

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888.

Largest Afternoon Newspaper in The Carolinas

Charlotte, North Carolina, Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1953

34 Pages—Price Five Cents

THAT'S A SOUTHERN SMILE, ADLAI

"Now that is one of those Southern smiles you see so much about," is what Atlanta's Mayor W. B. Hartford (left) appears to be telling Adlai Stevenson (center) after the unidentified lady fan laughing as Stevenson was well-

came in the airport in the Georgia capital. Stevenson is in Georgia to express his appreciation for the overwhelming vote he got in that state last year in the Presidential election. (AP Wirephoto)

'Indictment By Suspicion'

Adlai Lashes GOP's Tactics

ATLANTA (AP)—Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, titular head of the Democratic party, today blasted the "Republican program" of "indictment by suspicion, or conviction by accusation."

"Gen. Eisenhower promised the people a new morality, but his lieutenants have chosen their weapons without regard for their effect," Stevenson declared. "They have taken McCarthyism away from McCarthy. What an end to the great crusade."

"The Democratic presidential nominee of 1952, in a speech prepared for delivery before the Georgia Legislature, advocated discharging the mistakes and failures of the past and rooting out agents of communism."

"But for the love of heaven," he pleaded, "let us do it with dignity, objectivity and justice, and with some better motive than partisan spite that can only seriously weaken the United States."

NO ONE WINS

"No one wins this way. Suffering of past Democratic mistakes is balanced by suspicion of present Republican motives. The people are confused, confused in both parties undermined, the nation injured."

"The issue isn't which party desires communism most, but how to deal with the serious problem of espionage in our government. And this," he remarked.

Stevenson asserted that his party "looks more united than it has for a long time."

"Until lately the demagogues were freely predicting that the North-South cleavage would pull the Democratic party apart at the seams," he said. "We lost an election in 1952, but they did not lose our vitality or sense of mission. And the sheep that strayed are daily coming back into the fold."

CITES EXILE PROGRESS

Applying the "enormously improved" position of minority groups, particularly the Negro, he called progress in the South "even more conspicuous than that in the North."

"I believe, and I think in common with the great majority of thoughtful white people of the South," he continued, "that this improvement, must and will continue."

He said that to keep the promises made by the Republican party in 1952 "would have been about as easy as for one Senator to jump off the Brooklyn Bridge while the other kept the skillet hot for the fish fry."

The former Illinois governor declared that no one should be more thankful for the Democratic record in the last session of Congress than the President himself.

Democratic supporters like Administration when they thought it was right, which has sometimes been untrue, he said.

"The attitude of many Republican leaders seems to be 'I like Ike, but I don't like what Ike likes,'" he remarked.

Stevenson asserted that his party "looks more united than it has for a long time."

"Until lately the demagogues were freely predicting that the North-South cleavage would pull the Democratic party apart at the seams," he said. "We lost an election in 1952, but they did not lose our vitality or sense of mission. And the sheep that strayed are daily coming back into the fold."

CITES EXILE PROGRESS

Applying the "enormously improved" position of minority groups, particularly the Negro, he called progress in the South "even more conspicuous than that in the North."

"I believe, and I think in common with the great majority of thoughtful white people of the South," he continued, "that this improvement, must and will continue."

He said that to keep the promises made by the Republican party in 1952 "would have been about as easy as for one Senator to jump off the Brooklyn Bridge while the other kept the skillet hot for the fish fry."

The former Illinois governor declared that no one should be more thankful for the Democratic record in the last session of Congress than the President himself.

Democratic supporters like Administration when they thought it was right, which has sometimes been untrue, he said.

"The attitude of many Republican leaders seems to be 'I like Ike, but I don't like what Ike likes,'" he remarked.

OVERALL HIKE SEEN Council May Switch Pay Raise Position

By DICK YOUNG
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Proposed salary increases for municipal employees were knocked better-kicker today and a review by the City Council, with a flat 4 per cent increase for all employees in prospect, was indicated. The suggestion for salary raises of 4 per cent for those employees earning $300 a month and less, and 3 per cent increases for those receiving between $300 and $600, as informally approved by the council last night had produced so many inequities that councilmen were looking ahead at the next session.

Indications were that at the special meeting called for tonight to consider the police study committee further action will be given to the proposed salary increase.

INFORMAL ACTION

The plan for giving 3 and 6 per cent increases for those earning $300 and less, and for those in the bracket between $300 and $600, as advanced by Councilman Claude L. Albee was only informally approved. Official action had been planned for tomorrow afternoon's regular council session.

Commenting on the agriculture situation, Stevenson said: "You know, after the brave speeches in last year's campaign I thought the Republicans surely had a better farm policy. But they didn't. They didn't have anything but speeches. Now they have a study commission and we have promises of a new and better program. I hope it is, and it is if it jumps out of the box."

Chances were that if a decision is made to change the plan, a flat 6 per cent raise for all employees will be the method. This was the proposal which was advanced last night by Mayor Van Every as the only fair and equitable thing to do.

The mayor's suggestion was supported by Councilmen Herman A. Brown and Everett Wilkinson. Mr. Albee's plan was rejected.

approved by a unanimous vote after Mr. Van Every's proposal had been rejected.

Councilmen also decided last night to delay the job classification program until the start of the next fiscal year July 1.

As the result of Mr. Albee's plan of dividing the employees into two salary brackets inequities in payment were becoming evident today.

For instance, senior nurses in the Health Dept. who now earn $250 a month and will receive a 3 per cent increase will make more money than their superiors.

There was also an instance in another department, where one man with a little more experience has been drawing $300.40 a month, and another man doing exactly the same thing has been receiving $250 a month. However, the more experienced man, who has been earning $300.40, gets only a 3 per cent increase and his increased salary will total $309.41.

In the Police Dept. experienced patrolmen are now drawing $350.00 and under the 6 per cent increase will receive $371.00. Detectives now receiving $117.14 a month will get a 3 per cent increase and their future salary will total $121.51, just 10 cents above the monthly pay patrolmen.

Fiscal officials of the city are reporting instances of this to be repeated in practically all departments.

George B. Livingston, municipal accountant, was engaged today in working out the new salary schedule as approved by the council last night.

He had just begun that task and SEE COUNCIL ON PAGE 2A

Dulles Agrees Disarmament Of Japan Error

Secretary Of State
Backs Nixon Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that he agreed with Vice President Nixon's view that the disarming of Japan after World War II was "a mistake."

Dulles told a news conference that the United States carries disarmament programs for both Japan and Germany rather fast. He noted some of these disarmament projects have since been reversed because of Communist threat.

The Secretary of State said he believed that at the time and noted that the San Francisco United Nations Charter drafted in 1945 contained provisions calling for limitation of armaments.

The Secretary of State said he thought it was entirely proper for congressional committees to ask the Canadian government for the privilege of questioning Lester B. Pearson.

Dulles also told a news conference he did not think the Harry Dexter White case and its repercussions had any significant or measurable effects upon American relations with any country.

As to the requests to question Gensouka, he said he hoped that Canada would reply in the spirit of friendliness which has characterized relations between that country and the United States.

Dulles added that he believed such relations would survive this present incident.

U. N. Told Soviet Plans Destruction

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United States said today the only way Russia can win American friendship is to "give up seeking the violent overthrow of the United States."

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the U.N. 60-nation political committee the Soviet Union "admits it is plotting our destruction." He said this naturally caused a strong reaction among the American people and press.

Lodge said Russian charges that the United States was responsible for present world tension were "obviously written by professional Communist agitators" and reminded him of the old proverb that the devil can quote scripture "It is well to look at the record regarding this subject," Lodge declared.

He then detailed efforts of the United States and its allies to reach agreement with Russia on the reunification of Germany and said the West had finally "reluctantly concluded that the Soviet Union did not want to enter into negotiations which might have positive results." Nevertheless, he said, the West still leaves the door open.

As for propaganda, Lodge gave example after example of what he called Soviet moves in entertainment, schooling and newspapers to make the Russians hate the American people.

The Kremlin, he said, has its Chief Delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky, who asked the U. N. to ban the atomic and hydrogen bombs unconditionally, cut off the armed forces of the big powers by a flat one-third; forbid foreign bases in other countries; and condemn Western Communist propaganda as war propaganda.

DEMANDS DEFEATED

These demands have been defeated, in one form or another, over and over in the Assembly and its committees. The Soviets have revived them each successive year.

Instead, the U. N. has adopted Western proposals for international control of nuclear weapons under stringent safeguards as the culmination of a disarmament program, which would include cutting the armed forces of the big powers. The Assembly has refused to go into the basic position of a condemned war-mongering propaganda impartially without regard to its origin.

Lodge said Russian charges that the United States was responsible for present world tension were "obviously written by professional Communist agitators" and reminded him of the old proverb that the devil can quote scripture "It is well to look at the record regarding this subject," Lodge declared.

LISTS EFFORTS

The United States and its allies efforts to reach agreement with Russia on the reunification of Germany and the West had finally "reluctantly concluded that the Soviet Union did not want to enter into negotiations which might have positive results." Nevertheless, he said, the West still leaves the door open.

As for propaganda, Lodge gave example after example of what he called Soviet moves in entertainment, schooling and newspapers to make the Russians hate the American people.

He said U. S. citizens were free to read anything they liked about Russia, but added:

"The past 10 years have aroused the fears of many Americans that Soviet imperialism endangers their safety and their way of life. It is only natural that most Americans and the bulk of the press should view the Soviet Union with some trepidation, given the fact that it is plotting our destruction."

The fire was extinguished 30 minutes after the crash, when it occurred at 12:12 a.m. (CST) Traffic across the bridge was halted.

Judge Unsympathetic To Jack's Intention

DES MOINES (AP)—Geneva Rice, 34, a waitress at the Elks Club, turning to the coffee shop where she worked when Jack Howard Jr., 37, grabbed her by the neck and said "How about a kiss?"

An automatic judge sentenced Rice to seven years in prison after she pleaded guilty to disturbing the quiet of a person.

EVENING PRAYER

Love God, Father of us all, we give Thee thanks because we can call Thee Father. Grant that we may love one another as brothers and sisters, so that, through Christ, the love for our fellow men, we may find the world together and His precious name we pray, Amen.

Confessed Spy Says Ring May Still Be Active

NEW YORK (AP)—David Greenglass, confessed atom spy, testified in writing today a radar spy ring headed by executed Julius Rosenberg "could very possibly be continuing to this very day."

A severe deposition made by Greenglass at the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., was read today the record at an open hearing conducted by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

McCarthy called the hearing essentially to support his charges that the Rosenberg radar spy ring, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

He is a brother of Ethel Rosenberg, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

He is a brother of Ethel Rosenberg, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

He is a brother of Ethel Rosenberg, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

He is a brother of Ethel Rosenberg, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

He is a brother of Ethel Rosenberg, who was executed with her husband, Julius, in the Star Line prison electric chair for stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

Greenglass said that, so far as he knew, the Rosenbergs' radar spy ring activities "never stopped."

MAVIS DIDN'T LIKE BIG DOG LICKING HER FACE

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Seven-year-old Mavis Harloff woke up in bed early this morning and said, "Daddy, quick, Daddy, help me. Stop that big dog licking my face. He's on my bed."

Mavis' 3-year-old sister Fay said she was "disturbed."

Claude Harloff, the children's father, snatched up his 2-year-old wife and while his wife held a flashlight on the bed, took careful aim.

"I did not have to tell Mavis to keep still," he said later. "She was under the blankets, very frightened, and as still as could be."

"I fired and the bullet went through the tiger's nose and jaw. It was away in a flash through the door and into the street."

The animal was found later, weak from loss of blood. It had escaped from a circus after someone tampered with the cage on its way to the zoo.

Meanwhile Mavis spent the day in bed. Not because of shock, but because she was cold.

"She was frightened," she admitted. "I don't like big dogs. I stayed under the blankets."

OUR WEATHER

Fair weather today. Partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow. Little change in temperature today, tonight and tomorrow. Low temperature this morning 37 degrees.

Low temperature expected tonight 48 degrees.

High temperature expected tomorrow 65 degrees.

High temperature expected today 65 degrees.

Sunrise 7:06 a.m.; sunset 5:12 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2A

Return U.S. POWs Sought

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Allies revealed today that they are making final preparations for efforts to return 22 Americans, one British and 23 South Koreans who have refused to come home.

The U. N. Command disclosed it has been sparing for two weeks with the Korean war prisoner repatriation commission over how many Allied interviewers will be permitted to talk with the prisoners.

The Allies have requested a total of 15-20 Americans 5 Britons and five Koreans to be released.

The commission has set a limit of five.

The secretary allied and Red negotiators meeting nearby on arrangements for a Korean peace conference discussed sites but got nowhere again.

The first official indication that the UNC is about ready to start interviews is the release of 10 POWs with the release of two letters to the repatriation commission and one reply.

The Allies have little time left—the 90-day interview period is scheduled to end Dec. 2.

There were unofficial indications that the UNC also is working behind the scenes to smooth out all preparations before the explanation begins—presumably to avoid the hysterical scenes which greeted Communist efforts to get their former soldiers to come back.

In a letter to the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission dated Nov. 16, the UNC asked the commission to confirm its belief the Allies would be allowed to send five South Koreans five Americans and five British to the POW camp.

McCarthy Prepares Reply to Truman

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators today pondered FBI summaries of alleged Soviet espionage while, in an effort to the Harry Dexter White case, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) prepared a radio-TV reply to former President Truman's attack on McCarthyism.

New fuel was added to the case, already smoldering with political charges and countercharges, when:

1. A Canadian member of Parliament charged that the House of Commons yesterday that "McCarthyism" in the United States is trying to "blackmail" Canada into releasing Igor Gouzenko for questioning.

2. The Senate internal security subcommittee disclosed yesterday that the White House sought and got FBI data on Harold E. Glaser, an alleged Soviet spy a month before Glaser's 1946 promotion in the Treasury Department.

The charge of blackmail came from David Croft, a member of the Liberal Party, who had just won the Canadian government. He said "Senator Eisenhower should repudiate what he described as attacks on Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson."

Croft charged as did Toronto Star in an article yesterday, that Pearson may be named by the Senate subcommittee as one of several Canadians accused of spying information to Communists during World War II.

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel quickly said "No such thing is contemplated."

Pearson made a speech in New York last night declined comment on the charge.

Pearson said he may reply today or tomorrow to the subcommittee's second request—he turned down an FBI permit to question Gouzenko. The Soviet case was closed.

SEE MCCARTHY ON PAGE 2A

President, Wife Flying South

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower took off today for a Thanksgiving holiday in Augusta, Ga.

They waved and smiled as they boarded the presidential plane, the Columbine, at the terminal of the Military Air Transport Service.

Eisenhower wore a blue gray suit and carried a top coat. The First Lady had a pink coat. The weather was chilly and overcast.

Accompanying the President were his apartment secretary, Thomas E. Stephens, and members of the White House staff. He will return to Washington Sunday.

The Eisenhowers scheduled a stop en route at Ft. Benning, Ga., to pick up their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their grandchildren. Their son, Army major stationed at Ft. Benning, will join the family at the Augusta National Golf Club later in the week.

A new white brick cottage—situated near the Ft. Benning, Ga., was ready for the Eisenhowers. It was built by fellow club members for the President's use.

TEMPORARY GIFT FOR THE QUEEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth II, who is visiting the United States, will receive a temporary gift from the United States.

The gift is a temporary gift from the United States.

The gift is a temporary gift from the United States.

The gift is a temporary gift from the United States.

The gift is a temporary gift from the United States.

Bermuda Greet Queen Elizabeth

By ARTHUR F. WOLF
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—These vacation islands gave a flower-laden welcome today to Queen Elizabeth II, who arrived from London.

The Duke of Edinburgh arrived for a one-day visit, the first ceremonial stop of their six-month tour of the Commonwealth.

Their American-built Stratocruiser reached American-leased Bermuda at 11:30 a.m. (EST) today. This was the 10th day of the tour.

Bermuda Gov. Sir Alexander Hoodman, the party to welcome the Queen and her husband in an airport ceremony the first event of their crowded one-day stay. The royal couple will take off again tomorrow for Jamaica to continue the 10-month tour. They will visit Australia, Ceylon, New Zealand and 10 British possessions and protectorates.

Plane Crashes Into Bridge

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—A jet training plane crashed into the Mississippi River bridge today, breaking a natural gas pipeline which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure.

The fire was extinguished 30 minutes after the crash, when it occurred at 12:12 a.m. (CST) Traffic across the bridge was halted.

Fate of the pilot remained unknown.

Airmen at Greenville Air Force base ordered a crash site party on the hope the pilot might have parachuted from the plane.

The commanding officer of the Greenville AFB, Col. Vincent E. Ward, said the plane presumably was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.

Highway patrolmen said the large plane, which exploded when it struck the steel and started a stream of fire at the structure, was from his base, since a 730 train in the same type plane crashed, was missing.

The unidentified air cadet in the plane was on his first solo flight, Col. Howard said.

The colonel said the cadet's plane would have run out of fuel about 12:15 a.m., which might explain why the plane was flying low enough to strike the steel and start a stream of fire at the structure.