

30 Killed In Fiery Azores Plane Crash

Three Americans Possible Victims

TERCEIRA ISLAND, Azores.—(AP)—A Colombian Constellation crashed and burned here early today, killing all 21 passengers and its crew of 9. The bodies burned to ashes.

At Madrid, Barajas Airport spokesmen listed 16 American among the crew members. He was identified as Herbert Hopkins, an engineer. No home address was given.

The Colombian Avianca airline said two of the passengers, Franklin Prager and Gertrude Prager, were believed to be Americans. Its list indicated Franklin Prager lived in New York. The two were en route from Paris to Barranquilla. There were two infants among the passengers, mostly Latin Americans and Spaniards.

The Colombian Avianca Airline plane was en route from Hamburg to Bogota, the Colombia capital.

The plane was unable to make its scheduled landing at the Azores' main international airport at Santa Maria because of thick fog. It made its way here and landed at Terceira's Lages air field.

The plane took off again at 1:37 a.m. (10:37 p.m. EST, Sunday) for Bermuda. A minute or two later it crashed in the Caldeira da Aguia hills about two and a half miles north of the airfield and burst into flames.

Apparently failing to gain sufficient altitude, it had struck Mt. Ilha Terceira about 100 feet from the summit.

Rescue parties rushed to the scene but found the craft destroyed and all persons aboard dead. The remains were taken to a local chapel for a funeral mass.

Barajas officials identified the first pilot as Octavio Zuloaga and the co-pilot as Carlos Bricke, both of Colombia. Most of the crew members and passengers were Spaniards or Colombians.

The airliner left Hamburg yesterday morning. It stopped at Frankfurt, Paris and Lisbon.

Several Counts Against Senator To Be Dropped

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators shifting charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today indicated they will drop some counts and draft rules to keep their hearings from going far afield.

Both Senators Watkins (R-Utah) and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) chairman and vice chairman of the six-man committee picked to hear charges against McCarthy, told a newsmen it is obvious some of the 46 specific allegations will have to be tossed out.

Which neither would specify which ones he had in mind, a third committee member singled out an accusation that McCarthy had not given assistance in doubling the value for a $10,000 fee paid him by Lustron Corp. for writing a housing pamphlet. The senator declined use of his name but said he would vote against it.

The charge was filed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) who with Senators Flanders (R-Vt.) and Morse (Ind.) detailed the 46 counts against McCarthy. The charges, a number of which overlap, range from allegations of improper treatment of committee witnesses to unlawfully obtaining government secrets.

FIRM HAND
A move to keep a firm hand when hearings get under way was promised by a Democratic member of the bipartisan special committee as it gathered for a closed session today.

The senator, who asked that he not be named, said he will propose a rule of relevancy for testimony designed to curb any "bullet-dodge tactics" that may develop. He said he favors public hearings with television and radio coverage barred—in which the chairman will have the right to cut off any witness when he attempts to go beyond the scope of the charges as defined by the committee.

The committee has already ruled out radio-TV coverage, with members saying they wanted to avoid a "quandary about" atmosphere. The committee may start sending today the charges it will consider.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) gave his views on the Lustron fee charge in a weekend radio address. He said that if any moral wrong were involved, the people of Wisconsin already had absolved McCarthy of blame by re-electing him in 1952.

BELIEF
Ellender, who is not a member of the committee, said further in an interview that he does not believe the Senate will be willing to censure McCarthy for having made what Fulbright and Flanders called an "unwarranted attack" on Gen. George C. Marshall in a June 14, 1953 Senate speech.

"I abhor it and I would not have done it," Ellender said. "I have for his release most of the time always had a great respect for Gen. Marshall. But McCarthy was exercising a constitutional privilege to criticize a former official of our government. It is no worse than anything that has been said in the Senate about presidents and others in the past."

LOOK, MA, NO TOWER! This is a view of the new coliseum dome taken by a photographer has been removed so that now the dome is supporting itself. Arrow points to man working high on the catwalk.

For Use Against Reds

Rhee Asks Atomic Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Syngman Rhee says South Korea is "crying" for atomic weapons to help it fight the Communists from the United States to help it drive the Communists from the northern half of Korea.

In a copyrighted interview with the magazine U.S. News and World Report published today, Rhee also declared that Britain and France during the 79-year-old South Korean patriot's recent visit to Washington, this exchange occurred:

Q: "Would the atomic bombs be used in such a war against the Reds in North Korea?"
Rhee: "I told you people: You'll never dare use the atomic bombs if you have them piled up like a mountain."
Q: "Why?"
Rhee: "We are crying for it."
Q: "You mean for artillery?"
Rhee: "If we had bombs they would be useful."
Elaborating on his assertion that Britain and France are not anti-Communist nations, Rhee said: "I think they are afraid of the Soviet and also, a sufficient number of British subjects have already joined communism. Those people like Winston Churchill must get the votes to stand against communism. If they don't, there won't be anything there."
"So many French people are already on the Communist side," Rhee said. "Gen. Charles de Gaulle alone was considered really Anti-Communist."
Rhee said, without giving dates, that South Korea had planned to move against the Communists in the north since the armistice was signed a little more than a year ago, "but when we were ready to move up, we found our gasoline drums were all locked up."
Rhee said, without giving dates, that South Korea had planned to move against the Communists in the north since the armistice was signed a little more than a year ago, "but when we were ready to move up, we found our gasoline drums were all locked up."
Rhee said, without giving dates, that South Korea had planned to move against the Communists in the north since the armistice was signed a little more than a year ago, "but when we were ready to move up, we found our gasoline drums were all locked up."

FLO CHADWICK FAILS IN 18 1-2 MILE SWIM

VICTORIA, B. C.—(AP)—Florence Chadwick failed in her attempt to swim the strait of Juan de Fuca today and was taken from the water, chilled and slightly ill, after approximately five hours of swimming.

Battling extremely difficult riptides and currents, Miss Chadwick had been able to swim only seven miles toward her goal of Port Angeles on the American side.

She was offered $7,500 by a paint company and the Victoria Times to make the attempt. The ante was to be boosted to $10,000 if she succeeded.

Emilie Dionne Buried Near Quints' Birth Site

CALLANDER, Ont. (AP)—Emilie Dionne was laid to rest today in a little burial ground not far from the frame home where she and her quintuplet sisters were born 20 years ago.

She went to the grave in a party dress of light blue crepe, a white rosary in her hands.

Hundreds watched as the grey metal casket was lowered into the earth of the small Roman Catholic cemetery at Corbett.

The surviving quintuplets—Yvonne, Annette, Cecile and Marie—stood before the church. Practically every resident of the area was there—so were many Americans who had driven to the spot since the news of Emilie's death Friday was flashed across the continent.

FAMILY WIPED OUT
CORBETT (AP)—A 36-year-old man went berserk yesterday, and strangled his wife, hacked his four children to death with a knife, set fire to his house and perished in the blaze, police reported today.

ESTABLISHED DEC. 8, 1888.

Hoyt Shepherd, Gambling Kingpin, Outside Grand Jury Room. (AP Wirephoto)

Phenix City Crime Probe Is Opened By Grand Jury

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Solemn members of a hand-picked grand jury met in secret session here today to discover if possible who killed A. L. Patterson and to root out the fantastic factors that led to his death.

After Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery respects the emergency grand jury session the 18 jurors will retire with special Solicitor George C. Johnson Jr. to consider indictments.

Some 25 witnesses have been served with almost 3,000 subpoenas to give evidence which might help Ruidell County of a criminal colony that has grown time and again it will stop at nothing.

Patterson's murder last June 18 touched off an explosion of outrage that the gamblers and vice lords didn't anticipate. This Patterson, who was gunned down in an alley a few days after receiving the Democratic nomination for attorney general, may yet accomplish in death what he had sworn to do had he lived to take office.

The Phenix City attorney pledged in his campaign to clean up the notorious colony.

There is no telling how long the jury may be in session. State investigators have dug up masses of evidence suggesting payoffs and neglect of duty by public officials as well as plentiful indications of wrongdoings by known vice kings.

However, it is the opinion of some court sources that the grand jury will make a partial report within the next 10 days and return indictments against many caught rehanding in the crackdown.

Early indictments may also be brought soon in the murder case. That theory was given a boost last week when acting Atty. Gen.

Vito Marcantonio Drops Dead On Street In N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Rep. Vito Marcantonio, left-wing New Yorker, fell dead on a rain-swept street today.

The diminutive, 51-year-old former legislator was in the middle of a comeback effort. Defeated in 1950 by a Republican-Democratic liberal coalition, he was running again for Congress as candidate of the independent "Good Neighbor Party."

Marcantonio represented an East Harlem district for 14 years. For many years until last November he headed the American Labor party, which sponsored Henry Wallace's presidential campaign in 1948.

Marcantonio collapsed at 10:30 a.m. at Broadway and Warren St. near City Hall Park in lower Manhattan. A driving summer rain was soaking the city.

It was more than an hour before police issued even a tentative identification of the man who had become a thorn in the side of New York's regular party politicians for years.

Police said he had been walking LaGuardia's old Harlem district alone, a briefcase with the initials "V.M." in his hand. He was not far from his office on Park Place.

An ambulance doctor said death was due to a heart ailment. Marcantonio was born Dec. 10, 1902, in New York City, the son of an Italian immigrant carpenter.

He was a product of the city's public schools and a graduate of the law department of New York University in 1925.

At 18, he organized and led a Harlem tenants' strike, and did so well that the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, then seeking a seat in Congress, enlisted the young man's help.

Marcantonio's first position as a lawyer was at LaGuardia's office. Later he became LaGuardia's secretary.

In 1930 and 1931 Marcantonio was an assistant U.S. attorney. In 1934, the man who later was to become almost a symbol of left-wing politics, won his first congressional term—as a Republican.

He won by 247 votes to represent LaGuardia's old Harlem district in 1934 and Roger has battled in the state and federal courts for his release most of the time always had a great respect for Gen. Marshall. But McCarthy was exercising a constitutional privilege to criticize a former official of our government. It is no worse than anything that has been said in the Senate about presidents and others in the past."

WHAT'S INSIDE
A SHADY FIFTH COLUMN is at work behind the scenes in Christian Dior's campaign to give American women the "flat look," says Charles Collingwood. Read about this new wave of nerves in the world of fashion on today's editorial page. Turn to Page 4A.

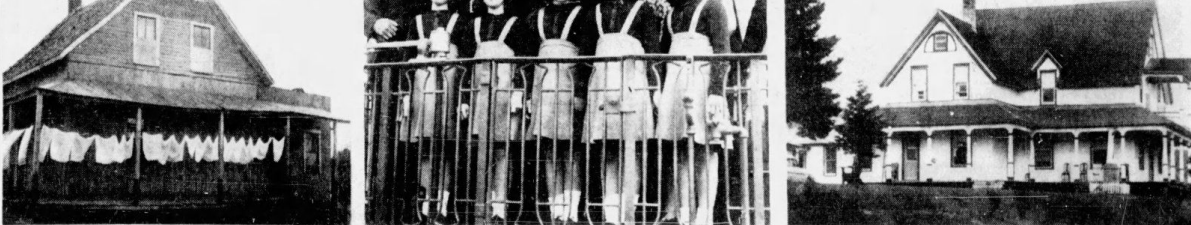

A BOOM IN STOCKS looks significant to Lou Schneider, who writes the popular Trade Winds column on Page 11A.

Business 11A
Classified 6-9A
Crossword 10A
Editorials 4A
Features 2B
Obituaries 6B
Radio & TV 3-5B
Serials 9A
Sports 6-7B
Theaters 9A
Women 5-7A

OUR WEATHER

Considerable cloudiness today and tonight with scattered thundershowers. Tuesday, partly cloudy and warm.
High temperature yesterday—85 degrees.
High temperature expected today—90 degrees.
High temperature expected tomorrow—88 degrees.
Low temperature this morning—74 degrees.
Low temperature expected tonight—68 degrees.
Sunrise—5:38 a.m.; sunset 7:18 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A.

Frame Farmhouse Where The Dionne Quintuplets Were Born... Dionnes As They Were Pictured In 1943 At The Age Of Nine... And The Hostel Where Emilie Died Friday. (AP Wirephoto)