In Charleston a couple of bagging plants employing 400 and 45 persons were shut down.

Who's In In Japan
The check of those Japs! How they manage to keep a straight face and their unabashedly committing the most outrageous audacities, is beyond an Occidental's comprehension.

The Reasonable Doubt
In the AP report on the Supreme Court findings yesterday occurred the following passage:
Ted Terrell, of Warren County, lost his appeal, and must serve 25 to 30 years in prison.

Not His Game
The Washington Merry-Go-Round, which by and large doesn't particularly care for career diplomats neglected to mention in its editorial yesterday that Joseph P. Kennedy, Ambassador to the Court of St. James kept telegraphing the State Department during the Czechoslovakian crisis that Britain meant business.

Preaching And Practice
Senator Guffey says he didn't authorize his signature to that letter soliciting Democratic campaign contributions which went out to 270,000 WPA workers in Pennsylvania and the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee says it can't find any evidence that he authorized it.

Happy Family
(Louis Graves, Chapel Hill Weekly)
Dr. B. B. Lloyd was telling me one day this week of having gone for the seventeenth time to attend the birth of a child in the home of Sandy and Luna Patterson, a Negro couple who live on a farm out near Manns Chapel in Clatsop County.

of Mr. Kennedy's old Wall Street opponents, or even an old-fashioned Mississippi River gambler look like the Ritz brothers playing Nervous Nellie. But Mr. Bullitt has been around the State Department since 1917, and most of those years he has spent in Europe leaving to read the memoirs of these diplomatic horse-traders. And so the able and hard-headed Mr. Kennedy was taken in, and the able and hard-headed Mr. Bullitt was.

CAPITAL HAS THE JITTERS
By Hugh S. Johnson
WASHINGTON—Here, paraphrased in a few words, is the argument of the Third New Deal. "Our wealth and income are concentrated in a few hands. We propose to take it away and redistribute it. As long as so many are hungry and out of work, the spectacle of so few rich creates an urge among the masses to destroy democracy."

After You, Alphonse!
MR DEANE I'm elected.
MR BURGIN I want so I want a recount.
ORIGINAL DAVIDSON ELECTION BOARD: On recount, Mr. Burgin wins.
MR DEANE I want so I want a recount by the State Board.
STATE BOARD: By our count Mr. Deane wins.

MEMBERS BURGIN AND DEANE
We'll get the Supreme Court to decide it.
SUPREME COURT: We've laid down the law. Let Judge Harris decide it.
JUDGE HARRIS: Well, now, and well.

FACT
You generally think of "facts" as bits of information, useful or otherwise, that fill up the blanks in what you say. But if you consider a "fact" in its historical light, it should be something concrete or tangible, for its mere "fact" does not make it a "fact" until it is made a thing which stood firm and from this came our "fact".

Hi School Girl Urges Place For Dancers
Says Young People Of City Have No Decent Spot In Which To Indulge Their Fondness For This Amusement
Dear Sir: They call Charlotte the textile center of the South. The Chamber of Commerce bills it as the "Retail Progressive City in the Piedmont." District Chamber has a stately population, modern and expensive public buildings, an over-abundance of churches, beautiful residential districts, a noted airport, a monumental stadium, an armory, a Little Theater, one of the South's leading high schools, and countless other outstanding features.

ARMING HAS ITS PERILS
By HEYWOOD BROUN
Some American newspaper men were being taken on a trip along the British front in 1917. The Englishman who was our mentor passed as we were about to enter a village back of the line and said: "We are now coming into a sector held by the Australians. I hope you gentlemen will attach no significance to the fact that nobody is going to salute me. They don't even salute their own officers." And later of course, we all heard the familiar story of the Australian major-general who pleaded with his men: "Don't any of you look back at me! Bill! when the commander comes by, or have a wreck or park somewhere and neck. Are they to be blamed? They want wholesome entertainment, but where are they to get it?"

DISM AND AMERICANISM
The papers this morning there was a dispatch from Washington the wording of which would have startled Grover Cleveland, although most people probably read it no great attention today. It began:
Governmental agencies tonight were bluntly accused of remaining inactive while Communistic and Fascist forces, made gains in American political parties, the labor movement and Federal functions.

RED BADGE OF COURAGE
New York World-Telegram
If you are on trial, declared Magistrate Jeannette G. Brill to a woman defendant in her court, you ought not to have on lipstick and fingernail polish. You should spend that ten cents on your children." And then as a parting blast: "No suffering woman looks like you!"
