

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

WEDNESDAY MAY 28 1952

NO ONE BOTHERED TO ASK SUSIE

of Dr. Graham's address is elsewhere on this page today, Susie is the girl who is starting collega. She is young. She is idealistic. She wants a liberal education. She also is quite aware that she might have to make a living after she leaves school. But she has not yet se-lected a vocation.

lacted a vecation.

Suite would make an admirable teacher for young children. She is qualified in every respect, And the average starting salary for teachers today is as high as the averages for other employment open to her.

Why doesn't she become an elementary teacher? Because the rigid estriffication requirements laid down by the priestly hierarchy of education force her to make her decition at the beginning of her college

WHY does the supply of elementary the cheekers in North Carolina fall solve the demand?

Because no one asked Susie what she thought about it.

That was the diagnosis given to N. C. high achieve are in the sphomore year if she wants to teach response of Dr., Graham's doffess is elsewhere on the control of Dr., Graham's doffess is elsewhere on the c for an elementary teacher is so long that she must devote four full years to it. Dr. Graham said the theory of certification was adopted 30 years ago on a false assump-tion, and that if had caused the "Creeping paralysis of liberal education of the teacher". And he urged that the entire structure of certification be torn down, and a new one erected that would enable students to astis-erected that would enable students to astis-ye elementary teaching requirements in their junior and senior years.

That makes sense. The annual output of elementary teachers by North Carolina col-leges is not enough to furnish annual re-placements, much less replace those who hold low-grade certificates. All devices tried in the past to lick the problem have failed. It's time to try Dr. Graham's bold sproach.

OUR AMBIVALENT TAR HEEL DEMOCRATS

OUR AMBIVALENT TAR

ACCORDING to Keynoter L. Y. Ballentine, the past five national Democratic Admininstrations have done quite a job for the country. This is the way he ticked them off, to the applause of Tar Heel Democrats assembled in Raleigh for their annual convention:
"We" (that's the word he kept using) have checked inflation and deflation, restored confidence in banks, restricted speculation, restrained monopoly, provided insurnance for the jobless and pensions for the private honess, promoted low-cost public housing, protected renters, guaranteed labor's right to organic freely and bargain collectively, abolished child labor, established mininsum wages and maximum hours of work, protected the small businessman, safeguarded the consumer, harmesed rivers to provide flood control and more plentiful power, extended electricity and telephone service to rural areas, lowered tariff walls, evolved a great system of agricultural legilation, provided insurance against crop resources, respectated the hon, manufaclared the A-bomb, won a great war.

"We" (jumping to foreign policy) have insared freece and Turkey through the Tru-num-nan Doctrine, put Europe on its feet with to the Marshall Plan, warned Stalin with the Hemman Borden warning with the North Atlantic Treaty and the warning with the worth Atlantic Treaty and the warning with the wa

IT'S CHAIRMAN CONNALLY AGAIN We must be prepared to meet our allies half vay, he said. Any failure of Congress to act decisively now "might mean that peace would slip from our grasp and the lighths of eivilization would go out again for a long, long time." The European nations on the whole have "responded to the threat of Communist aggression vigorously and promptly within the limits of their capabilities." Thus the full circle has been completed. It is reassuring that Chairman Connally, rather than Candidate Connally, is shepherding the mutual security bill.

JOR YEARS Chairman You Consuly of the Senate Foreign Belations Committee pushed, colded, builted, estable of correct bis colleagues into support of major foreign policy measures. Early this year reports from Texas indicated that Atterney General Price Daniel, who seeks Connally's Senate seat, would give the incumbent a hard race. On March 3, with the eyes of Texans upon him, Candidate Cannally attacked the Mutual Security Program as proposed by Secretary of State Acheson.

On March 14 Candidate Connally said he wasn't fooled by mutual security "semantics" He shouted at Mutual Security Director Harriman that substitution of "defense support" for "economic aid" was a "device" to

"We can't go on forever appropriating large sums of money to the United Kingdom, France and other countries," he cried, "and we're under no obligation to do so."

On March 13 Senator Connally announced is decision not to run for re-election. The ext day he said he would not accept a traft.

On May 26 Chairman Connally of the Forsign Relations Committee, no longer a cansidate for re-election, said the mutual seunity measure is probably the last major sgislation he will pilot through the Senate.

And while U. S. warehouses bulge with stocks of unsold legal whisky, moonshiners are busier than ever turning out illegal are ousser tans ever turning out litegal hooch.

This indicates that there is a limit to the accise tax on any product, just as there is a limit to the total tax that can be levied on the income of the people. Congressmen who worry themselves into a dither, about the latter should take note of the former as well.

THE BREAKING POINT

WHEN Concress void new taxes last year, it upped the levy on legal liquor from 80 to 810.00 a gallon despite protests from U. S. distillers that the higher prices would cause a dop to sales.

Now the returns are coming in. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, Uncle Sam collected $1.746.000.000 in liquor taxes. Treasury officials estimate they will collect only $1.853.000,000 this year—a drop of $63 million.

From The Greensboro Daily News

HUMPTY-DUMPTY AND THE HOUSEWIFE

WHEN I use a word," said Humpty-Dumpty to Alice, "it means just what I choose it to mean, neither more nor less." The Federal Trade Commission is Humpty-umpty. The American housewife is Alice.

So what? So, they can sell them for less, till this "lessen competition"? On the conary, it will enable Safeway and Kroger to all for less, which will induce other stores reduce their prices in order to keep their stomers. This does not sound like "lesseng" competition. It sounds more like timulating" competition.

"free enterprise", it is difficult for us to understand why it should be illegal to buy or sell for less. Isn't the practice of buying and selling for less what makes competi-tion? Isn't that what made the American economic system the best in the world? Yet today "fair trade" laws prevent mer-chants from selling for less. And now the FTC is trying to prevent merchants from buying for less.

The American housewife, beset by laws which make for higher prices, is the modern Alice in a Price-Fixing Wonderland.

Alice in a Price-Fixing Wonderland. If she were granted an audience with the governmental Humply-Dumply she might say: "Bull your fair trade" leave are unfair to me. And your idea of stimulating competition is doing away with competition." Humply-Dumply would rely as of old: "When I use a word if means just what I choose it to mean, neither more nor less."

doing business at the old the handreds of thousands proceeds? Where is that a stand American system of the will have a great fall.

New Wine For An Old Bottleneck

with the first contract contract of the contra

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

Truman Stands Firm On Tidelands Oil

MASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Truman was both jovisi and paternalistic

when he received a California delegation led by Atthere General Pat Brown who came on the forient hope of changing his mind on tidelands oil.

"You heard my speech," the President remarked, half humoroutly, "Row can you expect me to change my mind and humoroutly, "Row can you expect me to change my mind Brown remainded him that Californian had come to talk with him in 1848 at which time he had refused to take a stand because tidelands oil as the before the Suprema Court.

"You, and the Suprema Court has now decided in favor to the 4st states," Mr. Truman interrupted.

However, he agreed to study a mene that the California hadge company from the president and the California hadge repress for him, though, as an indication that it probably wouldn't change his mind, had
the following story.

The latter puts the blee on the Loc Angeles Clearing, and the the suprema Court. The time of the court is the proper for him, though, as an indication that it probably wouldn't change his mind, had
the following story.

The latter puts the blee on the Loc Angeles Clearing, and
the that it probably wouldn't change his mind, had
the following story.

The latter puts the blee on the Loc Angeles Clearing, and the suprement to prepare for him, though, as an indication that it probably wouldn't change his mind, had
the following story.

The latter puts the head of the court is the proper for him, though is raining against Son. Easts Refaver in California, about the various Presidential candidates. Repareing Ben. Relayed
the various Presidential candidates. Repareing Ben. Relayed political candidates. Repareing Ben. Relayed
the various Presidential candidates. Repareing Ben. Relayed political to the court of the co