Once this plan, it will be hard put to explain its opposition. The Soviet Union, as well as this and other nations, may continue to build atomic bombs if this proposal is adopted. No system of internal inspection and control, which Russia would vehamently oppose, is demanded. The President's proposal dramatically focuses at the stom, It includes no conditions the control of the present of the velopment of the atom for peaceful purposes.

If the plan is agreed to it cannot speedily go into operation on a large scale. For one thing, the nations that have fissionable materials have been so concerned with their military development that serious industrial development of the atom has only recently participated by the continued the serious industrial development of the sound has only recently are already reality, and are increasingly important in the diagnosts and treatment of cancer and other diseases.
