CHALLENGE TO THE TRUCKING INDUSTRY

IT IS GOING to be difficult indeed for the trucking industry to explain away the findings of the State Highway Commission that North Carolina highways are carrying an ever-increasing number of trucks in excess of legal weights.

THE PLAY'S THE THING

ALL WORK and no play not only makes Jack a dull boy, but it makes him inefficient, too. No one knows this better than the recreation people who held a four-day Midwestern Recreation Conference in Charlotte this week.

THE GOSS AUSTERITY PROGRAM

ALBERT S. GOSS, Master of the National Grange, died on Oct. 28. Two days earlier he had completed work on an address he planned to deliver to the annual Grange convention.

ON TELLING STORIES

BENNETT CERF, the rich raconteur and (to hear some tell it) indiscriminate collector of everyone's best stories, is a man with a mission. Since, he muses to himself, everyone is going to tell stories whether you want them or not, they might as well know some of the elemental rules.

From The Asheville Citizen

WORTH TWO IN THE BUSH

ABOUT the birds in England who are slipping into office buildings, homes and other places and tearing paper to bits—they are of course 'real birds of the featherly kind. And they may have something to tell you.

We believe the people of North Carolina recognize that a healthy, thriving trucking industry is utterly essential to the continued diversification of agriculture and industry, and that dispersal over all sections of the State...

North Carolina faces a major job of rebuilding and modernizing its primary road system. It will cost countless millions of dollars. Unless the trucking industry, by and large, is willing to do its part...

CONSERVATIVES

THESE ARE a Washington opinion poll important things to be said about the recent voting. It proves, once and for all, that conservative organizations on the one side and the labor groups on the other...

Isolationism To Permeate 82nd Congress

THE TRUMAN party on Tuesday suffered a severe defeat. This seems to me to be true even though four years ago the 80th Congress was his campaign for reelection in 1948.

News From The Capital

Dixie Solons Happy Over Election

The incident involved the banning of a misdirected performance of a play from the school board of the principal in the school. The actors read a list of names and suggested the introduction of an Indian revival dance and the building up of Washington's character if it is to be revived next season.

Quote, Unquote

The TV's recommendation construction of a big power dam on the lower Cumberland River. Less than 100 miles from the mouth of the river, it is that plan is adopted, the report says...

The People's Platform to Available to Any Reader who cares to mount it

Communications should be free from 300 words, typewritten if possible, and on only one side of the paper. It should be clearly typed and double-spaced. Each letter must be signed—Editors, The News

Draw Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

JUBILANT Republican leaders now pretty much agree that two big names have come out of the elections as Presidential possibilities. One is the name of the 'kick-the-rear-ends' sentiment, which usually attaches itself to a party long in power...

End Of Bipartisan Policy

TODAY, unfortunately, Acheson policies have been under a special political fire that bipartisan foreign policy has blown up in smoke. Actually, important Republicans are working inside the State Dept. to bring Acheson's policy to a halt.

Poor Public Relations

AT 11 P. M., just after Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman had been bitterly attacked by Senator Schoppert of Kansas for being pro-Communism, Chapman's phone rang. He had not finished testifying before a Senate committee...

Democratic Soul-Searching

SOME important soul-searching is going on among Truman advisers regarding the future of Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Here it is worth pointing out that the President's chief of staff, Acheson, considers him chief Secretary of State. But on the other hand many Republicans are in the mood of stating that he is no longer a candidate.
