

FORT WORTH, TEXAS - WHERE THE WEST BEGINS

A FORT WORTH-OWNED NEWSPAPER

EIGHTY-THIRD YEAR, NO. 267—PRICE FIVE CENTS

Stevenson 'Shocked' by Roughing Up

(Related Story, Page 4, Sec. 2)
DALLAS, Oct. 25 (AP)—An anti-United Nations demonstrator spat on Adlai Stevenson Thursday night and another struck him on the head with a protest sign after he completed a U. N. Day speech.
As he prepared to depart Friday, Stevenson said, "I've never had a more enthusiastic reception than in Dallas. I regret the violent behavior of a few after a speech on peace, which creates a disturbing and false impression here and abroad, but it was a few."
One of his hosts, Stanley Marcus, said the U. S. ambassador to the United Nations was "somewhat shocked." He said this was the first time in his experience he had anything like this happen.
Dallas police arrested Robert Edward Hatfield, 22, of Irving and accused him of spitting on Stevenson and policeman R. L. Larson.
The charges officers prepared, however, accused Hatfield only of aggravated assault on the officer.
Hatfield said he was a North Texas State University student last year but was not a student in the Denton school now.
Larson's report said Hatfield had to be subdued and handcuffed.
Stevenson appeared to be startled but unhurt when hit by the sign. Police grabbed a woman carrying the placard.
"Don't arrest her — it could have been an accident," Stevenson said. He asked the woman, "What is wrong? Can I help you in any way?"
The woman identified herself to reporters as Mrs. Cora Fredrickson, 47, of Dallas. She snarled at Stevenson, "If you don't know what's wrong, I don't know why. Everybody else does." Stevenson walked away. Mrs. Fredrickson told newsmen she did not intend to strike the ambassador but that someone jostled her arm as she pushed her sign close for Stevenson to read.
The sign said, "Adlai, who elected you?"
Stevenson was heavily guarded as he went to the airport Friday, but there were no demonstrators.
Pickets appeared outside the auditorium before the speaker arrived and some crowded in. They carried placards and American flags.
As Stevenson spoke, he was interrupted by a front row spectator. This individual identified himself as Frank McGeehee of Dallas, an organizer of the ultra

THINK IT OVER

BY H. H. STANISFIER

Some temporary gains may be paid for by permanent losses.

Supreme Court Gets Stay Plea

BY ROBERT HILBURN

Star-Telegram Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Texas' plea for a stay order in the congressional redistricting case was filed with the Supreme Court Friday.
The application, sent to Washington by Texas Attorney General Waggoner C. Carr, sought an immediate hearing.

It was referred to Associate Justice Hugo Black, but Black was not expected to take up the matter until later, possibly Monday or Tuesday.

An aide reported Black was in conference on other cases which would demand his attention until end of the working day Friday.

The Carr application seeks an order staying a ruling of a three-judge federal circuit court requiring the state's 23 congressmen to run at large next year if the Legislature fails to redistrict.

The order will take effect Nov. 1 unless the Supreme Court can be persuaded to intervene, because the urgency of an early hearing.

Complicating the proceedings here was the fact that no opposition documents had yet been received from the respondents in the case.

MACKIN HAD come to stay. He went inside Thursday carrying a few belongings in a brown paper sack. Within the hour, he was wearing white coveralls and had become prisoner No. 175032.

It wasn't what Wednesday, when the Fort Worth criminal lawyer first reported to prison. He filed in the first three blanks on the registration sheet, went inside and was told he could not be accepted here.

Mackin and his attorney, Irv Shelman, returned to Fort Worth for a few hours so Mackin could see relatives and friends once more.

ON THE RETURN trip to Huntsville Thursday, a Star-Telegram reporter accompanied Mackin and Shelman.

Mackin, understandably, was nervous at the trip's outset. He smoked continuously at first — one, two, three, then four cigarettes.

Then, as he guided the car down the highway through blackland farm country, through Waxahachie and Corsicana, he seemed to relax somewhat.

And he talked.
He talked about football, about how he hopes the Texas Longhorns will remain on top of the heap in gridiron wars.

He talked about smoking and how he planned to try to quit the 20-year habit while in prison.

He talked about attorneys and judges and trials and about books which center around these subjects. He recommended to the reporter two books — "Voice of Court" and "Twilight of Honor" — which Mackin said he had read.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

COOKIE BREAK—While their elders engage in the serious business of bread-winning, children of Rosen Heights Baptist Day School cease playing long enough for a sip, a nibble and a look at the newsmen's camera. Youngsters at the school, 2524 Roosevelt, are, from left, Jack DeLoach, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack K. DeLoach, 2708 Prairie; Cherie Worth, 17 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Worth.

2117 N. W. 24th; Terry Griffin, 3 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Griffin of 2415 N. W. 27th, and Royce Robertson, 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Robertson of 2612 Roosevelt.

Ginny Aims Punch At Carolina Coast

NO. 175032

Mackin in Prison, Maps Appeal to Supreme Court

BY ROGER SUMMERS

Name: Jack Mackin

Reason for Visit: Voluntary

Surrender

Time of Arrival: 2:22 p. m.

Time of Departure: 4:00 p. m.

Jack Mackin accepted a mail point from a brown-uniformed guard and nervously wrote information requested in the first three blanks of a registration form.

But he didn't fill in the time of departure blank on the big sheet of paper on a table just inside the main entrance at the state penitentiary in Huntsville.

MACKIN HAD come to stay. He went inside Thursday carrying a few belongings in a brown paper sack. Within the hour, he was wearing white coveralls and had become prisoner No. 175032.

It wasn't what Wednesday, when the Fort Worth criminal lawyer first reported to prison. He filed in the first three blanks on the registration sheet, went inside and was told he could not be accepted here.

Mackin and his attorney, Irv Shelman, returned to Fort Worth for a few hours so Mackin could see relatives and friends once more.

ON THE RETURN trip to Huntsville Thursday, a Star-Telegram reporter accompanied Mackin and Shelman.

Mackin, understandably, was nervous at the trip's outset. He smoked continuously at first — one, two, three, then four cigarettes.

Then, as he guided the car down the highway through blackland farm country, through Waxahachie and Corsicana, he seemed to relax somewhat.

And he talked.
He talked about football, about how he hopes the Texas Longhorns will remain on top of the heap in gridiron wars.

He talked about smoking and how he planned to try to quit the 20-year habit while in prison.

He talked about attorneys and judges and trials and about books which center around these subjects. He recommended to the reporter two books — "Voice of Court" and "Twilight of Honor" — which Mackin said he had read.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

COUNTDOWN 5

Tarrant County citizens have only five more days in which to lead support to their 60 United Fund agencies.

The next five days are crucial ones in the 1963 Crusade of Hope. The welfare of children, the crippled and many others in need of help is at stake.

Getting in the contributions before the final report meeting at noon Wednesday in the Grand Ballroom of Hotel Texas could make Fort Worth the first major city in Texas to go over the top of its United Fund drive on time.

He talked about attorneys and judges and trials and about books which center around these subjects. He recommended to the reporter two books — "Voice of Court" and "Twilight of Honor" — which Mackin said he had read.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

He talked about the Texas Longhorns, which he hopes to see in person during his stay in prison.

Evacuation
Of Beach
Areas Set

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 25 (AP)—Evacuation of a 100-mile stretch of South Carolina's beach areas was urged Friday as Hurricane Ginny's 100-mph winds bore down on the coast.

The unpredictable Atlantic storm was expected to make landfall late Friday night. The "eye" may strike to the southwest of Cape Fear, N. C., near the South Carolina line.

Coastal radar and air reconnaissance located the center of Ginny at 11 a. m. at near latitude 32.1 north and longitude 79.4 west or about 65 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving on a northerly course of eight m.p.h., the Weather Bureau said. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. Gales extend outward 175 miles over the ocean and about 100 miles southeast of the center.

Most low-lying areas in the Charleston vicinity were evacuated before noon. Many persons who fled their homes moved into public shelters opened in the area. The shelters, equipped with first aid supplies and nurses, can handle 7,000 persons.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

LAKESIDE TALK, THEN PRISON—Jack Mackin spent about 30 minutes in a park talking with his attorney, close friend and one-time law school buddy, Irv Shelman, of Fort Worth, right, before reporting to the penitentiary Thursday.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

Evacuation
Of Beach
Areas Set

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 25 (AP)—Evacuation of a 100-mile stretch of South Carolina's beach areas was urged Friday as Hurricane Ginny's 100-mph winds bore down on the coast.

The unpredictable Atlantic storm was expected to make landfall late Friday night. The "eye" may strike to the southwest of Cape Fear, N. C., near the South Carolina line.

Coastal radar and air reconnaissance located the center of Ginny at 11 a. m. at near latitude 32.1 north and longitude 79.4 west or about 65 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving on a northerly course of eight m.p.h., the Weather Bureau said. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. Gales extend outward 175 miles over the ocean and about 100 miles southeast of the center.

Most low-lying areas in the Charleston vicinity were evacuated before noon. Many persons who fled their homes moved into public shelters opened in the area. The shelters, equipped with first aid supplies and nurses, can handle 7,000 persons.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.

Army Will Get 30 Bell Copters

The largest one-day delivery of helicopters in aviation history will be staged Tuesday for the Army at Textron's Bell Helicopter Company.

Bell officials said more than 30 Army helicopters would be involved, the greatest number of Army aircraft of any type delivered in one day since World War II.

A spectacular flyaway, with helicopters taking off seconds apart, will follow the official delivery by Bell and acceptance by the Army.

Among helicopters to be flown away will be Bell's UH-1B Iroquois, the model the Army is flying in Vietnam.

The event will highlight a program starting at 2 p. m. on the helicopter at Bell's plant. Attending will be 3,000 Bell first shift employees and military and civilian visitors.

Program speakers will include Congressman Jim Wright, Paul R. Ignatius, assistant secretary of the Army for logistics and installations, and Kenneth E. Beale, who holds the same post with the Navy.

Bell President E. J. Ducaet will be master of ceremonies. The program is being staged to note the Navy's transfer to the Army of plant cognizance at Bell. Plant cognizance involves auditing, inspection, and other functions at defense industries by one of the armed services.

THE WEATHER

(By the United States Weather Bureau)

Pollen count 0. Hay fever discomfort starts at 10.
Rain to date 17.28, normal through October 26.32.
Sun sets 5:44 Friday, rises 6:41 Saturday.

High temperature Southwest Airport Thursday 84, downtown 79; low Southwest Airport Friday 61, downtown 64. Relative humidity at 11 a. m., 55.

Fort Worth and Vicinity — Partly cloudy and warm through Saturday. Few scattered showers Friday afternoon. Wind southerly 10 to 15 m.p.h. becoming light and variable Saturday.

Weather map and forecasts on Page 14, Sec. 1.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

A dollar bill may not do as much for you today as it used to, but you don't do as much for a dollar, either.

© General Features Corp.

ROUGH SPORT—Firemen worked 30 minutes to free Donnie Chase, 8, of 4921 Curzon, after his arm was caught Friday morning in ball return slot of a coin-operated pool table in the Tandy Mart, 1515 S. University Dr. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Chase, was trapped when he reached for cue ball. He was unhurt. Fire Capt. H. T. Barham stretched out on his back to release screws, effecting the youngster's release.

THE INDEX

Italy Gets Mafia Cue

Italy, after years of maintaining that all gangsters are "made in the U.S.A.," is becoming aware that the Mafia is not an American social disease. Page 8, Sec. 1.

VOTERS MUST decide Nov. 9 on the constitutional amendment concerning repeal of the poll tax law. The explanatory series about the amendments to be voted on is on Page 7, Sec. 2.