

Established Dec. 8, 1888.

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Largest Evening Newspaper In The Two Carolinas.
Charlotte, North Carolina, Monday, February 10, 1958

*****
FINAL

24 Pages—Price Five Cents

Threat Laid

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother of a teenage girl witness in the trial of seven youths for murder said today the boy has been threatened with death if the defendants are convicted.

Condition Critical

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Four survivors of the air crash that killed 21 persons here last Thursday remained in critical condition today. Two were members of Britain's crack Manchester United soccer team.

'Still With Us'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Moulder (D-Mo) said today Bernard Schwartz, controversial counsel of a special subcommittee to investigate federal regulatory agencies, "is still with us."

Leaves For Talks

LONDON (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd left by plane for Athens today to discuss the future of Cyprus with Greek government officials.

Holy War Threat

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Rebel leaders in Sumatra are calling for a "holy war" unless Prime Minister Djanda's cabinet is kicked out. But they still have not taken the threatened step of setting up their own regime.

Cooperation Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) called today for "a decade of world-wide scientific cooperation," including Russia, to follow up similar efforts during the International Geophysical Year.

Churches Here Ready For Lent

Story on Page 1B

Business	4A, 7A
Classified	10-11B
Comics	10A
Crossword Puzzle	4A
Earl Wilson	12B
Editorials	6A
Everyday Counselor	8A
NewsWords	6A
Obituaries	8A
Radio-TV	12B
Sports	6B
Theaters	9B
To Your Good Health	5A
Women	5B
Worry Clinic	23A

—'IF I HAD A MACHINE GUN...'

Gun-Happy Youth Shoots 3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A gun-happy 15-year-old teenager wasn't taken seriously as a robber shot down three persons and then remarked "If I had a machine gun, I really would have cut loose."

Curly-haired Jerry E. Haynes, 18, was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital yesterday to see his victims but even that apparently did not frighten him. At City Prison he remarked: "I saw 'em laying there. Who knows if I should have felt something—anyway, I didn't."

All of the victims of his 10-minute, two-stick spree were reported in good condition today and in no danger.

DEMANDED MONEY

Haynes, whose home is at Rattlesnake, walked into the Short Stop Tavern at 879 Geary St. at about 1 a.m. He was wearing a black leather jacket, a "T-shirt" and jeans and no one believed him when he demanded money.

Ex-Lawman Attacked

$26,000 Grabbed In Car Lot Heist

ROCKY MOUNT (AP)—A husky ex-policeman said two or three men overpowered and robbed him of just over $26,000 at his used car lot here early today.

2-5 Sentence Handed Woman In Embezzling

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Burton, seated in a wheel chair with her eyes closed, drew a 2 to 5 year prison term today on conviction of taking $186,000 from a medical clinic.

The gray-haired 31-year-old divorcee gave no sign that she heard as Judge Clarence Vaughn passed sentence in Dekalb Superior Court. She came here for sentencing from Grady Hospital in Atlanta, where she had been under observation over the weekend for recurring fainting spells.

An all-male jury convicted her last Friday on two counts of larceny after trial. It fined her punishment at 2 to 5 years on each count but asked the judge to sentence her to serve both sentences at the same time.

FOUND OKAY

After sentencing Mrs. Burton in slow, measured tones, Vaughn told all parties:

"The sheriff and her defense counsel have told me that Mrs. Burton has been examined by competent, capable physicians who have reported that her physical and mental condition is sufficient for the court to complete the record in this case by passing sentence."

Mrs. Burton, convicted of taking the $186,000 from the prosperous Decatur Clinic during her two and a half years as business manager, will probably be taken to the state prison at Reidsville. No definite date for the trip has been set.

Mrs. Burton, giving no sign that she heard the sentence, made no statement before it was passed. Charles E. Edwards, her chief counsel, said he had not made up his mind whether to appeal. He said he would have to talk further with Mrs. Burton.

Still pending against her in Dekalb County are two forgery charges. Solicitor General Richard Bell said she would be tried on those charges unless some other disposition is made before the end of the current term of court.

MEMORIAL MASS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII today attended a memorial mass in the Sixtine Chapel for his predecessor, Pope Pius XI, who died Feb. 10, 1939, after having reigned for 17 years.

He drew a 22 caliber automatic and told patrons to walk to the back of the place. Earl L. Russell, 31, asked, "what for?"

Police said Haynes dropped Russell with one bullet in the upper thigh and then turned the gun on Clement Hunt, 61, who had walked over from the bar. Hunt went down with a slug in his stomach.

Haynes told questioning police: "I don't know anything about it, but there was this one old lady who got on my nerves. Then somebody started putting me and some other guy tried to trash me. So I started shooting. That's all."

NO LOOT

Without getting any loot, Haynes ran four blocks to the Rattlesnake Hotel at 467 Turk where he pulled his gun on Alex. Under Chapman, 61, a clerk. Chapman handed over $45 from a cash drawer and $1 of his own. Haynes ordered him then to turn around and shot him three times in the back, police said.

"I knew he couldn't settle down and he liked to fool around but this shooting is something else," he said.

Police booked Haynes on two counts of attempted murder, and two counts of attempted robbery. He also was held for the U. S. Marshal as an Air Force deserter.

"The Worst Storm In 33 Years" Marooned These Cars In Deep Syracuse Snowbanks

50,000 Workers Made Idle By N. Y. Weekend Storm

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Snow-weary New Yorkers struggled today in near-zero temperatures against paralyzing drifts that stranded hundreds of persons, immobilized industry and closed schools.

New snow threatened many upstate areas already buried under glistering, white dunes up to 15 feet high. The Weather Bureau offered the meager consolation that snow squalls near the great Lakes would taper off by Wednesday.

The cities of Syracuse and Utica proclaimed emergency measures to try to dig out so that closed plants could resume production. More than 50,000 workers in the two cities were idle.

AUTOS STALLED

Although plows had opened main state roads that were blocked by the weekend's blizzard-like conditions, many rural roads remained clogged and traffic moved at a snail's pace elsewhere. Stranded automobiles dotted the countryside.

The wind-whipped snow snuffed out the 14 lives over the weekend. The victims suffered heart attacks while shoveling snow.

Among the marooned families were a mother and her eight children, without food or heat in their farmhouse outlived at Utica. Three state troopers predicted fair skies today, weather men said skies could become increasingly cloudy tomorrow with rain or snow possible.

A bitter 22 is forecast for Charlotte in the morning with a high of 45 forecast for afternoon. Today's high should be about 41.

Today's cold followed yesterday's biting freeze which brought in a 16-degree low. Yesterday's high was 29.

Partly cloudy, continued foggy cold this afternoon and tonight. Tuesday should be cloudless with a slight chance of light rain or snow.

Low tomorrow morning 19. High today 41. High yesterday 39. High tomorrow 45.

Sunrise today 7:14 a.m. Sunset today 6:01 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A

I-Party Paraguay Re-Elects Chiefs

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—President Alfredo Stroessner and 60 members of Congress have been returned to office in a nationwide plebiscite. They all won in balloting yesterday.

Named for a five-year term starting Aug. 15, Stroessner also ran without opposition in a special election July 11, 1954, after gaining power through a brief military revolt which ousted President Federico Chavez.

Compulsion Provision Included In Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirteen senators joined today in proposing a bill designed to encourage racial integration of schools, but to compel compliance with Supreme Court rulings in that field if necessary.

The new civil rights measure also would arm the attorney general with authority to seek federal court injunctions for the protection of civil rights assembly—a proposal defeated last year after a bitter battle.

More than a thousand policemen, firemen, city and Hudson County workers searched frantically for the break in the city's 54-year-old water system as water pressure built up during moving out.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) announced he was introducing the bill with twelve other senators, seven Democrats and five Republicans, as cosponsors. He said a companion measure was being introduced in the House.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The legislation would authorize appropriation of 12½ million dollars over the next five years for federal assistance to states and local government units in developing community understanding and plans for school integration.

In addition, federal grants of 40 million dollars a year for each of the next five years would be authorized for school buildings, the employment of additional teachers and other costs incident to eliminating racial segregation.

Douglas noted that under this section funds could be made available to "local communities that wish to comply with the court's decisions, but where, as in Georgia and Virginia, the courts have refused to cut off funds or close the schools."

THE ALTERNATIVE

Should efforts to achieve voluntary compliance fail, the secretary of health, education and welfare would be empowered by the legislation to draw up school integration plans in line with the Supreme Court's ruling.

If the secretary were unable to secure their acceptance from state or local officials, the attorney general would be authorized to seek federal court injunctions to force compliance.

The rest of the bill, under which the attorney general could obtain injunctions against violations of civil rights generally, would revise in somewhat altered form a section struck by the Senate last year from the administration's civil rights measure.

The Civil Rights Act passed by Congress at the last session, the first to be enacted since the end of Reconstruction era, limited the scope of this injunctive process to the protection of voting rights.

Atty. Gen. Rogers said that if Congress were to pass this year the provisions it knocked from the bill last year, he would recommend that President Eisenhower sign the law measures.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have

Broken Main Shuts Jersey Schools, Mills

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A broken water main threatened caverns or explosions in a third of the city today. Authorities closed schools and industrial plants in the affected area and some residents began moving out.

More than a thousand policemen, firemen, city and Hudson County workers searched frantically for the break in the city's 54-year-old water system as water pressure built up during moving out.

Fire officials warned of the danger of fires and apparatus was rushed to a small blaze in the heart of the stricken area at 8-12 a.m. It proved to be only a garage truck aflame at Montgomery and Varick Sts.

Fire Chief Thomas J. Maloney ordered the plants and schools in the area closed for the day in an effort to keep water consumption to a minimum.

INDUSTRIALIZED

The city is a heavily industrialized community of some 200,000 persons on the Hudson River opposite New York City.

A total of 20 public and parochial schools were closed. The Buge Colgate Palmolive Co. and U. S. Gypsum plants among those shut down.

City Engineer Harold Ohland said about 1,500,000 gallons of water were being lost every hour. When the break first developed late last night, about 10,000 residents—a third of this city's population—were without water.

Later, however, partial service was restored to residents and fire hydrants in the affected area by raising the pressure in the water pipes.

Maloney said he ordered the schools and plants closed so as to keep water pressure up to ease of fire.

Ohland said the danger of fire or explosion had been minimized but added that the situation was still serious.

Public works director August W. Heckman declared a state of emergency in the city and informed the state government of the matter.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Police, meanwhile, issued an emergency warning to residents who own oil stoves or heaters with gas jets. If the water in these jets evaporates, they pointed out, the entire apparatus will explode.

All available police and firemen in the city were put to work to try to find the point of disruption, while the police and fire departments of neighboring towns were put on the alert.

Today's Weather

Partly cloudy, continued foggy cold this afternoon and tonight. Tuesday should be cloudless with a slight chance of light rain or snow.

Low tomorrow morning 19. High today 41. High yesterday 39. High tomorrow 45.

Sunrise today 7:14 a.m. Sunset today 6:01 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A

I-Party Paraguay Re-Elects Chiefs

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—President Alfredo Stroessner and 60 members of Congress have been returned to office in a nationwide plebiscite. They all won in balloting yesterday.

Named for a five-year term starting Aug. 15, Stroessner also ran without opposition in a special election July 11, 1954, after gaining power through a brief military revolt which ousted President Federico Chavez.

Compulsion Provision Included In Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirteen senators joined today in proposing a bill designed to encourage racial integration of schools, but to compel compliance with Supreme Court rulings in that field if necessary.

The new civil rights measure also would arm the attorney general with authority to seek federal court injunctions for the protection of civil rights assembly—a proposal defeated last year after a bitter battle.

More than a thousand policemen, firemen, city and Hudson County workers searched frantically for the break in the city's 54-year-old water system as water pressure built up during moving out.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) announced he was introducing the bill with twelve other senators, seven Democrats and five Republicans, as cosponsors. He said a companion measure was being introduced in the House.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The legislation would authorize appropriation of 12½ million dollars over the next five years for federal assistance to states and local government units in developing community understanding and plans for school integration.

In addition, federal grants of 40 million dollars a year for each of the next five years would be authorized for school buildings, the employment of additional teachers and other costs incident to eliminating racial segregation.

Douglas noted that under this section funds could be made available to "local communities that wish to comply with the court's decisions, but where, as in Georgia and Virginia, the courts have refused to cut off funds or close the schools."

THE ALTERNATIVE

Should efforts to achieve voluntary compliance fail, the secretary of health, education and welfare would be empowered by the legislation to draw up school integration plans in line with the Supreme Court's ruling.

If the secretary were unable to secure their acceptance from state or local officials, the attorney general would be authorized to seek federal court injunctions to force compliance.

The rest of the bill, under which the attorney general could obtain injunctions against violations of civil rights generally, would revise in somewhat altered form a section struck by the Senate last year from the administration's civil rights measure.

The Civil Rights Act passed by Congress at the last session, the first to be enacted since the end of Reconstruction era, limited the scope of this injunctive process to the protection of voting rights.

Atty. Gen. Rogers said that if Congress were to pass this year the provisions it knocked from the bill last year, he would recommend that President Eisenhower sign the law measures.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have signified their opposition to the measure.

He added in a television interview that the administration will request such action. Rogers had said earlier that he would recommend no civil administration proposals on civil rights this year. He and other officials have