IKE PROGRAM FACES FIGHT IN CONGRESS

Third Of President's Proposals May Never Be Made Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower faces possible opposition about one-third of the broad legislative program he has outlined to Congress.

Few lawmakers who commented on it would predict that substantially all of it would become law, but they generally seemed to feel that Eisenhower had adopted a smart political approach by suggesting 36 pieces for legislative action and mentioning others for later reference.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said in an interview he thinks this overall appeal will help the Republicans retain control of Congress in the November elections, even if Congress ignores or defeats part of the program.

Sen. Caphart (R-Ind) demonstrated that members of Congress are going to have suggestions of their own.

Caphart, who leads the Senate Banking Committee, suggested to the CIO Housing Conference yesterday a billion dollar government program to help people buy homes with little or no down payment, on 50 to 60-year mortgages.

While much of the Eisenhower program remains to be filled out by subsequent messages, there are already strong indications that a dozen or more of his proposals may either be shelved or radically revised by the lawmakers.

Mr. Caphart's (R-Ind) demonstrated that members of Congress are going to have suggestions of their own.

Congressional lieutenants fully expect Eisenhower's farm program to be submitted in detail Monday, to be revised and then in principle of fixed high price supports instead of the sliding scale Eisenhower is suggesting.

Meanwhile Chairman Allen (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee appointed a special subcommittee to investigate the reasons for the difference between farm prices and retail prices of agricultural products.

The controversy over Taft-Hartley law amendments, which Eisenhower will outline in another message Monday, is likely to be such that exactness of any of them is doubtful.

The administration faces a strong fight on increasing the debt-limit—hosting postal rates and Hawaiian statehood, all old issues before Congress, it probably will have serious trouble getting ap-

3 Proposals On Conference Made By Chou

North Koreans Deny Negotiations Held

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai today called for speedy convening of the Korean conference and offered three proposals to get the long delayed talks started.

1. Resumption of the ruptured preliminary negotiations aimed at setting up the conference, using as a starting point Red demands that Russia attend the full-scale talks as a neutral. This proposal was turned down flatly by U.S. Envoy Arthur Dean before he broke off the negotiations last month.

2. That the U. N. General Assembly consider the problem but Chou attacked a string that tied China and North Korea—both non-U. N. members—be "entitled" to send delegates.

3. That the forthcoming big four conference in Berlin lead to a conference of the five great powers . . . to promote the settlement of pressing international problems." The fifth power would be Red China.

NEGOTIATIONS DENIED The broadcast, billed as a statement on Korean issues by Chou, did not touch on North Korea's denial a few hours earlier of an official U. S. announcement that it is negotiating informally to reopen the stalled preliminary talks.

Much of Chou's long statement repeated blasts that the United States had wrecked the explanation program and was to blame for the break-off in the preliminary talks.

Chou declared: "We deem that what is called for is not to definitely terminate the explanations and reopen the question of the despatch of the POW's."

Chou contended that the Communist command is entitled to 30 days more of explanations to two war prisoners teams talked with the anti-Communist captives only 10 days of the expired 30-day period.

He insisted that non-repatriated prisoners cannot be released at midnight Jan. 2—as demanded—by the U. S. command—but instead must be held until a peace conference decides their fate.

Biting Year

LUENBURG, Germany (AP)—The cows, horses, dogs, foxes and badgers that live in the Luenburg area are a unique record for 1953. They bit 85 persons. Town officials chalked up the total today.

Deliver us, O Lord, from spirit ual siege and from hidden sins. Give us humble hearts and pure. As we see ourselves in the light of God, may we see Christ, the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit, and the Church, as we see the Father in the Father, the Son in the Son, the Holy Spirit in the Holy Spirit, and the Church in the Church.

Soldier's Suicide Attempt Thwarted

A man identified by police as Pvt. Harry Lee, AWOL soldier from Ft. Ord, Calif., stands, (left) on the brink of a sheer 400-foot drop to the street below at Los Angeles, threatening suicide. Moments later (center) a policeman, V. J. Armstrong, who climbed a fire escape below Lee, hauled him off the parapet atop the apartment building to safety. Firemen held a net on the street during a drama-packed half hour while Lee's wife, Audrey, pleaded with him. She is in the foreground of the center picture holding their baby. Police said the wife lives in the apartment building. At right, she comforts him after the rescue. She said he had been drinking heavily and talked constantly of his fear of being captured and put in prison. (AP Wirephotos)
