Death Confronts A Motorist In Memphis

Tragedy comes to motorist C. R. Monroe of Memphis as he sits sobbing on a doorstep. His car had struck and killed last night a boy riding the bicycle in the foreground. Mrs. Roberta Cohen, who was with Monroe, sits at his side. Witnesses told police the boy, James Carroll, 13, made a sudden turn in front of the car.

Senators Peer At Navy Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee looks into the adequacy of the Navy's submarine and missile programs today as it opens the final week of its current phase of hearings.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, and Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn, who is supervising development of the Navy's Polaris missile, were among witnesses called for closed-door testimony.

While Congress members argued variously that more money, more clearly defined authority and more creative thinking are needed to spur United States developments against Russian submarine gains, the weekend brought these developments.

1. Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said Senate Democrats are considering a bill to increase appropriations for long-range jet bombers, both intermediate and medium range ballistic missiles, and missile-launching submarines.

2. Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and McClellan (D-Ark.) prepared a bill to establish a cabinet-level department of science and technology to include the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), National Science Foundation, Bureau of Standards, Patent Office and other agencies. The bill also would authorize $80 million dollars of direct government loans for scientific scholarships and government insurance of another billion dollars of private loans for college and graduate students.

Bombs Tossed Into Tulsa Yard

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A bomb-which police believed was either thrown from a passing car or planted—exploded last night in the front yard of a Negro family which recently moved into a predominantly white neighborhood.

There were no injuries. John Gamble, 44-year-old service station operator in whose yard the bomb exploded, said he did not believe it was racially inspired.

"We've had no trouble with anyone. There haven't been any threats or any trouble," Gamble said. "That's why I can't see this thing out." Gamble termed himself an "active" worker in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

District Fire Chief Don Fuller said neighbors of Gamble told investigators the family had been having trouble with white neighbors since they moved into the house two months ago.

Negro families live next door and across the street, Gamble said, while a Negro neighborhood is about two blocks away.

CALL MADE Tulsa County Deputy Sheriff B. J. Cooper said an unidentified man called about an hour after the blast and said: "There will be more bombings tonight." None was reported. Gamble was at his service station and his wife was at church at the time of the blast. They three children, Peggy, 14, Larry, 12, and Patsy Louise, 10, were at home.

Peggy was taken to a hospital and given a sedative because of her hysterical condition following the blast. A hospital attendant quoted her as saying:

"Someone threw a bomb. I saw him. I wish I were back in Denver. These things don't happen there." Gamble said the family moved from Denver about a year ago.

LEFT A CRATER The blast left a crater about two feet deep about five feet from the Gamble's front porch. It shattered windows in nearby homes and was reported heard and felt 11 blocks away.

Officers said three sticks of unexploded dynamite were found in a can in the front yard, leading them to believe the bomb possibly was planted.

Ike Begins Sixth Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower starts his sixth year in office today—and kicks off a new Republican drive for control of Congress.

The 67-year-old President arranged formal observance of the anniversary this evening at a $100-a-plate GOP dinner in Chicago where he will be guest of honor and make a nationwide television radio political address (NBC) as the party's chief.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower scheduled an afternoon flight aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

In Chicago, the President and the First Lady will stay overnight at the Stockyard Inn near the huge International Amphitheater where tonight's dinner is being held—and where Eisenhower was nominated for a first term in July 1952.

They plan to fly back to Washington tomorrow.

Forty-four Republican dinners for an estimated 40,000 of the GOP faithful are being held tonight in 27 states and the District of Columbia.

Allen Resigns Veterans' Job

RALEIGH (AP)—Thomas W. Allen, who is stepping down Feb. 1 as state ABC board chairman today resigned as veterans service officer. Gov. Hodges had appointed him to the job last month.

Announcement of Allen's resignation was made at a meeting of the State Veterans Commission and it came after heads of several North Carolina veterans organizations had protested the appointment. They contended that Allen did not have the qualifications the veterans service officer post calls for.

At the same time, the Veterans Commission adopted a resolution designed to prevent similar situations from occurring in the future.

Colin McKinnon, Veterans Commission director, told the commission that Allen had called him today to tell him he had decided "after consideration and inquiring around... he feels he is not physically qualified for the job."

At the time he announced Allen's resignation as ABC board chairman, Gov. Hodges announced that the Veterans Commission was appointing Allen as veterans service officer for the commission's sixth district with headquarters in Oxford.

What the average Swede knows of King Erik XIV is largely limited to such details as that he sported a big red double-beard, played the lute, loved wine and women, married the beautiful blonde daughter of a stable hand and that he was insane when he was killed by his brother, King Johan III.

Most historians have believed that King Erik died after eating pea soup spiced with arsenic by his brother, King Johan III.

3rd Report Holds Tag Of 'Urgent'

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the country can lick the recession this year, pay in full the cost of meeting Russia's new challenge and go forward to "real economic growth without inflation."

His economic report, third and last of the annual White House messages to Congress, carried a 42-point program of home-front legislation. Most requests were familiar, but Eisenhower said they are now "urgent."

He pledged that his policies will be shaped to foster the earliest possible business recovery. But he gave no hint that the administration is considering any such strong medicine as tax cuts, public works or deliberate deficits, and avoided even the words "recession" or "depression."

Eisenhower disclosed that the slump began sooner and hit harder than officials had expected. In the past three months national production dropped six billion dollars, or 1½ per cent, he said, from the record rate of 439 billion a year achieved in the previous quarter.

And he underscored this warning, if "unwarranted" wage and price increases emerge from this spring's bargaining, the prospective recovery could be delayed.

"The latest challenge of international communism will require a further increase in the economic claims of national security, which are already heavy," Eisenhower said.

"If we follow suitable private and public policies, this challenge can be met without distorting our economy, or destroying the free-

U. S. MARKETS CALLED KEY TO MORE EXPORTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reporting from U. S. experts in 1957, President Eisenhower said today a further rise depends on opening American markets more to foreign goods.

The President disclosed in his annual economic report to Congress that exports soared last year to a $26,300,000,000 total—$2,900,000,000 higher than the previous record in 1956.

The new export record did not include an estimated $1,800,000,000 worth of weapons.

Eisenhower cited the export figures as a powerful reason why the government should continue to promote two-way trade among free nations.

Evening Prayer Our Father, we Thy children want to thank Thee for all that Thou hast given us, and for all Thy loving care. Help us to do Thy will and always to follow the way Thou wouldst have us to go. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

—INQUEST AFTER 380 YEARS—

Did Pea Soup Finish King?

VASTERAS, Sweden (AP)—Sweden opened the tomb of King Erik XIV today after wondering for 380 years whether he died from pea soup.

Most historians have believed that King Erik died after eating pea soup spiced with arsenic by his brother, King Johan III.

But according to other accounts, the king was smothered by a pillow, led to death by a doctor, or poisoned by some other drug in the late 1570's.

The two-in marble lid of the tomb was removed by workmen with cranes in Vasteras Cathedral in the presence of official witnesses, including a bishop, a cabinet minister, a governor and a mayor.

Indians Display Captured Klan Cross

Indictment Possible

Klan-Indian 'War' Fades Into Words

By JULIAN SCHER

News Staff Writer

MAXTON — The short, unhappy year in Robeson County continued today—but it is a battle of words.

Charges and counter-charges flow in the backwash of Saturday night's Indian-Klan scuffle at Hayes Pond near here.

Sheriff Malcolm McLeod said he will ask a grand jury to indict the Klan leader on charges of inciting to riot, while grand wizard James Cole is vowing his constitutional rights were violated.

McLeod and Police Chief Bob Fisher reportedly warned the Rev. Mr. Cole, a Marion, S. C., resident, not to hold the rally when feeling ran high here last week.

"The Klan never backs down," Cole was quoted as saying.

Early yesterday Cole threatened to bring legal action against McLeod, but later said the Klan would "turn the other cheek."

CLAN OFFENDED "Being Christian is our job and we should turn the other cheek even when offended," he said.

Cole said he asked for police protection but was refused. He said he could not understand why the sheriff was going to do nothing about the Indians who "invaded us, shot us up and stole our equipment."

Sheriff McLeod said, "I'm glad it's over. Feelings had been running high. I'm glad we got out without fatalities."

There were four slight injuries here Saturday night when the shooting was over. One man received a slight buckshot wound in the forehead, another took a shotgun pellet in the eye, an Indian youth received a hand injury and a cameraman was nicked in the ear.

ONE ARREST James Garland Martin, a Reidsville man, was the only arrest. He was pulled from the bushes after the shooting by State Highway Patrolmen and charged with drunkenness. He had a gun in each hand and in his pocket a property lease near Burlington for a February Klan rally.

The Rev. Mr. Cole, a Free Will Baptist preacher, who shuns Cole was scheduled to speak on "Why I Am For Segregation"—incensed over what they believed
