Recruit Declares Lewd Couplet Use 'Standard'

FT. JACKSON, S. C. — A soft-spoken, sensitive - appearing recruit repeated in a crowded court room today the lewd couplet he said was the standard reply to a question posed by sergeants in his Army training company.

Pvt. Curtis T. Hathorne of Hattiesburg, Miss., was the last government witness to appear at the general court-martial of Sgt. I. C. Charles L. Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala.

The court - martial board composed of six officers and three enlisted men give more time to the testimony by Hathorne and two corroborating witnesses than to any of the long list of indictments previously outlined by a score of other recruits.

FORCE TO SOUND OFF

Hathorne said he was forced to "sound off" with the obscene reply on at least five occasions before other trainees and sergeants. He said all recruits had been told by the company first sergeant to give that reply at an orientation lecture on their first night in the training company.

Evening Prayer

Heavenly Father, help us to be willing to be voices for Christ in our world today. Grant us courage to speak clearly, unmistakably, effectively, calling the attention of men to Christ — who He is, what He has done, is doing, and will do. His mercy will only permit Him to do it. In His name we ask these things. Amen.

Caril Cool To Father

Murder defendant Carl Ann Fugate, 15, walks past her father without any sign of recognition. The chance father-daughter meeting took place in the corridor of Lincoln, Neb., courthouse where Caril is on trial as companion to condemned killer Charles Starkweather. The father, William Fugate, was a courtroom spectator in the trial.

Can't Work

Strain Of Trial Innerves Father

LINCOLN, Neb. — The strain of watching his teenage daughter go on trial for her life has so unnerved William Fugate he hasn't been able to work.

The anxious father of murder defendant Carl Ann Fugate said of the trial ordeal today, "Caril is taking this better than I am. "The difference is — I don't know what happened," he explained. "She knows. I don't."

He declined to speculate on the outcome of the first degree murder trial which began yesterday.

Caril was the companion of condemned killer Charles Starkweather during a bloody flight lasting January in which 10 persons were killed.

Three of the victims were Caril's mother and Fugate's former wife, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, Bartlett and Caril's 3-year-old half sister Betty Jean. Caril had lived with her mother.

Fugate said his daughter thought too much of her sister to have anything to do with the Bartlett slaying.

"She used to put Betty up on the table and have her jump off into Caril's arms, and Caril would cuddle her like a kitten," Fugate was a public school custodian at the time his daughter and 18-year-old Starkweather set out on their flight from authorities last January.

Recently he has been working as a painter, but the impending trial so unnerved him he has not been able to work for the last two weeks.

"But I'm going to stay with the trial all the way," he said.

Cardinal Roncalli, 76, Chosen As New Pope

Patriarch Of Venice 262nd Catholic Leader

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Angelo Cardinal Roncalli was chosen Pope today.

Roncalli, Patriarch of Venice, becomes the 262nd supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church and its half-billion followers.

He is 76 years old. Chosen in secret conclaves by the College of Cardinals, the new pontiff chose the name John XXIII.

He succeeds Pope Pius XII, who died after a reign of 19 years and seven months, one of the longest reigns in the history of the church.

The new Italian Pope, in the Roman Catholic view, is in direct succession to St. Peter. His titles, as officially listed by the church, are: "Son of Holy Father, Jesus Christ, Successor of the Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Province of Rome and Sovereign of the State of Vatican City."

POPULAR PRELATE

The new pope, baldheaded and benign looking, has been one of the most popular prelates in Italy. He also has many friends abroad, particularly in France, where he spent eight years as papal nuncio.

He has a sturdy build and is an intriguing worker. His affable manners and quick-witted conversation have made him a well-known figure at many diplomatic receptions.

He was born as the son of a farmhand in a small village in the province of Bergamo. The people of this region, the Bergamaschi, are known to be good-humored and easy going and young Roncalli grew up to this reputation.

After graduating from the Roman Pontifical seminary in 1904, he became personal secretary of the Bishop of Bergamo, Msgr. Radini-Tedeschi. In this post, which he held until the bishop's death in 1914, he acquired an early knowledge of the administrative structure of the church and also devoted himself to historical studies.

During the war, he served first as a sergeant in the medical corps and later became an army chaplain. A three-year term as a lecturer on theology and church history in the province of Bergamo followed.

Called to Rome in 1921, Pope Benedict XI called him to Rome and entrusted him with the task of reorganizing the church's missionary work in the congregation propaganda file for the propagation of faith.

Pope XI, who succeeded Benedict in 1922, also took a strong interest in the work of the church. Roncalli kept his post for four years, traveling to many foreign centers.

What's So Funny About An Allergy?

(From AP Reports)

People laugh, but it's anything but funny to Mrs. W. H. Almond.

The Lynchburg, Va., woman is allergic to money.

She's so allergic to contact with nickels, dimes, quarters and the like that she's losing her job as a money handler in the circulation department of a newspaper.

Her outlet as a housekeeper last month brought her a nickel in pots and pans causing her to break out in a rash.

Safe Keeping

When a hard-working character walked into his Kansas City bar, Vincent Coope hastily strapped $500 in a towel and tossed it into the back room.

The customer left shortly, and Coope, breathing easier, went to get his money, but found it gone along with the soiled linen just picked up by a landladyman.

Coope and policemen made a quick trip to the laundry, but with little success. The score: found, $22; missing, $526.

Most Appeal

Education held more appeal than money when thieves broke into the Forest St. school in Orange, N. J.

Missing were an encyclopedia set, textbooks, a dictionary, an almanac and — 22 cents.

Short Tale

This Easter bunny tale is early, but it's short.

James, a 14-year-old prodigious thief for a Milwaukee store, caught a man stuffing a pair of trousers from the men's shop into his own trousers. Charged with theft of merchandise was Warren P. Easter.

Bluff Called

Luella Gray, charged with robbery in Dallas, became enraged at photographers while she was being questioned at the police station.

"If you don't stop taking pictures I'm going to take my clothes off," she threatened. The picture-snapping continued.

But she only pulled the top of her sweater up to hide her face.

The United States Congressional race has been a surprisingly low-cost proposition to date, according to expense reports filed with Secretary of State Earl Warren.

Reports reveal Democratic candidate David Clark has "outspent" Republican Rep. Charles R. Jonas by $1,000 to $2,500.

However, the preliminary reports will be followed by more detailed breakdowns within 30 days after next Tuesday's general election.

The figures given Mr. Earle this week, in accordance with the law which requires a report at least 10 days before the election, shows Jonas running behind Clark at this point expense-wise.

Eisenhower Takes Drive To New York

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower carried his campaigning to New York today after a renewed attack on Democrats he described as spendthrifts, visionaries and hoodlums.

But with the elections just a week away, former President Harry S. Truman said Democratic prospects appear "almost too good to be true."

Commenting on a Gallup poll prediction of possibly sweeping Democratic gains in Congress, Truman told newsmen in St. Louis: "They said the same thing about the Republicans in 1948, you remember."

That was the year Truman upset Republican Thomas E. Dewey whom most pollsters had tabbed as the favorite.

Vice President Nixon alluded to the same thing in a campaign talk at Flint, Mich. But whereas Truman was cautioning Democrats against overconfidence, Nixon was challenging the current accuracy of the polls.

MANY CHEERS

Taking issue with the forecasts, Nixon told a cheering crowd of 3,000 GOP partisans: "In the last week of arduous campaigning for GOP candidates in the East and Midwest, he'll be back on the campaign trail heading westward Thursday and Friday toward a three-day speaking tour of Alaska during the weekend."

Eisenhower flew to New York City Monday night after ripping into the Democrats anew in an 18-state television address in a suburb.

THE FIGHTS

In the same fighting technique he unveiled in California last week, Eisenhower tore into the opposition as being a divided party which he said could promise only a feuding, futile, deadlocked government.

Rainy weather was blamed for smaller audiences than local Republican leaders had forecast at both Pittsburgh and at Charleston, W. Va., where Eisenhower spoke Tuesday.
