ASHVILLE, July 10 (AP)—Gov. Hodges planned to tour farm communities in Buncombe County today after breakfasting with the Asheville Agricultural Development Council.

He is scheduled to speak tomorrow in Brevard at dedication ceremonies for a new DuPont silicon plant, Saturday and Sunday, the Governor, Mrs. Betsy Bernard, will relax in Western North Carolina, returning to Raleigh by plane Monday.

Hodges told a Western North Carolina Chamber of Commerce rally at Bryson City yesterday one of North Carolina's strongest selling points in its industrial development campaign "is the traditional atmosphere of cooperation that spreads all the way from here to the outer banks."

"If we can maintain this atmosphere," he added, "we can consider ourselves well on our way to the prosperous future we know is within our reach."

Hodges said North Carolina's secret weapon in its quest for new industry is the individual North Carolinian — "more than four million North Carolinians who know the true meaning of genuine hospitality and mutually beneficial cooperation."

He declared "our secret weapon is one that no other state can hope to duplicate."

Hodges pointed out that North Carolina must make its own opportunities and "we must be prepared to capitalize on them when the right moment arrives."

He noted a number of new industries had located in Western North Carolina in recent months, but "the fact remains that, in spite of all our efforts and all our achievements, we are just beginning to scratch the surface."

Hodges told the group, "don't wait for big companies to come your own small, local groups and grow from there. . . . Don't depend entirely on large industry. Continue your development, processing plants for poultry, etc. Develop further your hatching egg business. Do a much greater job in growing agricultural products which is not restricted or dependent upon acreage and price controls."

Graham To Get Bid To Chicago Despite Snub

CHICAGO, July 10 (AP)—Evangeline B. Graham probably will be invited to hold the "Chicago Crusade" despite a decision by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago not to sponsor it, several church leaders said yesterday.

The federation's decision "simply freed certain of its members to work with others outside the federation on behalf of the crusade," said the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Anderson, executive director of the Midwest Region of the National Assn. of Evangelicals.

"It probably will mean," Anderson added, "that certain individuals and theologically conservative groups who have hesitated to cooperate with the federation in sponsoring a crusade will work willingly with a committee."

The Chicago federation earlier announced it will not sponsor a Graham crusade because a majority of churches polled either opposed or refused to commit themselves on the plan. The federation said it wanted to avoid controversial issues.

Charge Of Deceit To Reach State Body; Publisher Says

CHARLOTTE, July 10 (AP)—A veteran publisher says representations of charges that western North Carolina papers deceived the public during a recent congressional primary will reach the North Carolina Press Association.

James Gray Jr. of the Sylva Herald predicted here yesterday the Western North Carolina Press Association would prepare a resolution at its special Saturday meeting in Asheville and submit it to the forthcoming meeting of the state group.

Gray said 15 to 20 publishers and editors offered mixed reactions to allegations by Editor Weimer Jones of the Franklin Press.

Jones asserted in an editorial that area newspapers deceived voters by not reporting the full extent of an illness Rep. George A. Shuford of Asheville suffered May 25 until after he was renominated in the May 31 Democratic primary.

Gray's son, James Gray Jr., is president of the Western group of weekly newspapers.

The younger Gray was not available for comment.

In Washington, Mrs. Shuford said there had been no deception in reporting Shuford's illness. "In North Carolina we told people that he was sick and that he had a growth removed from his neck. We didn't go into the details of the thing," she added.

Details Of Plot To Kill Capone's Attorney Sought

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—Lawyer for gangster Al Capone, drew a threat of prosecution from Congress today by refusing to answer questions before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. The demand for contempt came from Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) who accused the pensive, florid-faced lawyer of plotting to kill Abraham Ribicoff, onetime lawyer for the family of mobster Al Capone.

Testimony investigators today sought a story of an alleged 1954 gangland plot to kill Ribicoff, onetime lawyer for the family of mobster Al Capone.

Telbaum is listed to testify before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. But the committee said it expected to explore the story of his reported brush with death mainly through testimony of two Chicago police officers.

A central figure in a 1951 House investigation of tax scandals, Telbaum ultimately was indicted and placed on income tax evasion charges. He says he now lives in Hollywood, serving as technical director of a motion picture about Capone's crime career.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, told reporters it was not surprising Telbaum's tax difficulties had led to a conspiracy to kill him. At the time, Telbaum was a consultant to the Chicago Restaurant Assn.

Kennedy said Chicago police Lt. Joseph Morris and William J. Anderson, executive director of the Midwest Region of the National Assn. of Evangelicals.

"It probably will mean," Anderson added, "that certain individuals and theologically conservative groups who have hesitated to cooperate with the federation in sponsoring a crusade will work willingly with a committee."

The Chicago federation earlier announced it will not sponsor a Graham crusade because a majority of churches polled either opposed or refused to commit themselves on the plan. The federation said it wanted to avoid controversial issues.

Decision On Rates For Natural Gas Is Expected Soon

RALEIGH, July 10 (AP)—The State Utilities Commission will hand down probably within the next few weeks whether the rate schedules of Public Service and of the Carolina Electric & Gas Co. are reasonable.

Accardo last in Chicago federal court Tuesday an effort to block the televising of his testimony. He contended it would invade his privacy.

The current hearings are being televised live only in the Chicago area.

Kennedy said he supposed the question might arise again when Accardo goes on the witness stand.

The counsel said he expects the committee would apply a long-standing rule. This provides that a witness who testifies fully without invoking the fifth amendment, may be immune from being photographed during his testimony if he pleads the camera light is distracting.

W. H. Cleveland, assistant director of the utilities commission's accounting staff, testified that during the 12-month period ending April 30 the company had a rate of return of 7.36 per cent on an investment totaling $15,468,816.

During the two-day hearing, company witnesses said their rate of return during the period ending April 30 amounted to 6.31 per cent. However, they contended their earnings during the period were inflated by an unusually cold winter which is not likely to occur again for several years.

The company spokesman said their rate of return during the period would have been only 5.53 per cent if rate reductions they have proposed had been in effect and if their earnings were adjusted to eliminate the effect of the unusually cold weather.

The company voluntarily proposed at the outset of the hearing a rate reduction amounting to approximately $97,000 a year for residential customers in its eastern and western divisions. It also proposed certain adjustments in its industrial rate schedules.
