

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

THOMAS L. ROBINSON	President and Publisher
BRODIE S. GRIFFITH	General Manager
ROBERT H. LAMPER	Advertising Director
CECIL PRINCE
PERRY MORGAN	Associate Editor
R. L. Young Jr.	Managing Editor

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1958

The Democrats: Back From The Cliff

the voter.

This is not to minimize Mr. Clark's chances of success. He has an attractive record of accomplishment in the State House of Representatives in which he has served four terms. He is chairman of one important study commission—on government reorganization—

In ONE OF the greates' cliff-hanging dramas since the Monitor rammed the Merrimac. Tenth District Democrates have saved themselves from a cardinal politican sim—defeat by default.

With minutes to spare and with the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attorned Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attorned Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attorned Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attorned Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended Dayl Clark and the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the midnight oil still upon him. Lincolnion attended the smoke of the smoke of the smoke of the smoke of the smoke

A Visit From A Poet Of The Nation

THE trouble with Robert Frost is that he won't stay long enough in one place—the one place we have in mind being North Carolina.

If Frost could be induced to extend for a year or so one of his vernal visits to Chanel Hill. Tarheelia would have the distinction of being home to two of the nation's few great poets. Carl Sandburg already being in residence at Flat Rock.

But it isn't the distinction we crave; it's the company of this aged swinger-of-birches who has done so much to get the company of the same that the company of the com

The sun was warm but the wind was chill.

You know how it is with an April

day
When the sun is out and the wind
is still,
You're one mouth on in the middle of May.
But if you so much as dare to
speak.

speak.
A cloud comes over the sunlit

arch,
A wind comes off a frozen peak
And you're two months back in the middle of March.

"You know how it is..." Perhaps that is the secret of all good poems. One knows how it is ever so much better when a poem has said a truth he knew the internation or observation, but could not see the secret of t

inst as the soil tarnishes with weed
 The sturdy seedling with arched body comes Shouldering its way and shedding the earth crumbs.

Poet Robert Frost

I'm going out to clean the pasture spring;

I'll only stop to rake the leaves

And wait to watch the water clear, I may): I sha'n't be gone long.—You come too.

calf
That's standing by the mother.
It's so young
It totters when she licks it with her tongue.
I sha't be gone long.—You come
too

But if he stayed, Tarheelia could not eally claim him.

He and Sandburg too are poets for a nation.

(The above quotations were taken from The Complete Poems of Robert Frost, published by Henry Hult and Co.)

THE EDITORIAL 'WE'

The Constorte New States the discussion from another angle it points out that Predificial Press Secretary Buggs. Just a touch of frigid weather. Artist one occasion has referred to the dark of the constant of the constant

PROF. Norman Eliason of the English Department of the University of North Carolina. Chapel Hill. says wrifers stopped being modest a little more than 600 years ago. Here's how:

It was in the 14th century that the English pronoun I began to be used as a capital.

Before that time the small i was used when a writer referred to himself. Alter Pete leve, director of the UNC News Barcais says there's another angle to this; and I business, even though Prof. Eliason didn't dwell on it.

Then it is the sage of humility among

Mr. Hagerty's use of "we" is no mark of humility. Maybe a new trend will appear and the use of the editorial "we" will join the Dodo in Limbo.

Wrecking crews in Milwaukee recently did an expert job of tearing down the wrong building. Unfoulted by the foreman reminded the unfortunate owner that we all make mittakes—Lavarr. (MISS) LEADER-CALL.

People's 'Vanity Press' Defended By Prizewinning Novelist

Editors, The News:

A Stip Removed" in Bud Cox

I Stip Removed in Bud Cox

column in your paper for Feb. 22.

I am surprised how frequently journalists leap with a wild joy

to attack what is called "vanity publishing," but what is, in fact,
simply an author's own free enterprise and risk of his own ven
tree capital in support of the truth
of his own work.

Major literary media refused to review it, probably because I backed my own truth with my own money. Edmund Fuller did review it for the Chicago Tribune, calling it "a story that refreshes and uplifits the spirit."

"Subsidy Publishers Nourish The Truth Of Literature"

"Subsidy Publishers Nourish

1 could same other Seasoned critics who have praised "F a r Flight of Love" Without my exercising my right of free enterprise in backing the truth of my own own with my own money and without the existence of subsidy publishers, such as Pageant Fress.
"Far Flight of Love" would have been enterprised in the silence of censorship imposed by mass-market publishers.

1 do not write for money or for apputation, but do the best I can set down that deepers would not set down that deepers would be set and the set of the people that they would be soon with an award of Soas sithe "Best Book" on their 1307 list.

1 — People on this to see their young sons march off to war first the such of the through of the such of the set of the people that they would never come back.

2 — Women want their husbands bring up the families.

3 — Young girls want the young

3 - Young girls want the young

Of course, all of us are ready to fight at the drop of a hat if it is necessary but we wish that the time would come when it would no longer be necessary. —JAMES W. JEWELL

Rock Hill, S. C.

A Barrel's Better Than The Sack

Editors, The News:

YOUR Mr. Ruark had some fine, sensible things to say about the latest fashions from Paris—from the viewpoint of a male! But what about the fairer sex? How do they feel about the situation?

"I like being a woman; most of

"I wish we could ship all high fashion females of to harass the Hottentots. But then, on second thought, what have the Hottentots done to deserve such a fate? "It don't know what will happen, to us hold-outs in a season or two if the designers are not brought to their senses — by a buyers' strike, for example—but, on the other hand, we won't look any

-MRS. THOMAS CHATTERTON

How's This For A Mean Trick?

Charlotte

Editors, The News:

THE OTHER afternoon I saw noe of the meanest imaginable stricks.

The control of the meanest imaginable stricks are standing at the intersection of South Boolevard and West Boulevard selling The News landed a paper to a man (requesting it) in a blue panel truck.

The truck immediately polled may at the change of the light without the payment for the paper.

- GRAHAM C. REICH

Why So Sensitive?

Jeaned Juveniles

Drew Pearson's Merry-Go-Round

people.

Contrast No. 1—Two Internal Revenue

Contrast No. 1—Two Internal Revenue

Contrast No. 1—Two Internal Revenue

Linear Collection of Intaly as term Internal Revenue

Big Concession

Contract No. 2 — Senators arrived on the Senate floor in dinner jackets for a vary questionable procedure.

Owed Since Jan. 1

The taxes are owed, be continued.

The taxes are owed, be continued.

38. Hes on a reclining chair which destinder his workbench as he retise watches. After he because parallel of the work of the parallel of the

It Took Two Agents To Collect $68