

Cloudy with scattered showers today and probably tomorrow. Little change in temperature.

More Weather Data on Page 1-A

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888

Charlotte, North Carolina Monday, May 1, 1950

28 Pages—Price Five Cents

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Final

WE HAVE SECRETS...

Last year's winner of the "Why I Love My Mother" contest was Howard Thompson Holden Jr., then 9 son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Thompson Holden, 3019 Country Club Drive. Howard is seen here with his mother, right after he won with his letter, in which he wrote "I have secrets together. Sometimes the secrets and honors, with me. Most of all I like to talk to her by myself and I like the way she wrinkles me."

Why I Love Mother Contest Under Way

If you are twelve years or younger, this is a contest for you. It's a real easy contest, and it's going to make you $15 or $10 more, if you win it. It's a contest on "Why I Love My Mother." You see, with Mother's Day coming up, the News thought it would be real nice to have all you youngsters write a letter, telling us why you love your mother. Of course, everybody's got plenty of reasons for loving his or her mother, but the News wants to have you put some of these reasons in writing. 515 FIRST PRIZE If you write an extra-special letter, and it's voted first place, you will get $15 for your very own, to buy your mother a present, or do anything you like. If you write the second-best letter, you'll get $10. Don't that sound good? The contest begins today—right this very minute. It will close midnight, Monday, May 15. Remember that all entries must be post-marked no later than this date. CONTEST RULES Since all contests have rules, these are the easy ones for this contest: 1. The contest is open to all children under the age of twelve years, inclusive. 2. The limit on the letter is 125 words. 3. The contest closes Monday, May 15, at midnight. 4. All letters will be the property of The News, and will not be returned. 5. Neatness and originality will count. On each letter, there must be month and year you were born, and telephone number where you may be reached. You must include your address on the letter. Write your letter on the enclosed Contest Entry Card. The Charlotte News, Charlotte, N. C.

Chrysler Peace Reported Near

DETROIT—Chrysler's general manager said today only technical work remains in holding up settlement of the 97-day Chrysler strike, but the United Auto Workers disputed the claim. "There are still unresolved issues," the union said in a statement. Herman L. Wecker, Chrysler vice-president and general manager, indicated only minutes before that a general agreement had been reached. Wecker indicated the company and the CIO United Auto Workers have agreed on general terms of a contract which provides $100 monthly payments, including Federal Social Security. Heavy negotiators do a good deal of work in contract bargaining sessions, but the 45-hour bargaining session passed the 45-hour mark today, and the current continuous peace session at 2 P. M. (EST) Saturday.

Guideposts: No. 4

Frai Marine Discovered That Faith Could Save Lives in Two

By HERY KESSEL
Edited by Norman Vincent Peale
A sailor and working in training, Frai Marine was discovered in his spare moments because a battlefired hero. First he was a sailor, then a Marine, and finally a hero. Frai Marine, the stirring tale of "a man who saved lives in two" was called, was obviously a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

My first introduction to Private Frai Marine was at Hawaii. He was a Marine who had been put through final combat training. Private Frai, or "Squaky" as he was called, was obviously a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

As soon as Private Frai opened his mouth all confusion regarding his nickname was cleared up. He had a falsetto voice. Squaky was a sailor, first-class, and he was a Marine, second-class. He was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

Private Frai was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory. He was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

Once Over Lightly
By the author

Georgia One 'Best U' He Rivals in Cold War Demonstrations

Talmadge 'Pet' Law To Stand High Court Won't Consider Case

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to interfere with a year-old Georgia law designed to curb Negro voting by requiring prospective voters to meet educational tests. The law was described by Gov. Herman Talmadge's "pet" measure in the 1949 legislature. It required complete re-registration of Georgia's 1,200,000 Negroes. This total includes 150,000 Negroes. On April 15 the Supreme Court refused to consider an attack on another Georgia election law—the state's country unit system. It is somewhat like the national election college its opponents call it "an instrument of Negro disfranchisement."

The high court turned down that case, saying Federal courts have no right to interfere with the way a state apportions its voting strength.

The appeal attacking the re-registration law was dismissed with the comment that no substantial Federal question is involved. Talmadge said the re-registration act fulfilled a campaign promise he made last year to "wipe out the stain of Negro disfranchisement."

The law requires a prospective voter to read any section of the constitution of Georgia and the United States. If the applicant fails in this, he is given a list of 30 questions. If he answers less than six, he is ineligible.

In other actions today, the tribunal said on its March 27 decision upholding the conviction of Congress conviction of Justice Dennis, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States. Dennis' conviction grew out of his refusal to testify before a House subcommittee on the American Activities Committee.

Refused to re-visit a lower court's ruling on the CIO laborer's union and 14 members were fined a total of $12,500 in Los Angeles on charges that they conspired to fix prices for fish sold by contract to dealers.

Admiral Would Put Guided Missiles Into Fleet at Once

WASHINGTON—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman said today he would like to see guided missiles to the point where they should be put into the fleet immediately. Sherman, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said he would like to see the Navy to spend $400,000,000 on converting a heavy cruiser to carry guided missiles. Sherman said he would like to see the Navy to spend $400,000,000 on converting a heavy cruiser to carry guided missiles. Sherman said he would like to see the Navy to spend $400,000,000 on converting a heavy cruiser to carry guided missiles.

Frai Marine Discovered That Faith Could Save Lives in Two

By HERY KESSEL
Edited by Norman Vincent Peale
A sailor and working in training, Frai Marine was discovered in his spare moments because a battlefired hero. First he was a sailor, then a Marine, and finally a hero. Frai Marine, the stirring tale of "a man who saved lives in two" was called, was obviously a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

My first introduction to Private Frai Marine was at Hawaii. He was a Marine who had been put through final combat training. Private Frai, or "Squaky" as he was called, was obviously a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

As soon as Private Frai opened his mouth all confusion regarding his nickname was cleared up. He had a falsetto voice. Squaky was a sailor, first-class, and he was a Marine, second-class. He was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

Private Frai was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory. He was a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.

McCarthy Case Hit By Democrat Would Find If Charges 'Hoax'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Karsten (D-Mo.) suggested today that an inquiry be made to determine whether the Communist charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) constitute "a hoax, a deceit, or a fraud upon the American people."

Karsten said in a statement that he would like to see an inquiry into the charges against McCarthy. He said that he would like to see an inquiry into the charges against McCarthy. He said that he would like to see an inquiry into the charges against McCarthy.

Keep And Wife Get Key To Charlotte

By TOM FERPMAN
Charlotte News Staff Writer
WINSTON-SALEM—The Veys and their wife, Mrs. Barbara Veys, were in the city of Charlotte, N. C., today to take part in a parade celebrating the opening of the new highway from the city to the city of Charlotte. The parade was held in the city of Charlotte, N. C., today to take part in a parade celebrating the opening of the new highway from the city to the city of Charlotte.

Realistic May Day Demonstration Wisconsin Town Seized By 'Communists'

By ARTHUR BYSTROM
MOSKOW, Wis.—A parade of the city of Moskow, Wis., today was disrupted by a group of demonstrators who seized the town. The demonstrators were seized by a group of demonstrators who seized the town. The demonstrators were seized by a group of demonstrators who seized the town.

By HERY KESSEL
Edited by Norman Vincent Peale
A sailor and working in training, Frai Marine was discovered in his spare moments because a battlefired hero. First he was a sailor, then a Marine, and finally a hero. Frai Marine, the stirring tale of "a man who saved lives in two" was called, was obviously a man who used his faith to save lives and was a great personal victory.