

Defense Rests In Schruink Perjury Trial

Attorneys Protest Kennedy Testimony

PORTLAND (AP)—The attorneys for Mayor Terry Schruink rested their defense in his perjury trial Thursday after seeking unsuccessfully for an order of mistrial because of the testimony and actions of "this brash young man" Robert Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee.

Kennedy was a state rebuttal witness Wednesday, called out of turn so he could return to Washington.

"This brash young man," said Thomas T. Venn, one of Schruink's attorneys, "had the effrontery to reach out on the witness chair and shake the judge's hand. This was highly improper and prejudicial."

SURPRISE WITNESS—Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the Senate Labor Rackets committee, was a surprise witness at the perjury trial of Portland Mayor Terry Schruink Wednesday. Kennedy said he decided to bring the accusations against Schruink out in the open at the Washington, D.C., hearings on the Portland vice situation.

Venn Confirms Hints Of Senate Probe Here

Lane County Dist. Atty. Eugene Venn confirmed hints Thursday that the Senate Rackets Committee might be interested in investigation of alleged jury tampering here last year.

Venn, in reply to questioning, said that he has been corresponding with Robert Kennedy, the committee's legal counsel, since March this year.

The district attorney made this disclosure only after Kennedy was questioned in Portland Wednesday. Kennedy declined comment. He said the Lane County matter hadn't been discussed by the full committee.

Following his appearance as a witness, Kennedy was questioned at a press conference, according to the Associated Press. A reporter asked him if Venn had requested a committee probe of the Lane County matter. Kennedy said he was not sure.

The allegations of jury tampering in Lane County were made by Venn last summer. He charged that there were admissions of jury tampering, including the insertion of names of labor leaders on the regular jury list.

A county grand jury failed to report on the jury tampering allegations following an investigation. Venn sought another probe but was blocked through a court order.

In commenting on the possibility of a Senate committee probe of the local matter, Venn said that his last communication with Kennedy was on May 25. But he said one of the committee's investigating officers had been in touch with him since then.

Venn said his information regarding the alleged jury matter has been forwarded to the committee "pursuant to a request."

Demos Back Hard Money Policy of GOP

Committee Warns Against Inflation

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic critics of the administration's hard money policies were left out on a limb Thursday by a Democratic-dominated committee's warning against relaxation of present fiscal and monetary restraints.

A Senate-Economic subcommittee's report declared in a formal report Wednesday that inflation poses "a grave economic problem which does not warrant relaxing of tax burdens or credit curbs until government spending is "substantially" reduced.

The report ran counter to contentions of Senate Finance Committee Democrats that the Eisenhower administration's tight money policies and higher interest rates are hurting the economy and hobbling business. They have sought to buttress those contentions in questioning Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey at a committee hearing into money policies.

The subcommittee, ruling out a general tax reduction before the middle of next year, called on Congress and the administration to "face up squarely to the problem of inflation."

"Failure to deal with it forthrightly will result in increasing hardships for millions of Americans," the subcommittee said.

The report followed by a few hours a new declaration by President Eisenhower that there is real danger of inflation if industry and labor fail to curb their demands for price and wage increases.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that unless both sides show statesmanship in the period ahead, inflation constitutes a real threat to the economy of the nation.

Republicans on the Senate Finance Committee welcomed the subcommittee report as backing the administration's effort against inflation.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) told a reporter that the subcommittee headed by Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) appeared to have conducted its hearings "in an absence of politics."

Humphrey testified Wednesday he saw no reason to think interest rates will go indefinitely.

There also were warnings on the Senate floor about hasty, excited and abusive criticism of the court, in line with President Eisenhower's news conference opinion Wednesday that "we should respect its duties and its responsibilities."

High Court Decisions Draw Senatorial Ire In California

Hefner to Go To VA Center

By DOUGLAS H. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee embarked Thursday on an exploration of what can or should be done about the controversial Supreme Court decisions which are drawing an increasingly explosive congressional and public reaction.

Members of Congress are tossing in bills to counteract the various Supreme Court rulings of which they are critical.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss.) said the Senate Judiciary Committee staff has been put to work studying them "to see what we can do." At this point, he said in an interview, he is unwilling to predict the outcome.

One Judiciary subcommittee is getting a quick start, Friday on hearings in an inquiry into "relevant" material the information from FBI files the government must supply defendants in criminal cases. Atty. Gen. Brownell will testify.

Another subcommittee, on internal security, met a challenge Saturday on two June 17 Supreme Court rulings by making a third stab Thursday at grilling two witnesses in an inquiry into raising an attempt to pay off the mortgage on Hefner's home. An estimated 3,400 persons attended the "Appreciation Night" to watch an exhibition ball game between the Eugene Emeralds and the Portland Beavers.

Dave Hefner, the sheriff's deputy who was paralyzed by a bullet in a River Road shooting four months ago, will soon be going to a Veterans' Administration Rehabilitation Center at Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Hefner said Thursday they have been notified that an application on behalf of her husband had been accepted as of July 1, and Dave will be leaving "anytime they can arrange transportation."

The center specializes in occupational and physical therapy for paraplegics — persons paralyzed from the waist down.

"Dave has been quite anxious to go," Mrs. Hefner said, adding that he was greatly pleased when his application was accepted. Hefner has been in Sacred Heart Hospital since Feb. 22 when his spinal cord was severed at the base of the neck by a bullet fired by Albert Lewis Washburn, who also killed a state policeman.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Hefner said she was "wonderfully thrilled" by the "Appreciation Night" which was held Monday at Bethel Park, as some 20 Eugene service clubs joined together in a fund-raising attempt to pay off the mortgage on Hefner's home. An estimated 3,400 persons attended the "Appreciation Night" to watch an exhibition ball game between the Eugene Emeralds and the Portland Beavers.

Dave Hefner and his five children plan to visit her parents in Washington after Dave leaves for the rehabilitation center, and then go to Long Beach to stay for an indefinite time.

Trautman and Testa are members of the American War Relocation Assn., which the subcommittee has said is a Communist-linked group.

Huge Auger Frees Five Miners Trapped by Cave-In

STEUDEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—In a small chamber 300 feet back from the mine entrance, five miners, trapped for more than 14 hours by a cave-in, scrambled to safety Wednesday night through a hole which a huge mechanical auger had bored 220 feet into a hillside.

When the 42-inch auger was pulled from the hole, the miners huddled by one. They blinked at the floodlights which lit the desolate strip mine pit.

A great cheer rose from about a thousand persons as the rescuers rushed to their families, who had waited all day Wednesday in the hot sun and far into the night.

Doctors examined the men quickly at a shack nearby and said they were not harmed by their ordeal.

Trapped were: Fred Sabol, 33, Harrisville; Hank Horvath, 35, Glenn Robbins; Martin Kovalski, 40, and Joseph Supinski, 47, both of Mount Pleasant; and Kenny Hamilton, 38, Adams.

Wind Blasts Hit 100 m.p.h.; Eight Dead

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Hurricane Audrey, a killer which took at least eight lives, smashed into the Texas-Louisiana border area Thursday with winds at some places up to 105 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau here said the hurricane first hit Cameron, La., with winds of only 65 miles per hour.

The 105 mile winds were clocked at the New Orleans area. There, all land-line communications were cut. Orange, Tex., had winds of 100 m.p.h.

Seven of the eight deaths occurred when the fishing vessel Keturam sank. The Warren Fish Co. of Pensacola, Fla., revised the figure down from an earlier report of nine aboard, and said its records showed only seven aboard.

Another man drowned in a strong undertow.

Thousands evacuated their homes and resort cabins as tides up to nine feet above normal battered the shore.

The hurricane hit Cameron at 8 a.m. An hour later a dead calm was felt at Orange, indicating the eye of the storm was there.

Persons who had taken refuge on Orange beach leaving for their homes when the calm came, and authorities sought to get them back to shelter for the expected how which always follows the hurricane calm.

A 9-foot storm was expected to dissipate as it moved inland.

Damage from winds, high tides and downpours of rain was widespread hours before the hurricane struck.

Great tides, reaching 9 feet, appeared as dangerous as the hurricane winds.

At Galveston, 70 miles southwest and out of the direct path, water splashed over the seawall and almost all downtown streets were flooded.

A number of fishing boats were reported sunk in the Galveston Harbor, but there was no estimate of the number. Low areas around the city were evacuated.
