

THOMAS L. ROBINSON, Publisher
J. E. DOWD, General Manager
B. S. GRIFITH, Executive Editor
C. A. MCKNIGHT, Editor

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1951

A JOB FOR LOCAL COMMUNITIES

WHEN and if we have adequate school buildings and equipment, we must obtain them on a state-wide basis. Dr. A. M. Proctor, Duke University, told the National Council of Schoolhouse Construction recently...

from such areas when they go to Raleigh with their hands out. Secondly, the schools, more than any other single function of government, should preserve strong local ties...

A SINGLE STANDARD OF MORALITY

EVER since the scandals started popping up in Washington, The News has sought to draw some attention to the briber and corruptor as well as to the public officials who accept bribes...

I hold no brief for any public officer who succumbs to bribery, and I hold no brief for businessmen who do the bribing, he added. This is strong, straight talk from a man who can do a great deal of good in helping to establish a code of ethics for business to match the proposed code of ethics for public officials...

PROGRESS IN KOREA

THERE are grounds for cautious optimism in the current status of the cease-fire talks in Korea. Throughout the negotiations the U. N. representatives have firmly opposed the drawing of a cease-fire line along the indefinite 38th Parallel...

disagree, by two or three miles, as to where the present battle line is, and both want Kasong. But this latest proposal represents a considerable concession on the part of the Communists, and it seems likely that the negotiators may get together on this issue...

CAVEAT EMPTOR

ANOTHER in the People's Platform of the letter day complained about a "blackout" of televised football in this area on two week-ends. It charged that the purpose of the decision was to avoid competition with games in this vicinity...

ers seem to appreciate what the sponsor is bringing them and they are not too far from being ready to pay for a receiver is patently absurd. The old rule of caveat emptor is still good.

FEPC PRO AND CON

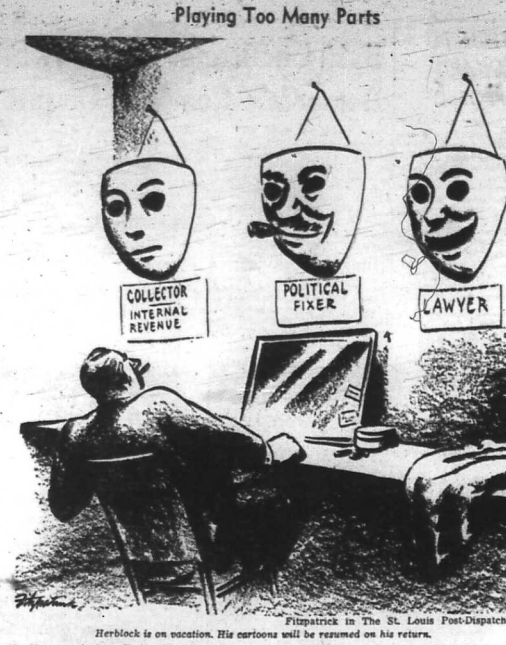

FROM the United Press account of Senator Taft's visit to Knoxville to open his campaign in the South...

"During the afternoon he (Taft) told a group of Negro leaders he opposes FEPC, but favors anti-lynching and anti-labor legislation."

EMERALDS FOR THE UNCOMMON MAN

AS TRAVEL has become so routine these days that it is something of a novelty to encounter, as we did recently, a first class passenger who was making his first night flight into a big city. He found it, as so many have found it before him, an experience of surprising beauty, something to be relished with different impressions each time...

Small wonder that new travelers find their first night landing unforgettable! Out of the blackness and brightness and confusion of the street, out of the red sign that reads Exit, the air traveler makes a maharajah's ruly for an empire's crown. And far above, silent and serene, he sees the cold chip diamonds of the stars.

Collected By Bill Sharpe

TURPENTINE DRIPPINGS

Fat in Washington (The Pathfinder) The General Accounting Office's boss, straight-talking Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren, 61, former eighth Democratic Congressman from North Carolina, told Pathfinder...

Where They Differ (Reland Beasley, Monroe Journal) The rank and file of both parties are very much alike in their political views and the radical and conservative element abound in both. The parties are in fact made up on local issues, personalities and historical backgrounds...

Here Is An Answer

These states with strong highway laws and enforcement have the best traffic fatality records. The Richmond Times-Dispatch files after studying the national statistics. Up there they revoke licenses for speeding offenses. Result: They have fewer speeders and fewer highway deaths...

Stronger Paper

The same paper bag which two years ago held 35 worth of groceries is now capable of holding 110 worth. Or is it that the paper, material is tougher?

The Indispensable

I remember that during the war, when steel was unavailable, I resorted to fine sandpaper which did a tolerable job. This reminds me that before the cleaning fluids, disinfectants, and Old Dutch Cleanser, housekeepers knew the efficacy of sand. I remember how I used to almost broadcastly whiteness with clean white sand, homemade lye soap and a cornshuck scouring pad...

All's Awry

But then, this is a pretty topsy-turvy community anyway. The Manly post office is manned by a woman.

Gain, Not Loss

Those who are selling all these Stars and Bars flags, pennants and stickers the Confederacy isn't a lost cause.

Something Solid

Did you hear the story about Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina? He went to a meal at a restaurant and asked the girl at the cash register if she'd cash a check. So President Gray rummaged around in his pockets and brought forth an impressive looking pass to the White House.

No Shortage

In almost everything there are shortages, but so far there has been no shortage of words. If people were forced to eat their words there would be a shortage of food for there has been no shortage of words.

Drew Pearson's Politics And Tax Collection Don't Mix

WASHINGTON MORE so you look into the income tax situation, the more it appears that some U. S. tax collectors, especially those on collecting tax, have the real company and spend more time on private business than on Uncle Sam's.

nephew, Kenneth E. Caldwell, and financed by a note for $125,000 at the Commerce Union Bank of Nashville. Underwriting the note are Ted Murray of the Nashville real estate club and Joe Parker, brother of the chief deputy.

1. Lipe Henzelle, the suspended collector, who, following an unimpressive case reported as a victim of narcotics. The Narcotics Bureau sent two agents to Tennessee to see where Henzelle was getting his drugs. He reported he was involved though he was still taking narcotics and was involved sufficient time at his office. This was the reason for Henzelle's suspension.

one of his appointees would mean bringing the well-known McKellar wrath down on the entire Internal Revenue Bureau and probably curtailing its budget. Hence McKellar's anger on the payroll whether they work or not. Note 2—Wherry has collectors appointed by Civil Service, not politics, and then rotate them to different cities after they have lived in one city for a year or so. McKellar has made too many friends they lose their effectiveness.

Wisconsin May Put Kohler In McCarthy's Senate Seat

MADISON, Wis. (The Associated Press) Governor Wisconsin launched a national Progressive Party with a great emphasis on some sensational trappings that reminded many of the Nazi technique. Longtime followers of the La Follette family in their Progressive Party were scared off and this marked the beginning of the end for the La Follette family in politics. Starting with "Fighting Bob" La Follette had stood for reform in government that pioneered a path followed by most states and, in some instances, by the Federal Government. How Joe McCarthy could flourish in the same political atmosphere as the La Follette family has been a puzzle.

When he was Governor of Wisconsin in 1938, Philip LaFollette launched a national Progressive Party with a great emphasis on some sensational trappings that reminded many of the Nazi technique. Longtime followers of the La Follette family in their Progressive Party were scared off and this marked the beginning of the end for the La Follette family in politics.

WHETHER McCarthy has been a recent success or a failure is particularly since his vicious attack on Gen. George C. Marshall, his criticism of the Communist in the CIO in Milwaukee who refused to get LaFollette because he had earlier than most foreseen the threat of Soviet Communism aggression in the campaign McCarthy himself denounced LaFollette's isolationism.

ANYWAY (Rocky Mount Telegram) And there is legend handed down in the Enfield area which was to the effect that an old stage in the community insisted that no railroad was coming to the town, "it ain't" or coming through Enfield. When the track crew laid the tracks, he still insisted they would never be a train, and when the train finally pulled into town, and all who wished were invited to climb aboard a flat car for a free ride, he was among those in the crowd who was pulling off, a friend asked about all that he had said in doubt and he turned and replied, "Well she 'aint never gone" to be sure.

FOR some great respectable corporations governmental activities are of extra-special importance. And certain of these corporations organize themselves into a party on their business-political activities systematically, continuously and with maximum productivity.

AMONG these corporations, perhaps the most successful, is Pan American. Pan American's political operations are as efficient as its air operations. Like most of the large corporations in the world, Pan American's political operations are as efficient as its air operations.

AS Washington counsel, Pan American has also long employed friends as Pan American's vice chairman and executive vice president, Louis Johnson. Unlike Boyle who became national chairman of the Pan American party, separate himself from his firm while he was working on the Democratic ticket in 1948, and getting his Pan American fees again.

WASHINGTON (The Associated Press) Governor Wisconsin launched a national Progressive Party with a great emphasis on some sensational trappings that reminded many of the Nazi technique. Longtime followers of the La Follette family in their Progressive Party were scared off and this marked the beginning of the end for the La Follette family in politics.

WHETHER McCarthy has been a recent success or a failure is particularly since his vicious attack on Gen. George C. Marshall, his criticism of the Communist in the CIO in Milwaukee who refused to get LaFollette because he had earlier than most foreseen the threat of Soviet Communism aggression in the campaign McCarthy himself denounced LaFollette's isolationism.

ANYWAY (Rocky Mount Telegram) And there is legend handed down in the Enfield area which was to the effect that an old stage in the community insisted that no railroad was coming to the town, "it ain't" or coming through Enfield. When the track crew laid the tracks, he still insisted they would never be a train, and when the train finally pulled into town, and all who wished were invited to climb aboard a flat car for a free ride, he was among those in the crowd who was pulling off, a friend asked about all that he had said in doubt and he turned and replied, "Well she 'aint never gone" to be sure.

FOR some great respectable corporations governmental activities are of extra-special importance. And certain of these corporations organize themselves into a party on their business-political activities systematically, continuously and with maximum productivity.

AMONG these corporations, perhaps the most successful, is Pan American. Pan American's political operations are as efficient as its air operations. Like most of the large corporations in the world, Pan American's political operations are as efficient as its air operations.

AS Washington counsel, Pan American has also long employed friends as Pan American's vice chairman and executive vice president, Louis Johnson. Unlike Boyle who became national chairman of the Pan American party, separate himself from his firm while he was working on the Democratic ticket in 1948, and getting his Pan American fees again.

WASHINGTON (The Associated Press) Governor Wisconsin launched a national Progressive Party with a great emphasis on some sensational trappings that reminded many of the Nazi technique. Longtime followers of the La Follette family in their Progressive Party were scared off and this marked the beginning of the end for the La Follette family in politics.