

Events Leading to Grim Discovery Recounted by Bartlett Relatives

Last Tuesday was the last time that Mrs. Barbara VonBusch, 17, saw her mother, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, one of the apparent murder victims at 924 Belmont.

Tuesday (Jan. 21): Mrs. VonBusch said that Mrs. Bartlett told her that she had some film and that she would bring the pictures when they had been developed.

Charles Starkweather and Carol Fugate, the missing young couple, were at the home of Harvey Griggs of 1179 Furnas where Starkweather left his car and the keys.

Mrs. VonBusch said she also heard that the owner of the Bartlett home was turned away by Carol.

Neighbors of the Bartletts said it was generally known in the neighborhood that Bartlett was in the process of buying the Belmont residence from the owner.
