

ON THE INSIDE

Classified — 10¢ per line
 Second — 7¢ per line
 Display — 10¢ per line
 Classified — 10¢ per line
 Classified — 10¢ per line
 Classified — 10¢ per line

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888.

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

★★★★★

Final

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas

Charlotte, North Carolina, Wednesday, Oct. 14, 1953

40 Pages—Price Five Cents

PLANE CRASH IN GERMANY FATAL TO 48

Belgian Craft Falls Near Frankfurt; All On Board Killed

FRANKFURT, Germany (U. S. A. Sabena (Belgian) Air Lines plane crashed and burned near Frankfurt today, "All 48 persons aboard were killed."

German police at the scene said 45 bodies were found in the wreckage.

The plane had arrived at Rhein Main Airport from Salzburg, Austria, and was taking off for Brussels. An eyewitness said the engine Convar took off with difficulty. It banked in an apparent effort to return to the field, then crashed and burned.

The weather was clear.

Near the same spot, a KLM (Dutch) plane crashed in 1951 with the loss of 45 lives.

Russell Waives Preliminary On Murder Charge

By DONALD MACDONALD
 Charlotte News Staff Writer

The preliminary hearing for Richard Henry Russell, accused wife-slayer, was over in less than five minutes today as attorneys for the 39-year-old business man asked that he be bound over for trial in Mecklenburg Superior Criminal Court.

Judge J. C. Sotherly granted the waiver and ordered Russell sent to County Jail without bond. The City Recorder's Court was crowded with disappointed spectators who had come to hear the State's evidence.

However, no testimony was necessary when defense attorneys Warren Black and David E. Henderson asked for the waiver.

NO EMOTION

State before Judge Sotherly, Russell was dressed in the light sport coat and blue trousers which he has been wearing since his arrest Saturday. He showed no emotion as Solicitor James E. (Bill) Walker read his name and the charge of murder.

Miss Barbara Griggs, 23-year-old sister of Russell, in the Russell in the courtroom when Attorney Black asked for the waiver.

But when the solicitor requested Miss Griggs be held as material witness, Judge Sotherly asked that she be brought in.

Miss Griggs came into the courtroom in company with Detective Capt. W. A. (Bill) McCall. She was wearing a black two-piece suit and black shoes.

FATHER SIGN BOND

Judge Sotherly set bail for Miss Griggs at $1,000. The young woman's bond was signed by her father, E. L. Griggs of Badin, and she was released.

Outside police headquarters a crowd collected as television cameras trained the spotlight on Miss Griggs and her father.

Photographers also waited to photograph Russell as he was transferred from City to County Jail, after Mecklenburg County Court.

In asking to waive preliminary hearing, lawyer Black said that he and Mr. Henderson have not had sufficient time to work on our case. They were not allowed to get inside the courtroom.

Mr. Black was referring to the Russell apartment, located on the second floor at the Russell Distributing Co., 312 E. Morehead St. It was in the downstairs workroom at this address that Mr. Russell's battered body was discovered four days ago.

STEADFAST DENIAL

The 39-year-old woman's husband has steadfastly denied his wife's slaying, which police said was done with a blunt instrument.

Russell died after being struck on the forehead several times with an unknown weapon.

Funeral services are scheduled in Allentown, Pa.—Mrs. Russell's hometown—at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

On the morning Mrs. Russell's body was found, parents of the son arrived in Charlotte from Pennsylvania on their way to winter in Florida.

ACT EXOTIC, WHATEVER THAT MEANS

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (U. S. Strip teases Margo Martinez told police Judge Theodore L. Murga her act is exotic rather than suggestive.

But the judge had other ideas and gave the 30-year-old performer 10 days for indecent exposure. She appeared and was released under $1,000 bond.

That came after Assistant State Attorney Grover Smith brought out her own definition of her work.

"I thought exotic means when the girl takes her clothes off just walk around and shake."

WASHINGTON (U. S. Secretary of State Dulles flies to London tonight for conferences which may determine the next move by United States and Great Britain in the explosive Trieste dispute.

U. S. officials said there is plenty of time to seek a diplomatic solution of the issue in the face of warlike threats by Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

They noted there is no deadline for removal of about 7,000 British and American troops from Trieste and their replacement by Italians. Tito has said he will counter the shift in occupation troops with force. U. S. and British diplomats said it would be two or three months, possibly even longer, before the change is made.

The State Department insists that the farmer and laboring man who it came as a surprise, was not the result of any sudden emergency.

Dulles Flying To Conference

WASHINGTON (U. S. Secretary of State Dulles flies to London tonight for conferences which may determine the next move by United States and Great Britain in the explosive Trieste dispute.

U. S. officials said there is plenty of time to seek a diplomatic solution of the issue in the face of warlike threats by Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

They noted there is no deadline for removal of about 7,000 British and American troops from Trieste and their replacement by Italians. Tito has said he will counter the shift in occupation troops with force. U. S. and British diplomats said it would be two or three months, possibly even longer, before the change is made.

The State Department insists that the farmer and laboring man who it came as a surprise, was not the result of any sudden emergency.

GOP Defeat Seen As Slay At Eisenhower's Policies

By ARTHUR BYSTROM
 EAST CLARE, Wis. (U. S. — Rural western Wisconsin elected a Democrat to Congress Tuesday for the first time in its history.

And the Republican who lost said the results "showed clearly that the farmer and laboring man do not like the present administration's policies."

This ended one of the most unusual elections in Wisconsin's unpredictable political history.

The man who won the special election for Ninth District representative to succeed the late Mrs. E. H. Hall, a Republican and former Progressive, was Lester B. Johnson, 35, a small town district attorney from Black River Falls and also a former Progressive.

The winner was State Sen. Arthur L. Padgett, 35, who has spent 11 years in the Wisconsin Legislature and Hill and Johnson is also a former Progressive.

Johnson kept his campaign to a promise to vote the same way as Hill had voted. He also denounced the administration's farm policy.

Padgett never discussed his background as a Progressive nor did he mention Hill while he campaigned. The district, he stressed, that he was "four square" behind President Eisenhower and his administration.

It had been anticipated that the vote would be very tight and the election would be a close one. More than 30,000 votes would be cast, in contrast the election year near by 20,000 voters, which however, is less than one-third of the estimated 150,000 eligible electors in the district.

Unofficial returns in 300 of 400 precincts in 11 counties that make up the district gave Johnson 21,000, Padgett 11,000.

The two missing precincts were from small rural communities where little hearing was on the result.

OUR WEATHER

Considerable cloudiness and mild today and tonight. Fair and a little warmer tomorrow. High temperature tomorrow, 72 degrees; high expected today, 72 degrees; high expected tomorrow, 75 degrees.

Low temperature this morning, 58 degrees; low expected tomorrow, 58 degrees.

Sunrise, 6:30 a.m.; sunset, 6:30 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 5-A

ADmits SLAYING

James Lewis, 34-year-old child restaurant worker, sits in police station in New York after Police Commissioner George Moschella's announcement that Lewis had admitted the slaying of Julius Rosenberg, brother of the late Albert Einstein.

NEW YORK (U. S. — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 40 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N.J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

The man, recently suspended by the Signal Corps, testified today at a closed meeting of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Committee which is probing into possible Communist subversion in the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said earlier today that a number of top secret Army documents dealing with radar—the key in defense against atom bomb attacks—"turned up" in Russia occupied East Berlin and "were used by the Communists."

This followed a statement by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) yesterday that 26 of 37 top secret documents missing from the Army Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., were found in the Russian zone.

In Washington, the Army said it had no information on the finding of any such papers in Germany.

"We have completely convincing testimony that some of those documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number, I will not comment," McCarthy told newsmen prior to today's subcommittee session.

PART OF NETWORK

Radar is used as part of a defense network to detect the approach of enemy aircraft — in short, "close up" of the network against atom attack.

Two of five civilian technical experts who were employed at Ft. Monmouth last night for questioning by the subcommittee today, they are Hyam Gerber Yarnitzky, a radar specialist who was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a liaison officer, and a Frenchman, an electronics engineer.

A Chicago Tribune story quoted Dirksen as saying in a speech in Chicago last night that 26 of 37 secret documents had disappeared from the laboratory and were found in the Russian zone.

Later in an interview today Dirksen said there is "indisputable evidence that 'X' number of secret documents" had disappeared from the Army Signal Corps Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Dirksen used the designation "X" apparently to indicate an unknown or undisclosed number. He told a reporter, "Just say 'X' number."

Man Called Close Friend Of Rosenberg

NEW YORK (U. S. — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 40 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N.J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

The man, recently suspended by the Signal Corps, testified today at a closed meeting of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Committee which is probing into possible Communist subversion in the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said earlier today that a number of top secret Army documents dealing with radar—the key in defense against atom bomb attacks—"turned up" in Russia occupied East Berlin and "were used by the Communists."

This followed a statement by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) yesterday that 26 of 37 top secret documents missing from the Army Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., were found in the Russian zone.

In Washington, the Army said it had no information on the finding of any such papers in Germany.

"We have completely convincing testimony that some of those documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number, I will not comment," McCarthy told newsmen prior to today's subcommittee session.

PART OF NETWORK

Radar is used as part of a defense network to detect the approach of enemy aircraft — in short, "close up" of the network against atom attack.

Two of five civilian technical experts who were employed at Ft. Monmouth last night for questioning by the subcommittee today, they are Hyam Gerber Yarnitzky, a radar specialist who was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a liaison officer, and a Frenchman, an electronics engineer.

A Chicago Tribune story quoted Dirksen as saying in a speech in Chicago last night that 26 of 37 secret documents had disappeared from the laboratory and were found in the Russian zone.

Later in an interview today Dirksen said there is "indisputable evidence that 'X' number of secret documents" had disappeared from the Army Signal Corps Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Dirksen used the designation "X" apparently to indicate an unknown or undisclosed number. He told a reporter, "Just say 'X' number."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

Slavs Step Up Anti-Western Demonstrations

By ALEX SINGLETON
 BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U. S. — Irate Yugoslavs stepped up their anti-Western demonstrations over Trieste as President Tito today awaited the outcome of U. S. Secretary Dulles' trip to London.

With thousands of shouting demonstrators storming Belgrade's streets, the Yugoslav chief assembled his top lieutenants for a conference last night shortly after it was announced that the Big Three foreign ministers would convene for Friday in the British capital.

Although there was no word on what the Cabinet discussed, it was thought Tito might be considering sending a special representative to press Yugoslavia's viewpoint on the ministers. The previously held belief that Tito would call for a four-power conference of the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia to reach a solution of the explosive issue.

There also was no official reaction to Russia's surprise demand at the United Nations that the Security Council quickly name an international governor for the entire Trieste territory and make it independent, informed sources in New York, however, described Yugoslavia's U. N. representatives as "indifferent but not too happy" over the proposal.

WARN OF TROUBLE

High Yugoslav officials here trouble to warn of serious trouble to come if Britain and America carry out their plan to give the Allied-occupied Zone A of Trieste to Italy.

Tens of thousands of angry citizens last night staged Belgrade's biggest mass protest so far against the Western decision. Repeatedly they howled:

"Give us rifles."

"Beat up the Italian thieves."

"Drive us Italy."

"We'll give up our lives, but not an inch of Trieste."

EVENING PRAYER

Save us, O Lord, from the fatal sin of neglect. Make us diligent in our Christian duty. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Man Called Close Friend Of Rosenberg

Julius Rosenberg, brother of the late Albert Einstein, was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

NEW YORK (U. S. — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 40 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N.J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

The man, recently suspended by the Signal Corps, testified today at a closed meeting of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Committee which is probing into possible Communist subversion in the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said earlier today that a number of top secret Army documents dealing with radar—the key in defense against atom bomb attacks—"turned up" in Russia occupied East Berlin and "were used by the Communists."

This followed a statement by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) yesterday that 26 of 37 top secret documents missing from the Army Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., were found in the Russian zone.

In Washington, the Army said it had no information on the finding of any such papers in Germany.

"We have completely convincing testimony that some of those documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number, I will not comment," McCarthy told newsmen prior to today's subcommittee session.

PART OF NETWORK

Radar is used as part of a defense network to detect the approach of enemy aircraft — in short, "close up" of the network against atom attack.

Two of five civilian technical experts who were employed at Ft. Monmouth last night for questioning by the subcommittee today, they are Hyam Gerber Yarnitzky, a radar specialist who was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a liaison officer, and a Frenchman, an electronics engineer.

A Chicago Tribune story quoted Dirksen as saying in a speech in Chicago last night that 26 of 37 secret documents had disappeared from the laboratory and were found in the Russian zone.

Later in an interview today Dirksen said there is "indisputable evidence that 'X' number of secret documents" had disappeared from the Army Signal Corps Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Dirksen used the designation "X" apparently to indicate an unknown or undisclosed number. He told a reporter, "Just say 'X' number."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

Slavs Step Up Anti-Western Demonstrations

By ALEX SINGLETON
 BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U. S. — Irate Yugoslavs stepped up their anti-Western demonstrations over Trieste as President Tito today awaited the outcome of U. S. Secretary Dulles' trip to London.

With thousands of shouting demonstrators storming Belgrade's streets, the Yugoslav chief assembled his top lieutenants for a conference last night shortly after it was announced that the Big Three foreign ministers would convene for Friday in the British capital.

Although there was no word on what the Cabinet discussed, it was thought Tito might be considering sending a special representative to press Yugoslavia's viewpoint on the ministers. The previously held belief that Tito would call for a four-power conference of the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia to reach a solution of the explosive issue.

There also was no official reaction to Russia's surprise demand at the United Nations that the Security Council quickly name an international governor for the entire Trieste territory and make it independent, informed sources in New York, however, described Yugoslavia's U. N. representatives as "indifferent but not too happy" over the proposal.

WARN OF TROUBLE

High Yugoslav officials here trouble to warn of serious trouble to come if Britain and America carry out their plan to give the Allied-occupied Zone A of Trieste to Italy.

Tens of thousands of angry citizens last night staged Belgrade's biggest mass protest so far against the Western decision. Repeatedly they howled:

"Give us rifles."

"Beat up the Italian thieves."

"Drive us Italy."

"We'll give up our lives, but not an inch of Trieste."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

EVENING PRAYER

Save us, O Lord, from the fatal sin of neglect. Make us diligent in our Christian duty. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Man Called Close Friend Of Rosenberg

Julius Rosenberg, brother of the late Albert Einstein, was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

NEW YORK (U. S. — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 40 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N.J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

The man, recently suspended by the Signal Corps, testified today at a closed meeting of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Committee which is probing into possible Communist subversion in the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said earlier today that a number of top secret Army documents dealing with radar—the key in defense against atom bomb attacks—"turned up" in Russia occupied East Berlin and "were used by the Communists."

This followed a statement by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) yesterday that 26 of 37 top secret documents missing from the Army Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., were found in the Russian zone.

In Washington, the Army said it had no information on the finding of any such papers in Germany.

"We have completely convincing testimony that some of those documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number, I will not comment," McCarthy told newsmen prior to today's subcommittee session.

PART OF NETWORK

Radar is used as part of a defense network to detect the approach of enemy aircraft — in short, "close up" of the network against atom attack.

Two of five civilian technical experts who were employed at Ft. Monmouth last night for questioning by the subcommittee today, they are Hyam Gerber Yarnitzky, a radar specialist who was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a liaison officer, and a Frenchman, an electronics engineer.

A Chicago Tribune story quoted Dirksen as saying in a speech in Chicago last night that 26 of 37 secret documents had disappeared from the laboratory and were found in the Russian zone.

Later in an interview today Dirksen said there is "indisputable evidence that 'X' number of secret documents" had disappeared from the Army Signal Corps Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Dirksen used the designation "X" apparently to indicate an unknown or undisclosed number. He told a reporter, "Just say 'X' number."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

Slavs Step Up Anti-Western Demonstrations

By ALEX SINGLETON
 BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U. S. — Irate Yugoslavs stepped up their anti-Western demonstrations over Trieste as President Tito today awaited the outcome of U. S. Secretary Dulles' trip to London.

With thousands of shouting demonstrators storming Belgrade's streets, the Yugoslav chief assembled his top lieutenants for a conference last night shortly after it was announced that the Big Three foreign ministers would convene for Friday in the British capital.

Although there was no word on what the Cabinet discussed, it was thought Tito might be considering sending a special representative to press Yugoslavia's viewpoint on the ministers. The previously held belief that Tito would call for a four-power conference of the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia to reach a solution of the explosive issue.

There also was no official reaction to Russia's surprise demand at the United Nations that the Security Council quickly name an international governor for the entire Trieste territory and make it independent, informed sources in New York, however, described Yugoslavia's U. N. representatives as "indifferent but not too happy" over the proposal.

WARN OF TROUBLE

High Yugoslav officials here trouble to warn of serious trouble to come if Britain and America carry out their plan to give the Allied-occupied Zone A of Trieste to Italy.

Tens of thousands of angry citizens last night staged Belgrade's biggest mass protest so far against the Western decision. Repeatedly they howled:

"Give us rifles."

"Beat up the Italian thieves."

"Drive us Italy."

"We'll give up our lives, but not an inch of Trieste."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

EVENING PRAYER

Save us, O Lord, from the fatal sin of neglect. Make us diligent in our Christian duty. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Man Called Close Friend Of Rosenberg

Julius Rosenberg, brother of the late Albert Einstein, was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

NEW YORK (U. S. — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 40 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N.J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia.

The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

The man, recently suspended by the Signal Corps, testified today at a closed meeting of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Committee which is probing into possible Communist subversion in the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy said earlier today that a number of top secret Army documents dealing with radar—the key in defense against atom bomb attacks—"turned up" in Russia occupied East Berlin and "were used by the Communists."

This followed a statement by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) yesterday that 26 of 37 top secret documents missing from the Army Signal Corps radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., were found in the Russian zone.

In Washington, the Army said it had no information on the finding of any such papers in Germany.

"We have completely convincing testimony that some of those documents on radar and other matters did turn up in East Berlin, but as to the number, I will not comment," McCarthy told newsmen prior to today's subcommittee session.

PART OF NETWORK

Radar is used as part of a defense network to detect the approach of enemy aircraft — in short, "close up" of the network against atom attack.

Two of five civilian technical experts who were employed at Ft. Monmouth last night for questioning by the subcommittee today, they are Hyam Gerber Yarnitzky, a radar specialist who was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a liaison officer, and a Frenchman, an electronics engineer.

A Chicago Tribune story quoted Dirksen as saying in a speech in Chicago last night that 26 of 37 secret documents had disappeared from the laboratory and were found in the Russian zone.

Later in an interview today Dirksen said there is "indisputable evidence that 'X' number of secret documents" had disappeared from the Army Signal Corps Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Dirksen used the designation "X" apparently to indicate an unknown or undisclosed number. He told a reporter, "Just say 'X' number."

U. S. Student's Camera Looks At Moscow

Zander Hollander's shot of Palace of the Supreme Soviet in Kremlin

This is a Moscow slum just 100 yards from the American embassy

Moscow University biology building, part of school's new section

WASHINGTON (U. S. — President Eisenhower today made it a firing offense for government employees to refuse to testify before congressional committees on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

The President issued an executive order today directing the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The order permits action against the individual for:

"Refusal by the individual, upon the ground of constitutional privilege, to answer questions or to testify before a congressional committee regarding charges of his alleged subversive or other misconduct."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said this was an effort to "close up all possible loopholes" in the government's security machinery.

He said Atty. Gen. Brown would enlarge upon the Fifth Amendment question at a speech this afternoon at the National Press Club.

The timing of the order appeared to stem in part from the current Senate investigation of alleged security leaks from the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Army Signal Corps Laboratory.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens has been sitting in on the closed hearings in New York by Sen. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) investigations subcommittee. Stevens said yesterday that any civilian employee of the Army who refused to answer questions on communism at the hearings would be "summarily suspended."

The President's order had the effect of giving full White House backing to Stevens' stand.

The Eisenhower Administration set up last April a security program which the President said was designed to keep "the disloyal and dangerous" out of federal jobs. It replaced previous loyalty-security laws.

23,000 Draftees To Get December Call

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Again in December, the Army will call 23,000 men through the draft.

The figure, announced yesterday, is the same as the call for each of the five preceding months.

The December inductions will bring the total drafted since the start of the Korean War to 1,504,400.

Slavs Step Up Anti-Western Demonstrations

By ALEX SINGLETON
 BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U. S. — Irate Yugoslavs stepped up their anti-Western demonstrations over Trieste as President Tito today awaited the outcome of U. S. Secretary Dulles' trip to London.

With thousands of shouting demonstrators storming Belgrade's streets, the Yugoslav chief assembled his top lieutenants for a conference last night shortly after it was announced that the Big Three foreign ministers would convene for Friday in the British capital.

Although there was no word on what the Cabinet discussed, it was thought Tito might be considering sending a special representative to press Yugoslavia's viewpoint on the ministers. The previously held belief that Tito would call for a four-power conference of the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia to reach a solution of the explosive issue.

There also was no official reaction to Russia's surprise demand at the United Nations that the Security Council quickly name an international governor for the entire Trieste territory and make it independent, informed sources in New York, however, described Yugoslavia's U. N. representatives as "indifferent but not too happy" over the proposal.

WARN OF TROUBLE

High Yugoslav officials here trouble to warn of serious trouble to come if Britain and America carry out their plan to give the Allied-