DR. CHARLTON C. JERNIGAN

THARDLY seems possible that Dr. Chartion of C. Jernigan had lived in the commandity less than two years. Big. hearty, affable, he went so many places, met so many people, and dies to ansay things that he quickly integrated himself into the life of the community, litting, as it were, like an old abo.

Nor does it seem possible that he is no longer with its. Youthful and energetic, strong physically and buoyant mentally, he peed himself well, knew how to relax, and gave every impression of standing up under the wear and tear of the heavy schedule he set for himself.

And a heavy schedule it was. From the first day he came to Queens College, his first presidency, he set out to bring new life and vigor and imagination to the quiet, said Presbyterian girls' school. In his office, on the campus, at meetings and on the lecture platform, he thought and talked and worked to develop his vision of Queens as a lively, progressive and modern liberal sonthers.

REAFFIRMING A BASIC TENET OF JUSTICE

THE City Council observed both the letter of the law and the spirit of elemental sustice when it approved the sale of E. M. Beaty's trained ortificates to the Beaty Service Co., headed by K. M. Beaty. After E. M. Beaty was convicted in Federal Court of income tax evasion, he voluntarily began negotiations to dispose of his cab certificates. Under the terms of the cab ordinance, the Beaty Service Co. fully qualifies as purchaser. It now is operating a fleet of tasticabs, and there was no evidence before the Council indicating that it was operating them in any but a satisfactory manner. The transfer yas lifted out of the purely routine category because Keith M. Beaty is currently under indictanent for income tax evasion. But the Council properly adhered was a supersimple of the recent secret agreement between the United States and tworld War II ally, Russia, we're still publication of the recent secret agreement between the United States and our Korean war ally, Syngman Rhee.

DRAFTING DADDY

THE PRESIDENT has ordered that there it. will be no more deferments for draftable young men who become fathers after Aug. 28. Because the personnel requirements of the services have diminished recently, this decision is viewed as unwarranted by some persons. However, we believe it a sensible step toward a better military personnel policy, one that should have been taken long age.

Fatherhood, as thousands of hitter reservists know, does not constitute a guarantee against military service. Men with
