Duke Firm On Original Shaw Plan

Makeup Of Probe Board At Issue

By J. A. DALY
Charlotte News Staff Writer
Tension and uncertainty were aroused anew today in the charge dispute between Duke Power Co. and bus drivers in six Carolina cities.

Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen leaders, representing the 400 Duke street bus system employees, submitted counter-proposals to Charlotte Mayor Victor Shaw's last-minute "amicable" plan which Sunday night averted a strike set for Monday at 5 A. M.

This plan provided for a 60-day trial to allow time for a fact-finding investigation by a proposed impartial three-member board.

Major differences between the Mayor's proposal and the BRT counter-proposal was in the method of appointing the fact-finding board's membership.

ACCEPTS MAJOR PLAN
Duke Power Co. spokesmen withheld direct comment on the BRT counter-proposal, which were made public today by Mayor Shaw. However, the Duke spokesmen here, through W. S. O. B. Robinson, vice-president, firmly insisted that the company's acceptance of the Mayor's original proposal "will stand."

There's at least one thing that $300,000,000 road building program in North Carolina hasn't done for Gov. Kerr Scott since he left office last year.

Neither would Mayor Shaw say whether or not there were any grave differences of position involved in the newly created situation.

The Mayor did say, however, that "there will be further specific" though he did not specify who the would attend these later meetings, or when they would be held.

A large delegation of BRT representatives accompanied the BRT staff, headed by M. Brennan, vice-president, into the Mayor's office.

EEK COMPROMISE
The word was passed around the City Hall to the press that Mayor Shaw had understood to attain a compromise on the counter-proposal at a time when the BRT leaders were meeting with authority to re-nounce the strike call and give the public 48 hours' notice.

Test of the BRT counter-proposal was made public at the Mayor's office, as follows:

1. All questions and matters of controversy between the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Duke Power Co. shall be submitted to a competent and impartial board of three members.

2. Within 10 days after the start of this board, shall be named from facts and make recommendations for the settlement of the controversy.

3. Findings and recommendations of the board shall be binding on either party, and either party shall be free to refuse to accept the recommendations.

Witness Thinks Injection Fatal

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—The state's star medical witness today said that the injection Mrs. Able Borror was killed by an air bubble was administered by Dr. Herman N. Sander.

Dr. Milton Helper, deputy medical examiner of New York City, gave this testimony as the state sought to establish that Sander was the author of the first-degree murder case against the 41-year-old doctor.

At the end of a long hypothetical question, Helper testified that "in my opinion death was caused by an air embolism resulting from the injection of an air bubble."

That is the amount of air the state charges Dr. Sander injected into Mrs. Borror's arm last Dec. 3 in a gesture of mercy to end the agony of her cancer.

Dr. Helper said:

The basis for my opinion is that 40 cubic centimeters of air represents a substantial quantity if injected rapidly and would be carried through the heart and pulmonary artery.

The prosecution medical expert testified that while the autopsy did not disclose presence of air, it was a medical fact that there is a great deal of air which is absorbed by the lungs.

Dr. Sander's Dept. said all the victims were trapped in their beds, tried to get up and Mary, who is blind, was in bed with her.

The fire Dept. blamed an air bubble which could not be explained exactly how the flames started.
