AT THE END OF HIS ROPE

FOR some time we've been trying to figure out just what makes Senator Joe McCarthy tick, and we've about come to the conclusion that he simply gets a perverse sort of pleasure out of sensationalism. Shakespeare put it this way:

*"There is a pleasure sure
In being mad, which none but madmen know."*

What that pleasure is we can not say, but it must be a luxuriant one. Else the Wisconsin solon would hardly have extended himself to such lengths as to infer that Senator Tydings of Maryland and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover are not to be trusted.

Tydings, you will recall, told Prof. Owen Lattimore at the end of the latter's testimony Thursday that four of the five members of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee had conferred with Hoover about the FBI file on Lattimore, and that Hoover had given them a complete summary of the information contained therein. Said Senator Tydings:

"Mr. Hoover informed me that he had received this information. It was quite accurate and at the conclusion of the hearing, in my opinion, all the members of the committee present and all others in the room, of which there were two more, that there was nothing in that file to show that you were a Communist or ever had been a Communist, or that you ever were connected with any espionage information or charges. So that is the way I understood it, up to this moment at least, in the clear."

To which Senator McCarthy retorted:

"Either Tydings hasn't seen the files, or he is lying. There is no other alternative."

Can you imagine a more shameful and irresponsible exhibition? In two short sentences, McCarthy impugns the integrity of Senator Tydings, the other three Senators, Mr. Hoover, Attorney-General Howard McGrath, and the whole vast FBI organization. And he insists that he "knows what is in the files" and will prove it.

McCarthy finds himself cornered. He has said repeatedly that his whole case rested upon the charge that Lattimore was the No. 1 Soviet espionage agent in the United States. Now the FBI gives Lattimore complete clearance, and the McCarthy case falls flat.

Thus the McCarthy chapter nears an end. He has thoroughly discredited himself in the eyes of the American people, and has pulled Senatorial prestige to a new low. Let us hope that Wisconsin voters will retire him in November to the oblivion in which he so richly earned.

THE DAWN BREAKS

THE old English proverb—"The darkest hour is that before the dawn"—has some application to recent U. S. foreign policy developments.

As late as a week ago, it appeared that the sensible and successful bi-partisan foreign policy had been hopelessly shattered. Republican dissatisfaction originating with the Chinese fiasco plus resentment over being left out of major policy planning had grown so great that the wild charges of Senator McCarthy were taken up and repeated by such leading GOP Senators as Bridges, Wherry, and Taft.

Swift action to mend this widening breach has greatly improved the prospects for resuming workable bi-partisanship.

The first gesture came from a Republican Senator, Lodge, who deplored McCarthyism and made a quiet non-partisan amendment of the State Department and its foreign policy. Then Senator Taft, by implication, repudiated his earlier endorsement of McCarthyism.

READY TO SERVE

LONG active in river accidents and sinkings at incendiary, the Charlotte Fire Fighting Crew that was conclusively proved its value to the City when a number of its members worked quickly and efficiently in reviving firemen overcome by chlorine gas at a small laundry fire here.

Among the members of the crew who took part in administering oxygen and stimulants to the stricken firemen were Capt. Ray Kimmel, Henry Horton, Tom Johnson, President Truman went into action. He named a Republican, former Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, to accompany Secretary Acheson in London next month. Then, on Friday, he appointed former Republican Senator John Foster Dulles to a new advisory post with the State Department.

These successive moves were greeted with approval from every responsible member of Congress except a few die-hard Republican isolationists like Senators Watson, Mahon and Keayland. Said Senator Watson: "If the President thinks he is picking all the Republicans in the Senate by picking Dulles, he is mistaken."

Mr. Truman may not have pleased all the Republicans in the Senate, but we believe he has pleased most of the American people. After the events of recent weeks, the people realize more fully than ever the absolute necessity of national unity in the conduct of foreign policy, and will insist that unity be maintained.

These men and other crew members who have performed their voluntary service so well in the past deserve the thanks of the community.

It is comforting to know that a trained emergency group supplementing the Fire and Police Departments is alert and ready to serve when the need arises.

Destroy this temple of God and in three days I will rebuild it."

Meditatively reviewing the happening of the sad day, as they made their way to the Holy Sepulcher, they suddenly recalled that after Our Lord had been placed in the tomb a great stone had been rolled before the door of the Sepulcher. Visualizing this as a tremendous obstacle to performing their love of work, they naturally asked themselves, "Who will roll the stone back?" However, they continued their journey as they continued to meditate, and upon reaching the Holy Sepulcher, found that the stone had been rolled back.

That continues to be the happy experience of the disciples of Our Blessed Lord. Christian duty often looks like an ugly stone in the road that leads to eternal life; simple duty often seems impossible.

But the faithful followers of Christ, who like the early Christians, continue to take Him at His word, persevere in duty to find that for them also, the stone has been rolled back. God's grace is always a step ahead of us; it always sufficient, and it is our privilege to make it efficacious.

THE HUMAN TOUCH

ONE of those dark, rainy, cold nights recently a man walked three miles to call a doctor in Morehead whom he had previously engaged to care for his wife in confinement. The doctor in question refused to answer the urgent call, saying it was impossible to make the trip. So the man then called Dr. W. S. Reeves at Hillsboro.

What was the answer? Just the same old story. Dr. Reeves answered the call at once . . . walked back with the man over three miles of rough ground in the blinding rain . . . delivered the baby and rode back at daylight the next morning.

Dr. Reeves, aged 86, had again answered the call of suffering humanity when others . . . younger and, shall we say, less inspired, chose to sit by a comfortable fire.

Gosh, Doc . . . things like that make me want to bless you to the skies . . . talk about that program, "This Is Your Life" . . . Dr. Reeves could certainly keep Ralph Edwards busy!

There was a man who called a spade a spade until he stumbled over it in the dark—Greenwood (Miss.) Commonwealth.

Residents in the town bearing such a common name as Smithville presumably just cause to be envious of those who say they come from Accidental or Avil Location, Birthright, Bounding, Burnt Corn, Cuckoo, Doctor Phillips, Dime Box, or Wounded Knee. — Greenwood (Miss.) Commonwealth.

WASHINGTON — The House Foreign Affairs Committee held its first real break of the second session of the 86th Congress.

For Senators Hoey and Graham, it will be only a long, long recess. For House members, it's a ten-day recess which began Friday. Senator Hoey will observe Easter, as usual, by teaching the Holy Bible Class of the Central Presbyterian Church in Shreveport, Seaford, Ohio. He will grab a brief respite, however, by campaigning and spend the time with his wife.

Hoey's what will happen if you go up to either of those Congressmen over holidays and tell them that Congressmen are hogged down.

Senator Hoey will say, "It hasn't been a fruitful session; neither has it been boring." Senator Graham will add, "Things are just beginning to get under way."

Actually, only three pieces of legislation of any consequence have been passed by the House: the bill on stemmargarine; the second is the measure continuing economic aid to Korea and Formosa; and the third is the bill to encourage cotton and peanut acreage and tightening price supports on peanuts.

SENATOR GRAHAM appears to be thriving on his rigorous speaking schedule. He appeared Wednesday on the Senate floor and made a moving talk on the DEB Bill before flying off to the South Pacific to help campaign for the election of Senator Symington.
