin D. Roosevelt kept a copy of almost every letter he received after he began his presidency in 1933.

More than 5,000,000 of the letters became public property through the will of Mrs. Roosevelt to open the "vital records" of world history.

Brief ceremonies marked the event at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library here. It took two and a half years to index the papers.

There are letters to kings and to the well-known men whose names are marked for review in this room filled with students.

The papers will not be available to the general public. Only accredited scholars and researchers will have access to them.

President Truman said the letters were public property. The letters were given to him by Mrs. Roosevelt in 1945. They might embarrass persons still alive, or might affect our relations with other nations.

The letters are in boxes which

Court Ponders Murder Case

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — The murder case of Brooklyn Mrs. Yvette Madson, 22, who killed her husband, Andrew E. Madson, 34, on March 10, 1949, was being considered by a three-judge court today for decision.

The defense and prosecution waived final arguments and her fate was placed in the hands of the occupation court at 3:30 P. M. (AP) A. M. EST. Presiding Judge Fred Cull announced that the court will give its verdict at 3:30 P. M. tomorrow.

At the end of the seven-day trial Mrs. Madson, who had been sobbing quietly during the afternoon proceedings, raised her head from the table on which she had been resting and left the court with her lawyer.

Earlier, Mrs. Madson's attorney had told the court she believed the charge was untrue. Her husband, Alfred Noack of Brooklyn, told her, she said, that he had been having an affair with a woman named Mrs. Madson.

Dr. Kriest testified in her defense yesterday, amid Mrs. Madson's screaming protests, that she was insane when she shot her husband. She was found by a doctor in a rooming house in New York City.

Alma Gower, of Cumberland, Md., the pretty young mother's attorney, said she would appeal the verdict. She said she would like to see her husband, but she said she would not see him if he had made his nightly call on her.

A plea of innocence by reason of insanity was also entered at the defense counsel said, over Mrs. Madson's objections.

There are about a million other persons who are about to be sentenced to prison, appeared more attentive to the hearing than any time since the beginning of the trial.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

House Ideas Is Termed Dangerous Would Change Bureau Functions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Justice Department today denounced a Congressional proposal to require the Federal Bureau of Investigation to pass judgment on the loyalty of some Government employees.

The plan, already approved by the House, is fraught with peril, not only to the bureau, but to the country itself.

The department said the FBI is now solely an "investigative and fact-finding agency." The proposal, it continued, would make "an extremely radical and undesirable change" in its responsibilities and functions.

The plan is included in amendments to the National Science Foundation bill now in conference between the Senate and the House. WOULD REQUIRE FINDING

The amendments, adopted by the House, would require the FBI to make a definite finding concerning the loyalty of any person employed by the foundation or any one of its contractors.

The department's views were set forth in letters to members of the House. The amendments were introduced by Representative Percy Foreman, of the Alabama delegation.

Foreman said the bill reflected also the views of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, and Secretary of Defense George L. Brehm.

While the department is "firmly of the belief that disloyal persons should be removed from the foundation," Ford wrote, the amendments "go beyond this."

He said in his opinion, "they would bring about a departure from American concepts of justice and democratic government."

He pointed out that the FBI now does not evaluate or make recommendations with reference to information it collects. It merely submits information to the Federal agencies and lets them make the final decisions.

ACTIVITIES RESTRICTED

"The fine reputation which I believe the bureau enjoys today as an impartial investigative agency," he said, "results in large part because it has carefully restricted its activities to the making of investigations."

He added that the bureau "is not expected to go beyond the field of investigation and into that of making the determinations called for by the amendments."

Ford said that if the bureau is called upon to make the proposed decisions, "its efficiency and good reputation as an investigative agency would be seriously impaired."

He also quoted Hoover as believing that approval of the amendments "lay a foundation for making the bureau a state police organization."

By barring employment of anyone who is quoted as being a member of "a subversive organization," Ford said, the amendments could also "deny to the foundation the services of many Americans of unquestionable loyalty to the United States and its form of government, who innocently joined a so-called front organization with the highest motives and who without their files or suspicion of its subversive character."

He pointed out that in the case of an experiment made by the Justice Department, it has no facilities for conducting investigations abroad.

President Truman Steps Ashore From the Yacht Williamsburg Key West, Fla.

President Truman steps ashore from the yacht Williamsburg Key West, Fla., after his tussle with sea sickness on the stormy Atlantic. He is on a three-week vacation. The President said he couldn't eat during the cruise from Washington, and lost four pounds. Behind him is his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan.

The general said he was the worst sufferer from seasickness. "The President was more horizontal than I was," he joked. (AP Wirephoto).

Some Republicans Want to Cut Federal Budget

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House Republicans aimed a new $2,000,000,000 cut today at a lump sum $200,000,000 appropriation bill already legislatively trimmed by $120,000,000.

The bill carries most of President Truman's budget recommendations for Federal agencies for the 1951 fiscal year, starting next July 1. It is due to be considered by the House Appropriations Committee next Monday and is slated for floor debate March 27.

The revenue reduction was reported by members of the powerful "central" subcommittee of the appropriations group. The cut does not affect foreign aid funds, nor does it apply to the so-called permanent and indefinite appropriations and trust funds which cannot be trimmed. All together they accounted for about $120,000,000.

The committee action would make the Federal deficit for the fiscal year 1951 about $4,000,000,000—assuming that Congress sticks to its apparent determination not to raise taxes this year.

Another cut of $300,000,000 in the omnibus measure would reduce the anticipated deficit to $1,600,000,000, and that is what GOP leaders would like to see.

"If we are going to get close to a balanced budget, this bill ought to be around $2,000,000,000," Rep. Tabor (R-NY) told newsmen. Tabor, the Republican of the appropriations group, would not comment on the reported cut of $1,200,000,000.

He said that the House would try to effect more reductions when the bill goes before full committee.

But some of his strategists believe the place to cut is on the cutting in the House floor. Their theory is that if any substantial economic program is passed, it will be Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) and

State Dept. Defense Of Service Hit

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mundt (R-SD) criticized the State Department today for defending Diplomat John S. Service without waiting for a new investigation of his loyalty record.

Mundt, the department's warm endorsement of Service, has been accused by Senator McCarty (R-Wy) of being pro-Communist, cast "with poor grace" at a time when Service's loyalty "appears to have been questioned."

Service, American consul at Calcutta, has been ordered home by the State Department for allegedly failing to report scores of the Civil Service loyalty test board.

John E. Curley, Deputy Undersecretary of State, said yesterday that McCarty has "revived 'dead, discredited, disproven' charges against Service."

McCarty said Service has been "three times in the last five years but now has 'this brilliant career as a diplomat above mere intrigue' that has been defended and defended himself against 'unsubstantiated' charges again."

McCarty said Service has been "a man of high character and high ability, but who has been disgraced by his own actions, such as his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board, and his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board."

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Once Over Lightly

CHAPTER II
BARLEY LOAVES AND FISHES

The queen had promised Herod that she would give him anything he wanted. He had asked for the head of John the Baptist, and she had given it to him. Now he was asking for the head of John the Baptist, and she had given it to him.

Herod was a man of many desires. He had a beautiful wife, Herodias, and a young daughter, Salome. He had a kingdom that was rich and powerful. He had a palace that was grand and magnificent. He had a life that was full of luxury and pleasure.

But he was also a man of many fears. He was afraid of the people. He was afraid of the priests. He was afraid of the soldiers. He was afraid of the gods. He was afraid of the devil.

So he had a policy of appeasement. He would give the people what they wanted, and he would keep the priests and soldiers happy. He would give the gods what they wanted, and he would keep the devil away from him.

But he was not a man of great wisdom. He was not a man of great courage. He was not a man of great faith. He was a man of great greed. He was a man of great ambition. He was a man of great power.

And he was a man of great sin. He had committed many sins. He had killed many people. He had stolen many things. He had lied many times. He had been unfaithful many times.

So he was a man of many sins. He was a man of many fears. He was a man of many desires. He was a man of many ambitions. He was a man of many powers. He was a man of many sins.

State Dept. Defense Of Service Hit

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Mundt (R-SD) criticized the State Department today for defending Diplomat John S. Service without waiting for a new investigation of his loyalty record.

Mundt, the department's warm endorsement of Service, has been accused by Senator McCarty (R-Wy) of being pro-Communist, cast "with poor grace" at a time when Service's loyalty "appears to have been questioned."

Service, American consul at Calcutta, has been ordered home by the State Department for allegedly failing to report scores of the Civil Service loyalty test board.

John E. Curley, Deputy Undersecretary of State, said yesterday that McCarty has "revived 'dead, discredited, disproven' charges against Service."

McCarty said Service has been "three times in the last five years but now has 'this brilliant career as a diplomat above mere intrigue' that has been defended and defended himself against 'unsubstantiated' charges again."

McCarty said Service has been "a man of high character and high ability, but who has been disgraced by his own actions, such as his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board, and his failure to report scores of the loyalty test board."

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.

Blaze Fatal To Man

SPRAY — (AP) — Six prisoners—five men and a woman—perished in the Spray jail today after a mattress caught fire. Three were white and three Negroes.

The fire was found by Det. Sgt. Joe McBride when he went to the second floor of the city hall building to lock up another prisoner. The time was 2:40 A. M. (EST). All of the six who died had been in the jail for some time.

Police said there was a possibility that one of the six who died was a white man who had been liberated by the fire. The jail was closed for several days.

VICTIMS LISTED

The victims were Lucille White, 30; Junior Yarbrough, 22; and Marion Morrison, 20; all white; and Harvey Cook, 24; Joe W. Allen, and Bonnie Martin, 34; Negroes. They apparently were asleep when the fire started, and were suffocated.

Spray is a textile town in north-central Virginia. Many of the Marshall Field Industries are located here.

The jail is located just behind the courtroom of the concrete structure. When the fire broke out, the courtroom and jail was closed last night—so on many other chilly nights—because the jail made the cell block.

John McBride saw the smoke he quickly notified the fire department. The firemen soon had the fire under control.

PRISONERS REMOVED

The prisoners were removed and taken to the hospital. Many of the prisoners were injured. Some of the prisoners were killed. The fire started in a mattress in the jail.

Police said they always searched for "red" magazines and added that sometimes magazines were concealed on the prisoners' persons. A full investigation was started after the tragedy but none of the authorities had a statement.