

Weather

Cloudy and mild today; cloudy and colder tomorrow, low tonight 35. Rain today through tomorrow.

More Weather Data on Page 14-A

Established Dec. 8, 1888

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas
 Charlotte, North Carolina Friday, January 27, 1950

26 Pages—Price Five Cents

Final

WASHINGTON'S NO. 1 NEWLYWEDS

Mej. John Ernest Horton and his bride, the former Drucis Snyder, are shown leaving for their reception immediately after their wedding in Washington yesterday. The bride, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, received a Presidential kiss. Margaret Truman was one of the bridesmaids, but missed the bride's bouquet. (Acme Telephoto.)

U.S. Airlines Owners Agree To Talks

Want Later Hour Than Lewis Asked Would Ask For Court Hearing

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern and Western coal operators agreed today to start new contract negotiations with John F. Lewis Wednesday but held out for an hour late enough to let a court hear unfair labor practices charges against Lewis before the bargaining begins.

They suggested a meeting at 2 P. M. EST.

Lewis had proposed renewal of contract negotiations next Wednesday at 10 A. M.—the same hour the United Mine Workers are due in court to answer a petition of General Counsel Robert M. Denham of the National Labor Relations Board.

Denham contends that Lewis has been unfair in good faith and has asked the court to order an end to production-stopping tactics on grounds they are "unfair" labor practices.

Frank Lauder, chairman of the North-West negotiating committee, urged Lewis of his acceptance of the new Wednesday date, but without qualification except to change the hour of the proposed session.

Berlin Is Worth The Price, Says Howley

By MARTHA LONDON
Charlotte News Staff Writer

"Berlin was expensive... it has cost us a lot, but it is worth the price," he said in an interview with a reporter here today.

L. Howley (Howley), for two years commander of the American Sector of Berlin, said here today that he was relaxed in his room at the Hotel Chateaux, shortly after his arrival in the city to address the dinner meeting of the Executive Club tonight.

He looked very much unlike the "wild man" who had signed over the city to the Soviets in 1945. Howley, who had been firm in his dealings with the representatives of Moscow, who had struggled through the Berlin Blockade, and had come out winner.

"Yes," he said, "we learned an important lesson in Berlin. We learned that it is worth the price. Berlin isn't a rough world, and that's why we're here today."

New House Spy East And South Due Probe Urged For Colder Weather

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Producing a fresh sheaf of documents from Whitaker Chambers, Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) today demanded a new House investigation into Communist spy activities.

Nixon quoted Chambers—an admitted courier for a Soviet espionage ring in the pre-war years—saying he got the right new documents from the late Harry Dexter White, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

White died in 1948, a short time after denying to the House Un-American Activities Committee that he had ever passed on confidential lists to Chambers.

The photographic copies which Nixon showed the House yesterday dealt with such things as U. S. policy toward Japan and the assignment in 1938 as an American Navy captain to England in 1938 as a "secret liaison man."

Nixon said that on the basis of these papers he will make that to the House committee, of which he is a member, because his spy inquiry is ongoing during the two hearings of Alger Hiss, former State Department official.

Hiss was convicted last Saturday and sentenced to five years in prison, the effect of which was to grand jury that he gave secret government documents to Chambers.

Nixon told newsmen there may have been justification for not pursuing the committee inquiry while the Hiss case was in the courts, but added that this justification no longer exists.

In one-hour speech in the House yesterday, Nixon denounced the Administration's attitude in the case and said the Justice Department has had considered Hiss.

Had that course been followed, Nixon said, the Soviet spy ring would have been broken up long ago.

Room also claimed that President Truman had access to a secret memorandum dated Nov. 23, 1945, saying the Soviet had an agent in this country "who was an assistant" to Edward R. Stettin, then Assistant Secretary of State.

The lawmaker made clear he believed the Hiss case was a "red herring" and that the investigation of Chambers, who resigned from Government service in 1947, Nixon said Hiss was Stettin's "assistant at the Russian consulate."

NAVY'S EYES IN THE AIR

A new Navy flying lab takes a test flight in preparation for exploratory use of the airborne early warning radar equipment. The use of radar in the air will overcome basic limitation of shipboard and surface equipment that can't see "over" the optical horizon. Installation of radar in the plane's comet-like hump will permit early detection of enemy targets at great distances. (Acme Telephoto.)

Actual Aid To Europe Step Nearer

By JOHN SCALLI
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and eight North Atlantic allies signed agreements today that will govern the flow of $1,000,000,000 worth of American arms to Western European defenses against possible Russian attack.

It was the last step-by-step move toward a separate aid program approved last year.

The final step is President Truman's approval of the secret matter of separate aid agreements made with each nation when they were signed by the ambassadors of each at the Department.

But the State Department made possible the separate aid agreements made with each nation when they were signed by the ambassadors of each at the Department.

The amount of American military aid each nation is to get was not mentioned.

But it is known that the largest share of the American weapons and raw materials will go to France, Britain, Canada and Italy.

Countries signing agreements in addition to the United States are Britain, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark and Norway.

The language of each country's agreement varies, but the main element is that the United States will supply up to 45 percent of Western Europe against any attack and that the nations will pay for the balance out of their own resources.

All pledge to "take such security measures as can be agreed to" to prevent the disclosure of "secret" military arms or service or information.

Spelling out the conditions for American arms to be "ready for use" in the event of a semi-protracted war from the start of the agreement, the terms and conditions as may be agreed upon.

Filbuser Hits At Cotton Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil rights champions started a filibuster in the House today against a cotton bill in retaliation against Southerners fighting anti-labor discrimination legislation.

The Southerners are vitally interested in the cotton bill, designed to limit the acreage that cotton growers must take under the new cotton acreage allotment act. For them it is an emergency measure because it affects this year's cotton plantings.

Borrowing a leaf from the book used by Southern Democrats many times in the past, Chairman L. L. (Tom) Lister of the House Labor Committee started off the delaying tactics by forcing a roll-call to get a quorum.

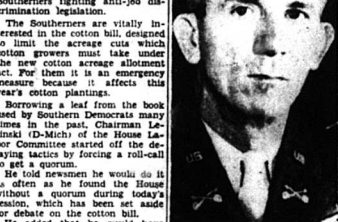

"He told newsmen he would do it as often as he found the House without a quorum during today's session, which has been set aside for debate on the cotton bill."

He added that he would have help from a group of Northerners backing the bill to set up a Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC).

He is going to fight fire with fire, Lister said.

Lester's committee has approved the FEPC bill but can't get House action because the Rules Committee won't clear the legislation. Southerners have filibustered against it through roll-calls on the days when it could have been considered without rules. Lister said.

Speaker Rayburn said he doubted if a cotton bill would be disposed of today.

GEN. HOWLEY

Russian pattern is consistent, no matter how confusing some of the details in that pattern may be.

"We learned," said the writer, "that the Russians want 100 per cent economic and political control of the world."

"What they have tried to do in Germany, in Asia, throughout the world."

"The unfavorable result of our attempts at politeness and appeasement."

"The Soviet-Communist 'Berlin Command' has been recently published. It was not a book, but a personal diary which he kept beginning with D-Day.

"The unfavorable result of our attempts at politeness and appeasement."

"The Soviet-Communist 'Berlin Command' has been recently published. It was not a book, but a personal diary which he kept beginning with D-Day.

"The unfavorable result of our attempts at politeness and appeasement."

"The Soviet-Communist 'Berlin Command' has been recently published. It was not a book, but a personal diary which he kept beginning with D-Day.

"The unfavorable result of our attempts at politeness and appeasement."

No Red Spy, Silver Fox Causes Stir In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was a great commotion at the White House today, a talk on the radio, a press conference, a mystery, except that he had just resigned from Government service in 1947. Nixon said Hiss was Stettin's "assistant at the Russian consulate."

Building custodians said that a Treasury agent was in the Washington zoo, to the police department's animal squad and sent a message to the FBI. Nixon said Hiss was Stettin's "assistant at the Russian consulate."

Building custodians said that a Treasury agent was in the Washington zoo, to the police department's animal squad and sent a message to the FBI. Nixon said Hiss was Stettin's "assistant at the Russian consulate."

Building custodians said that a Treasury agent was in the Washington zoo, to the police department's animal squad and sent a message to the FBI. Nixon said Hiss was Stettin's "assistant at the Russian consulate."

Once Over Lightly

By WALTER STEINBRENNER

Reckless these fellows that go over hunting gear, anything from a fish to a deer. There's a lot of remaining that goes on in movies that never shows up on the screen.

Reckless these fellows that go over hunting gear, anything from a fish to a deer. There's a lot of remaining that goes on in movies that never shows up on the screen.

State Rests In 'Mercy Death'

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—The State of Connecticut rested its second-degree murder case today against Carol Ann Paight, accused mercy slayer of her father.

"The State rest," said State's Attorney Lester W. Willis yesterday after finishing with his ninth witness in less than 24 hours.

The final witness, Police Sgt. Thomas J. Thompson, said he was in Carol Ann's hospital room Sept. 24 after she shot her father and heard the father say "I'm not going to go to sleep until my Daddy dies."

Her 32-year-old father, Police Sgt. Carl Paight, lingered but a short time before dying at the local hospital with his brain ruptured.

The defense rested shortly after noon, and the judge set the case for trial at 10 A. M. today.

Tamburri said that when he entered the room, "She was sitting at the foot of the bed, and she was holding his hand and said 'Go to sleep, Daddy. I'll be with you when you wake up until my Daddy dies.'"

"She was sitting at the foot of the bed, and she was holding his hand and said 'Go to sleep, Daddy. I'll be with you when you wake up until my Daddy dies.'"

"She was sitting at the foot of the bed, and she was holding his hand and said 'Go to sleep, Daddy. I'll be with you when you wake up until my Daddy dies.'"

Billy Rose & Wife Robbed Of $100,000 In Gems, Furs

NEW YORK (AP)—Bandits stole the fashionable home of showman Billy Rose last night, carrying away $100,000 in diamonds and jewelry.

"Rose, a newspaper columnist as well as a showman, had a $100,000 collection of paintings, and $100,000 worth of jewelry, some being worn by him."

"The jewels were taken from Rose's wife, and she was wearing them when she was robbed."

"The jewels were taken from Rose's wife, and she was wearing them when she was robbed."

"The jewels were taken from Rose's wife, and she was wearing them when she was robbed."

Plane Missing With 42 Aboard

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—A twin-engine plane carrying 42 passengers and eight crew members was missing today, a search plane said.

"The four-engine plane was en route from Edmonton to Fairbanks, Alaska, to Great Falls, N. D., and then to Ft. Belknap, N. D., on a 500-foot over land, Yukon Territory, Sept. 1, 1949, when it disappeared."

"RCAP said a sweep would be made today of an Alaskan Airways No. 10, a four-engine plane, at Fort Belknap, N. D., covering an area of 30 miles on either side of the airway."

"RCAP said a sweep would be made today of an Alaskan Airways No. 10, a four-engine plane, at Fort Belknap, N. D., covering an area of 30 miles on either side of the airway."

"RCAP said a sweep would be made today of an Alaskan Airways No. 10, a four-engine plane, at Fort Belknap, N. D., covering an area of 30 miles on either side of the airway."