For instance, it is said that he may have aliansted as important segment of the republican Party. Truth of the matter is that this same clement of the Republican Party has been hostile to Eisenhower since before the Chicago convention. And they'll continue to be hostile to him so long as he pursues anything but a completely reactionary course. It is said that the Administration decision will make small businessmen unhappy, because the excess profits tax hits them the hardest. There is no substance to this charge. The measure reported out by the House Rules Committee raises the tax exemption from £35,000 and corporations and lowering the bills of those whose net earnings are over $100,000. Presumbly the Ways & Means Committee will follow the same plan.

It is said that the loss of excess profits tax would not make much difference. Of course there's going to be deficit next year, and that the loss of excess profits tax would not make much difference. Of course there's going to be a deficit next year but President Eigenhower is trying to beap of the same that the loss of excess profits tax mail as possible, and he knew that

A GREAT DEAL of popyrocck has been written about President Eisenhower's firm tiand in favor of entinding the excess profits tax smoother six months. For instance, if it is sufficient to the matter is that he may be a subject of the matter is that he he matter is the he beat the beat the profits that the matter is that he he matter is the he will be to lies he he will be him so long as he pursues anything but a completely reactionary course. And finally it is argued that if the tax had been repealed, many businesses would have be a paid more taxes, giving Uncle Sam more money in the long run. A near time the profits of the profits of the care profits that the deministration decision will make small businessmen unhappy, because the care profits that the profits of the care profits that the deministration decision will make small businessmen unhappy, because the care profits that the profits of the care profits that the profits that the profits and the profits of the care profits that the profits and the profits of the care profits and the care profits revenue by cutting out all taxes. Funny thing, but many of these same people who are now complaining about the continuation of the excess profits tax spent much of Harry Truman's administration yelling about deficit financing. Balancing the budget, they said, was the most important single domestic task for the new administration, And now that President Eisenbower is cutting expenditures right and left in an effort to balance the budget, they want to unbalance it further by cutting tax revenues before spending can be curtailed. It's a funny world.

many of the congress to take any action on this bill undoubtedly contributed to the weakening of the pro-Western de Gasperi government in the recent lialian elections. Italians, many of whom want to come to this country, believed this inaction reflected increasing anti-Italian feeling in the U. S. And certainly the East German who are revolting, yet receiving so little encouragement from the West, would take on new hope if they knew that escape to the West might mean eventual U. S. cittenship instead of a dreary life in a displaced persons camp.

These are substantial, but secondary reasons for passage of the bill. Always, above all, the fact remains that immigrants are among America's great assets. The diversity and strength of America derives from this melting-pot characteristic.

It is obvious that the Miss America pigeant, of which the Miss Charlotte Pageant is an official preliminary, has sevolved from the "leg show" of the 20's and 30's to a very high plane. This year 252,000 in scholarships will be awarded in Atlantic City to the national finalists. The Hollywood screen test is no longer considered the acme of awards by this group of intelligent, cultured and beautiful young laddies. ladies.

I agree with Mrs. McDonald that there are in Charlotte and Mccklenburg County other girls who might exceed in physical beauty alone our entrants for this year. I feel, however, that all of our entrants possessed, perhaps in varying degrees, all of the attributes which the judges were instructed to consider. Our winner, Miss Dorris Hagler, is in my opinion a wonderful representative of the City of Charlotte, and we are proud of her.

Negro Hospital Needed

WHILE the discussion rages pro and con about the teaching of the Bible in our public schools a real live and vitally important issue involving basic Christian attitude is in the process of being decided upon.

It is time now for those who give lip service to the affirmation of Christian ethics to get down to a very practical matter—a new hospital for Negroes.
Perhaps you can shed some intelligent light on the subject by outlining the major issues involved, so that a wise decision can be made. It would be a pity if a few influential men overrode the wishes of a majority.
