Butcher Plot Worth Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ar.) said today the A. & P. stores reaped benefits worth millions of dollars by conniving with butchers union leaders in a labor contract. This statement of his views marked the end of public hearings by the Senate Commerce investigating Committee on an alleged deal through which 10,000 New York area A. & P. grocery clerks were blanketed into the Butchers Union in 1952 unaware that they were bound to a 4-hour work week for 55 months. Some competing stores had a 4-hour work week.

"An analysis of the testimony," McClellan said in a statement of findings, "establishes a number of improper practices which this committee must condemn."

The committee chairman continued: "The evidence seems to be quite clear that the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. (A. & P.) embarked on a course of conduct in 1952 that produced serious violations of various provisions of the National Labor Relations Act."

"We are forced to the inevitable conclusion, and the evidence before this committee supports it, that the A. & P. deprived more than 10,000 of its employees of their right guaranteed by the National Labor Relations Act to be represented by a collective bargaining agent of their own choice."

"It is obvious that the advantages of this arrangement were measurable in millions of dollars."

GROCERIES ARE TERMED MAIN CAUSE

Officials Announce Some Food Prices Are 'Peeking Out'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another record high in housewives' grocery costs sent the government's living cost index to a new peak in April.

Officials who announced the new rise today had some good news for consumers, however. They said some food prices are declining in May and that the overall level seems to be peaking out, or reaching a somewhat stable level for the summer months.

Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, told a news conference that "in a broad general way I'd say the index has shot its bolt—there's no question about it, the big rises are now over."

The government index rose two-tenths of one per cent between March and April, reaching 121.5 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. The April rise was wholly due to higher food prices, particularly fresh fruits and vegetables. Prices for meats and fish also were higher.

18TH IN 20

The April living cost level was 3.5 per cent above April 1957. It represented the 18th increase in the past 20 months. It had declined only once in the past 28 months, despite the business recession.

The new rise means a pay increase to about half a million workers based on labor contracts geared partly to changes in the government index. Most of the workers will receive boosts of one per cent or two per cent, but some will get as high as five cents an hour additional.

An additional 720,000 workers would normally receive pay adjustments based on the April index increase. This includes employees of the military and naval services. Labor contracts for these workers are expiring at the end of this month.

The automatic raises go to workers in the aircraft and electrical manufacturing industries.

Death Loses At Pane Door

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A small boy was snatched to safety after he opened the door of a Capital Airlines plane flying 7,000 feet above North Carolina yesterday.

The vice president of a national hat manufacturing company pulled the unidentified child away from the door as it swung loose in the windstream of the aircraft.

A crew member pulled the door closed as passengers were instructed to put on their cigarettes and fasten their seat belts.

Two executives of Norfolk-Portsmouth Newspapers Inc. witnessed the incident. Harold Sugg, assistant to the publisher, who was returning from New Orleans with Art Gormley, said the man who pulled the child to safety was Marvin C. Clark of Atlanta, vice president of the Stetson Hat Co.

As the plane winged across North

Carolina, the child, who had been walking up and down the passageway, managed to open the door.

Gormley said the door swung open wide enough for the child to fall out. The stewardess tried to pull the door shut, but Clark grabbed her and held her away from it.

At the time of the incident, the boy's mother was with a second smaller child in the forward part of the plane.

"The crew members acted very calmly," said Sugg. "There was no panic."

At the Norfolk Airport, the mother of the child told Clark, "I'll always remember you for this."

The mother and the two children left the airport with relatives before they could be identified. A Capital Airlines spokesman in Norfolk said he had no report of the incident and could not give the names of the passengers involved from the plane's flight list.

Elimination Sought

Like Orders Study Of Air Collisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered his Air Coordinating Committee to make a special study aimed at eliminating midair collisions "to the maximum degree."

The White House said Eisenhower's action was prompted by the collision in Maryland Tuesday of an Air National Guard jet and a commercial airliner. That crash took a dozen lives.

At the same time, Eisenhower arranged to confer later in the day with two House members who are members of a committee investigating the crash.

Rep. Prince Preston (D-Ga.) said he and Rep. Cliff Cleveland (R-Ohio) got word from the White House that Eisenhower would see them at 3:30 p.m.

Preston and Cleveland are the top members of a House Appropriations subcommittee which was reauthorized by federal air officials last night on a subcommittee stop-gap plan aimed at halting civilian-military air clashes.

TAKEN TO PRESIDENT

The subcommittee voted to take the issue directly to Eisenhower. Preston said a White House aide, Jack Anderson, came to his office this morning with word of the appointment.

Eisenhower's air coordinating committee is headed by retired Air Force Lt. Gen. Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada.

The White House announcement by press secretary James C. Hagerty said: "At the request of the President, E. R. Quesada, chairman of the air coordinating committee, will hold a series of special meetings of his committee, starting tomorrow, designed to further accelerate air safety actions and to eliminate to the maximum degree possible midair collisions."

"Mr. Quesada will report as soon as possible to the President on measures already taken on recommendations to the Congress and on the results of these special meetings."

The committee is responsible for coordinating national aviation policies where more than one federal agency is involved."

Administrative Chairman T. F. Pyle of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, was telling a Senate Commerce subcommittee "We are not going to solve this problem overnight."

Military-civilian collisions have taken 64 lives in a month, spurring new demands in Congress for new air safety measures.

Evening Prayer

Lord of the harvest, help me to sow the seed of Thy love. By my speech and life may I sow the eternal seed that I may reap to Thy name's honor and glory in the harvest home, Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Saviour, I pray . . . Amen.

Postage Raise Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the White House today a bill to raise the cost of a first class letter from 3 to 4 cents and an airmail letter from 6 to 7 cents. The vote was 239-0.

The rate hikes will take effect Aug. 1 if President Eisenhower signs the bill.

The measure also carries wage increases for post office workers aggregating 380 million dollars a year — more than Eisenhower proposed.

The House sent the compromise measure to the White House by rollcall vote after brief discussion. The Senate passed it yesterday.

$150 MILLION SHY

As a revenue producer, the bill falls about 150 million dollars short of what the President wanted, while the raises it provides for 520,000 postal employees total 220 million dollars more than Eisenhower proposed.

The bill is a compromise of measures passed separately by the House and Senate. Its major provision is for an increase from 3 to 4 cents in the cost of mailing a first-class letter. This accounts for about 350 million dollars of new revenues.

Bonuses in rates on letters, post cards, air mail and books would be effective Aug. 1.

OTHER INCREASES

Rates on newspapers and magazines and on advertising matter would also be increased, in stages, starting Jan. 1.

The 10 per cent pay hike for most postal workers—the President had proposed a 6 per cent boost—would be retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Although the bill falls considerably short of what Eisenhower wanted, his congressional confidants predicted he would sign it as the best bill he could get under the circumstances.

The President had asked for a 5-cent rate on nonlocal letters in the harvest home, Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Saviour, I pray . . . Amen.

Trouble Spot Hot In Africa

PARIS (AP)—Fighting between French and Tunisian forces erupted in Tunisia today, heaping new North African troubles on Premier Pierre Pflimlin's government.

President Habib Bourguiba said in Tunis the fighting broke out after French planes dropped a bomb yesterday on the airport at Gafsa, in south-central Tunisia 25 miles from the Algerian border.

Speaking to the nation in his weekly radio address, Bourguiba also said French and Tunisian troops were face to face at Remada, where a clash took place a few days ago which led to an exchange of protests between France and Tunisia.

"We would prefer that the question of the evacuation of French troops from Tunisia be regulated in a friendly manner," Bourguiba said, "but we fear that we will no longer find anyone in authority with which to discuss the problem."

The airfield in question is apparently occupied by the French, and one which Bourguiba has asked the French to evacuate.

The French had accused Tunisia of trying to provoke a clash with French troops at a time when the government in Paris is trying to regain control of neighboring Algeria from French rightists.

French troops and planes have been technically restricted to their bases in Tunisian orders since the bombing of a border village in February touched off a crisis between France and its former protectorate.

A conservative leader lent a hand to hard-pressed Premier Pierre Pflimlin by going off to see Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who has asked to assume full power in France.

The leader, Antoine Pinay, was reported urging de Gaulle to use his influence over insurgent military men and French colonials in Algeria to bow to Paris' authorities.

Pflimlin was speeding progress of constitutional reforms aimed at strengthening the executive authority and make it more difficult for the National Assembly to turn cabinets off of office.

SINGLE PURPOSE
The defiant French in Algeria by demanding that De Gaulle take over the government of France and said they would not give up the territory of Pflimlin. They to make the premier of planning to make a deal with the Algerian Arab rebels which would reduce French influence in the North African territory. Pinay apparently feels that the World War II hero is the only man in France the angry French across the Mediterranean will listen to.

De Gaulle has ordered himself to head the government but said he would not take office by legal means.

Panama Gangs Defy Guard

PANAMA (AP)—Gangs of hoodlums armed with clubs, rocks and bottles defied National Guardsmen today in the heart of this paralytic city.

The hoodlums appeared to have taken over from students who had called for a general strike Thursday midnight in protest against school conditions.

Buses stalled in the farms and private cars avoided the downtown quarter where street with garages. Demonstrators forced private cars to detour around the area. At least three homemade gasoline bombs exploded in scattered areas.

Citizens Councils Bombard Baptists

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Southern Baptists were under attack today by Texas segregationists accusing the denomination of fostering race-mixing trends.

A flood of literature, bearing the imprint of the state white citizens' council, was distributed among the approximately 15,000 representatives to the denomination's annual convention.

The material cited Old Testament scripture seeking to show segregation was ordained by God. The printed charges also claimed that Baptist publications have an increasing integrationist content.

Several church leaders described the material variously as distorted, inaccurate or unfair.

At last night's sessions in Houston's Coliseum, many of the church messengers (delegates) held copies of the derogatory matter in their hands, reading it during the program.

A report on the racial situation comes before the meeting today. It calls for closer Baptist "communication and fellowship with people of every race and nationality."

The reelection of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) as convention president was seen by some as a victory for those favoring brotherhood and racial relations with other churches.

Commented the Rev. Dr. A. H. R. Hays, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, "The election reflects the feeling among a majority of Southern Baptists that we should maintain a friendly, mutually helpful attitude."
