J. E. DOWD..... B. S. GRIPPITH

FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1950

RAILROADS VS. TRUCKS

AFIER several years of steep increases in railroad freight rates for all types of products, the railroads have at last asked for a rate decrease.

One would expect cheers from the people, and prompt approval from the N. C. Utilities Commission. Instead, the Commission based on the declaration of the people, and prompt as declaration of the commission. The steep of the commission in the commission of the commission of the commission of the commission. The steep of the commission of the commissi

WAKE FOREST LIVES ON

Forest piant be used was a sensible one. Wake Forest is the ideal site for the seminary. A big and useful plant is gaready built, and the setting in an uncomgested area is admirably suitable for quiet religious study. Wake Forest's 116-year heritage in denominational education will surely be an influence on the seminary and ifs work.

The recommendation, if accepted by the State Convention and the Southern Con-vention, will solve a perplexing problem.

part of the gasoline and fuel old traffic they lost to the truckers during the war. The truckers want to protect their present differential rate structure.

differential rate structure.

The only interest the Commission should consider, however, is that of the public. The control of the public of t

N. C. Baptists had been pondering what to do with the Wake Forest plant after removal of the work of the Wake Forest plant after removal of the Wake Forest plant after removal of the Wake Forest plant with the HOPEFUL as we were that the new Bap-titut seminary would be placed in Mecklenburg County, thus adding a new dimension to the religious and cultural life of the community and region; see be-lieve the recommendation that the Wake Forest plant be used was a sensible one.

Charlotte and Atlanta were prominent among the cities seeking the new seminary. Both, we are sure, will gladly step aside in favor of Wake Forest.

THE CARDINAL IS MISTAKEN

REPLYING to a recent statement by Rep. Graham Barden on the Federal ald to education controversy. Francis Cardinal Spellman told reporters in New York the other day:

"I might add to that, that in Mr. Barden's home state, public funds are used for religious schools, but they don't happen to be for Carbon State Carbo Catholic children.

That statement is erromous, according to C. D. Douglas of the State Department of Public Instruction.

The State does contribute to schools in some orphanges, but the schools are a part of the public schools sets, as the schools are controlled by the local administrative unit in which they are situated. In all respects—selection of textbooks and courses of instruction, rules, regulations, procedures, standards, etc.—the orphanage schools are subject to the same control as any public school.

They are "religious schools" only in the sense that they are physically situated in orphanages operated by religious denom-

Mr. Douglas added that the same State ald has been made available to schools at Catholic orphanages under the same conditions, but they declined to take advantage of it. If parochial schools will place themselves under the control of local school administrative units, thus becoming part of the public school system, they would be entitled to State funds, he said.

would be entitled to state funds, he said.

This is a clear difference which Cardinal Spellman has overlooked. We have no de-sire to prolong, or add to, the religious controversy which has developed over Fed-eral add to education. But it is important that the record be set straight in North Carolina, where a majority of the people feel that public funds should be used only for public schools.

ELIMINATING JAIL HAZARDS arette, caused the intense smoke.) 3. That persons jailed for intoxication be placed in bare cells where heat is provided and from which all inflammable

THE grand jury investigating the Spray jail tragedy which claimed the lives of six prisoners has made three sensible recommendations:

That an adequate system of ventila-tion be installed. (The cell block had been closed tight last Friday morning to keep out the cold air. The prisoners died from amoke suffocation, not from burns.)

2. That fire-resistant materials be used for all mattresses and bedding. (A smoul-dering mattress, set by a match or a cig-vised and from which all inflammable materials are removed.

These improvements will minimize the possibility of a repetition of the tragedy at Spray. But the same hazards exist in many other. North Carolina Jalis, and additional men and women will die help-lessly behind bars unless similar improvements are carried out everywhere in the state.

From The Atlanta Constitution

IS A VOTE TOO MUCH TO ASK?

IT WOULD BE difficult to overestimate the importance to the South of the proposed Lodge amendment to the Constitution.

posed Lodge amendment to the Constitution.

Briefly, this amendment, which aiready has passed the Senate, would abolish the electoral college and provide for division of each states electoral vote in accordshoe with the popular vote.

Under the present system all of a state's
Under the present system all of a state's
Under the present system all of a state's Chief the present system all of a state's Annex.

This has had the effect of plents sinner.
Hands of anall minorities political power far in excess of that justified by their numbers. A few hundred votes in a pivotal state like New York, Ohio or Pennsylvania may swing a national election. For that reason candidates of both parties pay undue heed to the demands of minorities at the expense of the remainder of the population.

The Lodge amendment would eliminate the population.

The Lodge amendment would eliminate the proper of minorities and the second of minorities of minority in the present section of the property of the property of minorities in acquire and the admits readily strength.

Every thinking person admits readily that the South is sorely in need, of two strong parties. Because of the fact that a preponderant majority of Southerners vote the Democratic ticket, the Republican Party has made little effort to break up the so-called Solid South. Republicans cannot make headway in the South under the present winner-take-all system. But if the Party were assured of electoral votes in proportion to the popular vote, it would have an incentive to campaign more strongly.

The South in the past has been neg-strongly.

The South in the past has been neglected by the Democratic Party because its vote was assured anyway. It has been neglected by the Republicans because they did not have a chance.

The Lodge amendment would bring back competition for Southern votes. It would do much to restore the region's one-time political power.

Through a coalition of ultra-conservative Republicans, who erroneously fear the Lodge amendment would iil affect their Party, and letving Democrats, who want to retain exorbitant prerogatives for minorities, the Lodge proposal has been bottled up in the House Ruies Committee. It is only fair to note that some of the Democrats in the coalition have been the severest critics of similar Committee moves involving bills they wanted to get on the floor.

floor.

Georgia's Rep. Eugene Cox thinks it may be possible to reverse the earlier vote and bring the Lodge plan to the floor of the House for action. That is all its proponents ask. We believe'the complete fairness of the measure will insure its passage. Is it too much to ask that the Congress, and the States, be allowed to vote on it?

We have some friends who bought beau-tiful also covers for their furniture. The sovers are so pretty, in fact, that now they are thinking of getting slip covers for the slip covers.—Memphis (Tenn.) Press-Scim-iter.

Farmer Grimes of Vinegar Bend says that maybe there are some underprivileged people, but all the underprivileged people, but all the underprivileg folks he has ever seen in Vinegar Bend are people allegic to working between meals.

—Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman.

Every bright, warm day suggests to the fisherman husband that it is time for his wife to start gardening—Pittsburg (Tex.) Gazette.

The 1950 Egg Hunt

A New Philosophy

New York Tackles Sex Crimes

The New York bill incorporates recommendations made by a special committee appointed by Governor Dewey two years ago to study sex offenders at Sing Stign Prison.

In brief, this is what the bill propo

In brief, this is what the bill proposes:

(1) That the court be empowered to sentence persons convicted of rape or sodomy involving violence, or against small children, or persons convicted of felonious assault involving a sexual purpose, to indeterminate sentence from one year to life. Such sentence would be imposed only after psychiatric examinations.

(2) That the Department of Mental Hygiene, repeatment of Correction and the Board of Par egiven the duty of providing prompt and intensitudy to defendants receiving indeterminate sentens be followed where feasible by therapeutic treent, with thorough psychiatric examinations at leary two years.

ment, with therough psychiatric examinations at least every two years are every two years defendant is not extense to examined prior to enterecting by a team of publicly employed mychatrists who shall make use of social work reports and psychological testing.

(4) That responsibility be placed on the Commission of Mental Bygiene for providing psychiatric consideration of the proposition of the providing psychiatric consideration of the providing psychiatric consideration of the providing psychiatric consideration of the providing psychiatric psychiatri

What is important is that power would be granted the court to send sex offenders to prison for so long as they may be of danger to the community. If, in periodic examinations, a group of experts on emotional disolitiers find the offender still dangerous, he will be kept away from society.

There are, of course, many men who had never committed a sex crime before, probably never would again after their first offense resulted in imprisonment. Whether it would be wise to return them to society upon expiration of their sentence would remain a question.

SAID Governor Dewey, in a message accompanying the bill:

The effect of the proposal for indeterminate sen-nces "would acquire that the prisoner be given expe-ised in intensive study and treatment whenever the sentence of the sentence of the sentence of the least every two years. At the same time this would the sentence sufficiently flexible to permit the nirel of such persons over a period long enough to resent them from becoming future meaners.

The would be a great mixing the meaning mixing mixing the proposed sentence as a means of heaping puntalment upon the meaning mixing mi

"What we can do is avoid the too early release of sex offenders whose mental or emotional maindread posturents are severe and clearly of a sort that makes a severe and clearly of a sort that makes children. More important, this bill, if the index will children. More important, this bill, if the index will children. More important, this bill, if the index will confly use it, will stop the dreadful situations where the state is forced by law to turn loose men it is sure will immediately return to violent crime."

MORE often than not public reaction to sex crimes a limit completely emotional. A feeling of which em' or just them away' is the usual response. There are, on the other hand, some who would excuse the paychopathic personality any crime on the grounds that he is not responsible. Some sort of, balance must be achieved.

Soviet Acts Show Berlin's Blockade Will Be Renewed

By JOSEPH ALSOP

excited withful thinkers everywhere. Berlin is the test of the representation of the property of the property

Ing.

There are clear, practical reasons for forecasting this elaborate but immensely menacing comedy. ons for forecasting this elaborate but immensely menacing comedy, soviet intentions toward Berlin aver already been open proposed to the May all the proposed to the May all you the Per plant of the May all you have been all the May all the Per plant of the Per plant of the May all the May all the May all the Per plant of the May all the Per plant of the May all the Per plant of the May all the May al

Second, there is no need for the facility. Second, there is no need for the facility of the fa

20th Century Voodooism Is Used To Conjure Up Shower

By ROBERT C. RUARK

OLD BLACK MAGIC

By ROBERT C. RUARK

I am PLEASED that we have a composite the community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around the property of the community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around the property of the community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around with very few community and get them to dance around the property of the few community and get them to dance around the property of the community and get them to dance around the property and the property

Drew Pearson's

Bradley Sums Up Chances Of Warfare WASHINGTON The Chances of war with Russia were summed up the other I day by the national No. I solder. Gen. Gome Bradley, He gave his views behind closed doors to a Senate Appropriations Subscommittee. But afterward, Sen. Emer The gave his views behind closed doors to a Senate Appropriations Subscommittee, but afterward, Sen. Emer Bradley want worred about our and told reporters that However, this waint what the general said. Recause this question is so important, this column has However, this waint was the general said. Recause this question is so important, this column has estimance, that as he save it off the culf-supectedly not to be breadeast by headilne-seeking Senators. Son. Homer Ferquisen, Michigan Republican, started the here supporting a 313 billion bodget. I gather from the supporting a 313 billion bodget of the supporting a 313 billion bodget. I ga lion or $40 billion."

"It obviously, isn't a peacetime budget," persisted the Senator from Michigan.
"If we knee it was going to be peaceful, we certainly wouldn't request this amount of money." Bradley admitted.
"In other words, this is a cold-war budget," suggested

Off The Record
VES. I agree that this question should be answered off the offered Bradler.

In view of Senator Thomas' distorted version of Brad-ley's views, the public is entitled to have the whole story.

Bible-Quoting Bob

amonta sucre ne entered the U. S. Senate; NOTE-Senates Kerr's oil and eas holdings are valued at 100,000,000. In view of this, Senators are won-deringual $100,000,000. In view of this, Senators are won-electronic to the 12 of the Senators as bill. Ac-cording to Rule 12 of the Senators as bill aboutd, by precedent, dates with the senator of the senators are the senators as the senator of the senators are the senators as the senators are senators as the senators are senators as the senators are senators. The senators are senators are senators as the senators are senators as the senators are senators as the senators are senators.