COMFORT FOR THE WOUNDED

An American soldier wounded in the fighting in Korea is comforted by Lt. Helen Mackay, Wilmington, Del., an Army nurse, at a station hospital in Korea. Heavy fighting at Bunker Hill

Hospital Train Scene

Wounded Tell Of Bunker Hill

By SAM SUMMERLIN
WESTERN FRONT, Korea (U.P.)—The wounded Marine screamed: "They're all dead, but we've got to get them! We can't leave those guys for the Goonies!"
The husky leatherneck almost leaped out of the upper berth on the hospital train. Two doctors and two litter bearers struggled to keep the wounded Marine down on the sheets.
The other wounded men were silent. The scream, the sniffling and the doctor's patient words were the only sounds in the steaming car. The Marine was covered with grime and blood. He was crying and wailing at the doctors. "We can't let the Goonies get them."
He was using the Marine nickname for Chinese soldiers.
"Let's go kill those Goonies!" he yelled, crying. "We'll choke them to death!"
The Marine called out a buddy's name from a lower berth.
"I'm right here. Now calm down," he said.
But the husky Marine kept calling the name.
The Marine with the bad foot passed out of his berth and hopped over to the upper berth. The husky Marine kept crying. He couldn't recognize his buddy.
Four bucks away, a pair of blue eyes looked up. "You can take just so much," this Marine said. "He was 19 years old. He couldn't keep still. His leg, peppered with grime and blood, was throbbing."
Above this boy lay a Marine whose head was covered with white bandages. Small holes were left for his eyes, nose and mouth.
Across the aisle, another Marine

Paysour Hopes To Reach Goal In 15 Hours

Experts Give N. C. Man Good Chance

CAP GRIS NEZ, France (U.P.)—Bob Paysour, 24-year-old Gastonia, N. C., fireman plunged into the water from the French coast at noon GMT (7 a. m. EST) today to attempt to swim the English Channel.
The weather was good. There was only a light wind. Experts on tides and other vagaries of the English Channel said the big, six-foot-one-inch Paysour had a good chance to make the crossing.
Paysour, who spent only five minutes on French soil, the time to get dressed, refused to talk to newspapermen, but people in his entourage said he hoped to make the crossing in 15 hours.
A handful of campers and residents of this spit of land in Northern France gathered on the beach to watch the North Carolina swimmer set out. He wore black trunks and a white cap.
The straight-course distance to Dover, 21 miles, but swimmers often cover three times this distance as they are swept up and down by the tides.
Paysour, who specialized in long-distance swimming, was trained by a U. S. S. was trained by Brian S. Ricketts, who swam the channel a year ago.
Paysour wants to swim all the way, so sides accompanying him in a small boat carried along a stack of photographs records of Southern news.

Red Assaults Hurdled Back By Marines

By WILLIAM BARNARD
SEOUL, Korea (U.P.)—S. M. Marines beat back two fierce Communist attacks Wednesday night and today to retain their newly won hold on Bunker Hill, in Western Korea.
The battalion-size Red assaults were the third and fourth futile attempts to recapture territory seized early Tuesday by the Leathernecks.
A U. N. briefing officer said Communist casualties were heavy. By midday, he said, dead enemy soldiers lay sprawled in groups on the scarred slope of the hill, only four miles east of Panmunjom, the true talks site.
Allied warplanes continued to hammer at Red positions today. The Air Force said they knocked out nine troop bunkers and three gun positions, and killed or wounded 20 Communists near Bunker Hill. Fired Marines, meanwhile, huddled in their prefabricated twin bunkers awaiting new Red moves.

Port's Dedication Marks State Bid For Commerce

By NOEL VANCEY
MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (U.P.)—North Carolina today launched a bid for a greater share of the nation's ocean commerce with the dedication of elaborate new port facilities here.
Gov. Scott and John Motley Morehead of New York City, after whose grandfather Morehead City was named, were the speakers at dedication ceremonies held in one of the two large new storage warehouses at Morehead City Port Terminal.
Morehead, chief engineer for the Union Carbide and Carbide Corp., asserted that with the further development and its expanded storage "the future is especially bright. North Carolina is on the map."
"Too long has North Carolina been mainly tributary to the ports

'DINGDONG DADDY' IN DUTCH WITH 15th WIFE

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.)—The Ding Dong Daddy of the 'D' line has taken his 15th bride, but he's in the dog house. She locked him out of their apartment last night, nine days after their marriage.
He is Francis H. Van Wie, 66, former San Francisco street conductor, lion tamer and boxer. His disillusioned bride is 73-year-old Amelia Pritchard, Los Angeles widow.
"Why, he led me to believe he was a bachelor," she told a newsmen from behind the barred door of her apartment. "No, he's not here; I don't know where he went. No, I didn't know he'd ever been married. I'm going to stay right here until I can make up my mind what to do. I have five children. It's hard to believe he has been married so many times."
Van Wie left home shortly after newspaper stories told of his marriage to Mrs. Pritchard in Las Vegas, Nev., Aug. 5. She said he was getting telephone calls, one after the other, after the news of their marriage became known.
Van Wie served a San Quentin prison term for bigamy. He wooed his women on the San Francisco "D" line but neglected the legal formalities of divorcing them. When the law caught up with him and he was tried, he testified that he had been wed 12 or 13 times. He received three 10-year terms but was paroled in 1947 after serving two years.

Ross Flatly Denies Being A Communist

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH—Myron H. Ross, the brilliant University of North Carolina Law School graduate, flatly denied today that he was a Communist.
He said that he was turned down by the State Board of Law Examiners because of his "un-American activities."
He called a "liberal attack" on the story in The Winston-Salem Journal which "intended to make a mockery of the law."
Mathews of Winston-Salem, Communist Party secretary in 1945-47 in the two Carolinas, and Ralph Lord, former Durham reporter, as saying that Ross was a Communist.
"SMOKE-SCREEN"
Ross, who is vacationing at Wrightsville Beach, said: "All this talk about 'un-American activities' and 'Communist' is intended to be a smoke screen for the real issue. It is intended to keep the official eye to apply to take the North Carolina bar examination. I have been rejected because of my labor views and activities by the board composed almost entirely of corporation lawyers."
Ross, chairman of the Board of Law Examiners, contradicted Ross' statement that he was not allowed to take the state law examination because of pro-labor views and activities.
"NOT A FACT"
Ross' statement, Varner said, "is not a conclusion and not a fact. It is an unfounded and there is no evidence to support it."
Varner said he didn't know what influenced other board members.
The statement by Ross follows: "My vacation was interrupted this morning when I first learned of the action being taken by the board. I am deeply regretted by the action. The 'pro-labor' under which I was denied the right to take the

Banker Robbed Of $71,000

WARREN, O. (U.P.)—Three armed men masked with burlap sacks robbed the car of a Warren bank official of the state today and robbed him of about $71,000 in cash. The holdup was staged on Kenilworth Ave. N. E. just seven blocks from Warren's main business section.
Charles Foley was taking the money from the Union Savings & Trust Co.'s main building to its Woodland Avenue branch, of which he is manager.
Police quoted him as saying two of the men leaped out of the holdup car and ran toward the bank. The third man stayed in the car and a revolver after cutting in front of him with his auto.

Would Halt Trend To Centralization

By DON WHITEHEAD
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (AP) — Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai Stevenson called on the 48 states today to give such good government to their people that they would halt the "tidal wave" of centralized power sweeping toward Washington.
In the first major speech since his nomination, Stevenson warned this drift will go on unless the states "perform those necessary functions of government which don't have to be performed in Washington."
Then he said: "The people will demand the services and if they don't get them at home they will turn to Uncle Sam. And the states are the dikes which we can build more strongly against the flood waters sweeping toward the District of Columbia."
Stevenson gave his views in a speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic rally at the Illinois State Fair in introducing the main speaker of the day, Vice President Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

Ike Rejects Truman's Bid To 'Briefing'

Republican Nominee Would Remain 'Free'
DENVER — (U.P.) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee, today rejected an invitation from President Truman to go to Washington for a confidential "briefing" on the international situation.
The move was said to be a telegram to the President saying "it is my duty to remain free" to analyze the situation on international policies and to make his own decisions. It was said that it would be "unwise and result in confusion in the public mind" if he accepted the invitation.
Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, was given a briefing on international policies at the White House Tuesday. He met with Truman and his cabinet, and with defense and intelligence officials.

Ross' Appeal Procedure Cited

By MACK BELL
Charlotte News Staff Writer
The president of the North Carolina Bar Association expressed the opinion today that Myron H. Ross could appeal to the State Bar Council.
"I know of no reason why he can't," said J. Spencer Bell, local attorney who elected recently to head the state bar.
Mr. Bell gave his reasoning as follows:
1. The state bar was made a self-governing body by the general assembly in 1925. All lawyers must be members.
2. The State Bar Council is the governing body of the State Bar Association; its members are elected by local bars and each represents a Congressional district.
3. The State Bar Council in turn appoints the members of the State Board of Law Examiners.
4. The State Bar Council should have the power to review any act of a subordinate body, according to Mr. Bell.

New Democratic Chairman Has Talk With President

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Adlai Stevenson's hand-picked Democratic national chairman called on President Truman today and then told reporters there will be "cooperative" cooperation between Truman and Stevenson in the Democratic Presidential campaign.
The new party chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, spent 25 minutes conferring with the President. It was his first call since he was appointed. The appointment was announced last Friday.
Mitchell, a long-time associate of Illinois governor, was selected by Stevenson to replace Frank McKinney, Truman's appointee to the party chairman post. After conferring with Truman, Mitchell spent nearly an hour with various members of Truman's staff and told reporters afterwards on the subject of co-operation during the campaign.
"There is no question about it in my mind. Of course, there will be complete co-operation," Mitchell told reporters. "I am warm, friendly, helpful and very gracious."
In getting acquainted with the President in his new capacity and to have a general talk on politics with the President, Mitchell said also:
"The President and I talked over several matters, and while I will be co-operative, I can't tell answering questions as to all the subjects we covered."
