

Flaming Wreckage Prevents Rescue

CRASHING BOMBER KILLS 24 AIRMEN

SCOTT (News Staff Photo by Tom Franklin—Franklin) as Mr. Scott's secretary when he was governor of the state.

Subpoenas Are Prepared For Witnesses

WASHINGTON (R-Uph) — Sen. Watkins (R-Uph) said today witnesses are being subpoenaed for the start Tuesday of public hearings in a new Senate investigation of the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Watkins, chairman of a special subcommittee that will look into the conduct of McCarthy, said today witnesses are being subpoenaed for the start Tuesday of public hearings in a new Senate investigation of the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The bipartisan Watkins committee will start its inquiry shortly before another group — the Senate investigations subcommittee — publishes Republican majority and Democratic minority reports on 36 days of hearings into the McCarthy-Army controversy.

The McCarthy-Army "verdict" is scheduled to be made public Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

The four Republican members have filed a 3,500-word report with J. Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate, to be kept under seal until 5 p. m., EDT, deadline Monday.

Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, the senior of the subcommittee's three Democratic members, said the minority report will not be completed until a few hours before the Monday deadline. He declined to discuss reports that it is taking a form sharply different from the Republicans' findings. But he told newsmen, "Our report may cover some aspects that are absent from the majority report."

The Democrats' report may run as long as 6,000 words.

McClellan mentioned "an outside chance" that Democratic members may file individual statements findings on one or two points in addition to their joint statement.

The Senate created the Watkins committee to explore this resolution and 45 partially overlapping accusations which Flanders and Sens. Moore (Ind-Ore) and Fullbright (D-Ark) submitted to support it.

Scott Ready For Coming Campaign

By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer
Former Governor W. Kerr Scott breakfasts with John McDowell, his Mecklenburg campaign chief, and John Marshall, who served as Mr. Scott's secretary when he was governor of the state.

John Marshall, Mr. Scott's secretary during his governorship and presently vice president of J. A. Jones Construction Co., was Mr. Scott's host at a breakfast in the Selwyn Hotel and the gentleman also faced reporters.

Here was a man not too worried about Mr. Paul West, a North Carolina Republican opponent. He was a politician who has been busy "keeping from working and doing a little work."

However, Mr. Scott was not without political plans. There'll be a leisurely campaign of "getting around" in the fall and there'll be some help for Tenth District Congressional Candidate Judge J. C. Sedberry if the State committee wants it.

And there was a hint of the kind of Senator the state may have in Washington. There'll be strong support of party, a desire to see a continuation of certain acreage controls and a thorough back-ground on farm issues.

Mr. Scott said that he "was too busy in the spring" to pay much attention to the work of the 83rd Congress.

He was for the campaign, Mr. Scott admitted that the vote in his race was close.

He was for the campaign, Mr. Scott admitted that the vote in his race was close.

He was for the campaign, Mr. Scott admitted that the vote in his race was close.

French Begin Debate Over EDC Treaty

PARIS (U-P) — The French National Assembly today started its discussion on ratification of the European Defense Community (EDC) treaty after 27 months of delay since the treaty was signed.

A spirit of high expectancy of five developments greeted the Assembly. Whether the debate would finally lead to a scheduled vote next week remained a question.

A movement was afoot to force another short postponement to permit further negotiations on last minute treaty changes with the other five prospective members.

Negotiations between aides of Premier Pierre Mendes — France and supporters of the EDC were in progress to find some sort of compromise to force the postponement.

Mendes-France was not on the government bench as the treaty was called up. The negotiations seemed to have slowed considerably.

The Communist East was represented in the visitors' gallery by Polish Ambassador Stanislas Gajowski. Also in the gallery was the British Ambassador to France, Sir Gladwyn Jebb.

Mendes-France tried his hand at the treaty. He said the treaty was a "good one" and that he would support it.

The other five nations had three main objections to Mendes-France's proposals: They wanted more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty.

They wanted more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty.

They wanted more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty.

They wanted more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty.

They wanted more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty, more say in the treaty.

Like nets trout from Colorado stream. (AP Wirephoto)

President Takes Trout Limit

DENVER (U-P) — President Eisenhower seems to be a good case in point for folks who contend there is no place like a trout stream for peace of mind and complete relaxation.

The President spent most of yesterday fishing a Rocky Mountain stream at Pine, Colo., 40 miles southwest of here, and the fact his luck was good may have had a lot to do with it.

But then again, to those who watched him it appeared he probably would have been almost as contented to roam the stream without the luck he had in landing rainbow, brown and so-called native trout.

It was during the afternoon when his earlier luck had somewhat deserted him that Eisenhower seemed to be more completely at ease than at any other time.

The other members of his party had wandered off to fish other areas of a South Platte River fork at Pine. Eisenhower was casting by himself and had no one to strike over a half hour period.

On a public holiday overlooking the stream a crowd of tourists, residents of the area and newsmen had gathered to watch.

The binoculars were passed around and all agreed, "Why, he looks as though he hadn't have a care in the world."

B36 Strikes Hill Just Off Home Runway

RAPID CITY, S.D. (U-P) — A huge B36 bomber carried at least 24 crewmen to death last night when it crashed and burned during landing attempt at Ellsworth Air Force Base near here.

The public information office said three other crewmen aboard the plane were in "very critical" condition at the base hospital.

The blazing ship set several brush and grass fires these were brought under control.

The plane was one of the nation's largest, propeller driven bombers. It took off from the base yesterday on a routine training flight.

Officers said the plane apparently struck a small hill as it approached the lengthy runway and was burst apart and fired within seconds. It came down about a mile and a half from the base on the ranch of Alfred Swallow located about 13 miles west of this southwestern South Dakota city of 25,000.

Swallow and his son, Harold, said they were about to retire when they saw a "concession which shook the ground." They saw flames light up the sky immediately and drove to the scene.

They said pieces of the ship were scattered over a wide area. Swallow also said there were a number of explosions, apparently of fuel tanks and ammunition.

The plane had been on a routine training flight out of the Ellsworth Base, which is 13 miles west of Rapid City.

As he spoke, Legionnaires and their families were pouring into the capital for their 30th annual convention opening Monday.

The Navy leader said it is significant to note that 15 Russian cruisers and a destroyer "were not to be launched off" — have moved from the Bering Sea into the Baltic.

He said the Soviets have learned their lesson and realized that any preeminence they aspire to will have to be backed up at sea.

The Russians have three quarters of a million people in their Navy establishment and have underway an effective building plan "greater than our own at the moment," he said.

MAN GOT HIS MEDICINE— IN BIG DOSE

ST. LOUIS (U-P) — A 65-year-old pharmacist gave a robber the medicine he asked for but hit him in the face with it in breaking up a hold-up attempt last night.

Frank Steiner, the pharmacist, was in a drug store here when the bandit entered and asked for some cough medicine.

"What kind?" asked Steiner. The young bandit replied by pointing a pistol at Steiner and declaring: "This is a hold-up."

Steiner seized a bottle of medicine and threw it in the bandit's face. The man, his face bleeding, turned and fled.

Army Captain Found Killed

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (U-P) — The body of a man, tentatively identified as an Army captain from Ft. Bragg, was found near here today.

The body was found in high weeds just off the Fayetteville-Lumberton highway about three miles south of Fayetteville.

A rusty 45 caliber Army type pistol and two empty .45 cartridges were nearby.

Coroner Joe W. Pinkston said the man had been dead at least two days. He added there were signs of a struggle and he did not believe it was suicide.

He said the man was a "strong" man and he had a "strong" character. The sheriff added there was a man's wallet was missing and there was only two cents on it.

Spectators Cheer Eisenhower

DENVER (U-P) — President Eisenhower seems to be a good case in point for folks who contend there is no place like a trout stream for peace of mind and complete relaxation.

The President spent most of yesterday fishing a Rocky Mountain stream at Pine, Colo., 40 miles southwest of here, and the fact his luck was good may have had a lot to do with it.

But then again, to those who watched him it appeared he probably would have been almost as contented to roam the stream without the luck he had in landing rainbow, brown and so-called native trout.

It was during the afternoon when his earlier luck had somewhat deserted him that Eisenhower seemed to be more completely at ease than at any other time.

The other members of his party had wandered off to fish other areas of a South Platte River fork at Pine. Eisenhower was casting by himself and had no one to strike over a half hour period.

On a public holiday overlooking the stream a crowd of tourists, residents of the area and newsmen had gathered to watch.

The binoculars were passed around and all agreed, "Why, he looks as though he hadn't have a care in the world."

He said the Soviets have learned their lesson and realized that any preeminence they aspire to will have to be backed up at sea.

Russian Naval Progress Told

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, said today that Soviet Russia's developing strength at sea is a "greatest threat" to the United States.

Carney, addressing the National Security Commission of the American Legion, said the emergence of Russia as "another power on the seas, and one unfriendly to us," is a "greatest threat" to the United States.

As he spoke, Legionnaires and their families were pouring into the capital for their 30th annual convention opening Monday.

The Navy leader said it is significant to note that 15 Russian cruisers and a destroyer "were not to be launched off" — have moved from the Bering Sea into the Baltic.

He said the Soviets have learned their lesson and realized that any preeminence they aspire to will have to be backed up at sea.

The Russians have three quarters of a million people in their Navy establishment and have underway an effective building plan "greater than our own at the moment," he said.

WHAT'S INSIDE

A CHARLOTTEAN WHO HAS just left Guatemala reports his impressions of that country today's editorial turn to S.A.

Business — 10B
Classified — 70B
Comics — 6B
Crossword — 2B
Editorials — 6A
Features — 2B

Obituaries — 3B
Radio & TV — 3B
Sports — 45B
Theaters — 10-12A
Women — 45A

Business — 10B
Classified — 70B
Comics — 6B
Crossword — 2B
Editorials — 6A
Features — 2B

Obituaries — 3B
Radio & TV — 3B
Sports — 45B
Theaters — 10-12A
Women — 45A

Appearance From 90,000 Feet

DAYTON, Ohio (U-P) — Trees turn olive drab and dry grass looks like straw from 17 miles up, says the man who flew higher in the sky than any other human.

And the earth really looks round up there, observes Maj. Arthur Murray, the 35-year-old Pennsylvania man who started his military career on a horse and recently broke the world's altitude record.

Colors on earth "seemed to start changing," his roundness became clearly and the sun was "so much brighter it was almost blinding," he told a press conference yesterday.

Flier Says Earth Round, All Right

DAYTON, Ohio (U-P) — Trees turn olive drab and dry grass looks like straw from 17 miles up, says the man who flew higher in the sky than any other human.

And the earth really looks round up there, observes Maj. Arthur Murray, the 35-year-old Pennsylvania man who started his military career on a horse and recently broke the world's altitude record.

Colors on earth "seemed to start changing," his roundness became clearly and the sun was "so much brighter it was almost blinding," he told a press conference yesterday.

Prison Terms For Murder

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (U-P) — Two teen-agers, described in court as "dirty-minded little girls," were convicted of murder today for beating the mother of one girl to death with a brick. They were sentenced to indefinite prison terms.

The pair are Pamela Yvonne Parker, 16, and Juliet Marjorie Hulme, 15.

They are under 18, their crime is not punishable by death. They were ordered "detained at Her Majesty's pleasure." Such a blanket sentence is often used in British courts in cases involving adolescents, where there is a chance conditions may change later and a review would be warranted.

A 12-year jury found them guilty after deliberating 30 minutes. The verdict came at the end of a six-day Supreme Court trial in Christchurch.

OUR WEATHER

Considerable cloudiness with showers and thundershowers today, tonight and tomorrow.
High temperature yesterday — 101 degrees.
High temperature expected today — 96 degrees.
High temperature expected tomorrow — 95 degrees.
Low temperature this morning — 68 degrees.
Low temperature expected tonight — 70 degrees.
Sunrise — 5:32 a.m.; sunset — 6:56 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 9A