

Human Asks Congress Stronger Controls

Provisions Of Present Law Rapped

Strong Message Read To Senate

WASHINGTON — President Truman asked Congress again today for stronger price controls, and denounced an "an economic booby-trap" in the present law.

This sharp phrase was directed at the Caphart amendment, a provision which Senator Caphart (R-Ia.) got into the present law. It requires that price ceilings must take into account all increases in costs since the outbreak of the Korean war.

The President's message was read only in the Senate, the House having quit earlier in the day until Sept. 12.

OTHER CHANGES ASKED

Besides elimination of the Caphart amendment, Mr. Truman also asked specifically for repeal of the following provisions of the law:

The first, sponsored by Rep. Herndon (D-Ill.), requires that distributors be allowed pre-Korean market on goods.

The second, sponsored by Senator Butler (R-Neb) and Rep. Hays (R-Kan.), prohibits slaughter quotas.

By fixing quotas under the old law, the Office of Price Stabilization could tell each slaughterer how many most animals he could kill.

OPS contended this was necessary to assure proper distribution of meat and guard against black markets.

If the three amendments stand, Mr. Truman said, "they will do the greatest damage to our price controls and create the most hardship for our people."

ACTION URGED

"Action should be taken now to change the new law to prevent needless price increases. I urge that Congress not wait until irreparable damage has been done to our economy. It should act promptly to take out of the act the new amendments that unnecessarily raise price ceilings."

The President said he had signed the new economic control bill July 31 because "the dangers in the international situation made it unsafe to permit any interruption in our mobilization program."

He noted Congress had passed the measure only the day before and had let him only one day in which to act.

If he had not signed it, he said, all production controls as well as prices, wages, rent and credit controls would have expired.

And to have permitted that, the President said, would have been gambling with the nation's security.

THUNDERSTORMS DIFFER

Did you know that there are two kinds of thunderstorms? The local, or heat, thunderstorm is caused by the sun heating humid air. Convection causes the air to rise, forming clouds by causing the moisture to condense in some form, such as these clouds. If these grow high enough, they become cumulonimbus thunder clouds. Such storms are usually small and do little to clear the atmosphere. More severe are the storms that form from a cold front, where a surge of cooler, drier air is overtaking warm, humid air forcing it aside and setting off storms along a line perhaps hundreds of miles long.

Senators Would Ease Tax Burden Middle Income Couples Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee said today the final version of the group's personal income tax hike plan will ease the blow in middle income brackets.

He said, however, no final decisions were reached this morning and the committee would get together again on the matter in the afternoon.

One member told newsmen last night the formula didn't work out the way the committee had anticipated. This Senator, who backed that bill, now has indicated the trouble was caused by a bump in the impact of the plan at middle income levels.

Willoughby Continues

Across the Capitol, meantime, the House Un-American Activities Committee heard further testimony from Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby who began yesterday a story of Soviet spying and Communist activities in the Far East before and during World War II.

Willoughby, as Army intelligence officer under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo, gathered voluminous documents on the case of Richard Sorge, a German who was executed by the Japanese as a spy and head of a Soviet espionage ring.

Willoughby has said Sorge was so useful that he was able to advise Moscow two months before Pearl Harbor that the Japanese were going to attack the United States.

Gunned For Hurley

Budenz described the 1942 Daily Worker article as the opening gun of an attack on State Dept. figures unfriendly to the Soviet Union. He said one man the Communists wanted eliminated from the department was Patrick J. Hurley, then ambassador to China.

He said the Communists "relied upon" John Stewart Service and John Carter Vincent to aid within the department in their campaign.

Service and Vincent, both career officers, rather than spies for the department. They were among the targets of Senator McCarthy (R-N.Y.) last year when the Senate said they had faked pre-industrial examinations.

Reds Link Budenz To Currie To Communist Foes Target Of Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louis Budenz today quoted Earl Browder as telling him a 1942 Communist article, aimed to "smoke out anti-Communist elements in the State Dept.," was prepared "through arrangement" with Lauchlin Currie, then a White House aide.

At the time Browder was head of the Communist Party in the United States but has since been ousted. Budenz was then editor of The Daily Worker, Communist newspaper which published the article.

Russian Sees Fall of Tito

MOSCOW — Marshal Klement Voroshilov, a Soviet deputy premier and member of the Politburo, renewed Soviet predictions today that the regime of Yugoslavia's premier Marshal Tito "cannot long continue."

His words, spoken in Ljubljana, the second anniversary celebration of Romania's liberation from the Nazis, echoed those of Deputy Premier Vyacheslav Molotov at a similar celebration in Warsaw just a month ago.

Voroshilov's remarks were published in all Moscow newspapers this morning.

The "Peoples of Yugoslavia," said the Soviet official, "will find the way and means for liquidating Tito's fascist regime — the way and means of liquidating their long suffering nation."

Molotov, in a speech in Warsaw July 21 honoring the seventh anniversary of the Soviet liberation of the Polish committee of national liberation, said the "Tito regime cannot continue long."

Voroshilov repeated Molotov's charge that Tito an independent Communist who once held high favor in the Kremlin had betrayed Russia and gone over to the capitalists. He told the Romanians the state of affairs in their western neighbors, Yugoslavia, is "pitiful."

She also had taken the entire sum since Dec. 1949, by falsifying reports, miscounting money in her cash drawer and withholding deposits.

A shortage in the bank's funds was discovered after a depositor complained about getting a check marked "insufficient funds."

McFarlin said Mrs. Stokes admitted that she had misappropriated amounts ranging from $500 to $4,000 and that she and her husband had been getting in on the money from the Arkansas Trust Co., Hot Springs bank, in which she had worked for ten years.

M. W. McFarlin, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI post, is in charge of the investigation.

Renewal Of Peace Talks Left In Doubt

MUNSAE, Korea (Friday) — (AP) — The Communists abruptly broke off the Korean armistice talks Thursday on neutrality violation charges which Gen. Matthew Ridgway rejected today as a frame-up planned in advance.

Whether the long-stalemate negotiations would resume was an open question, obscured by a typical outpouring of Red propaganda tirades and exchanges of strong language on both sides.

The top Communist leaders, North Korean Gen. Kim Il-Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander of the Chinese Red Army, insisted the alleged Kaesong bombing "was planned to kill the Communist delegation." The charge was broadcast last Thursday night from Peking.
