

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS

Established Dec. 8, 1888.

Largest Evening Newspaper in The Two Carolinas
Charlotte, North Carolina, Thursday, July 3, 1958

FINAL

20 Pages — Price Five Cents

Forecast: Sunny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sunshine is forecast for most of the nation on the July 4th holiday tomorrow. However, some sections may get showers or thunderstorms late in the day.

Successful Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran, today concluded his three-day unofficial visit to Washington. Government officials privately termed it a complete success. Iran reportedly will get a 40-million-dollar development loan from the United States, the amount the Shah requested.

Counter-Attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Rebels launched a counter-attack today at the main east-west highway from Beirut to Damascus and duelled for control of another road supplying government forces fighting southeast of Beirut.

40 Strippers Booked

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Agents for the district attorney last night hustled about 40 giggling French Quarter strip tease dancers off to jail and booked them with indecency.

Near Tragedy

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — An outing on Commencement Bay north of here yesterday almost ended in tragedy when eight of nine persons aboard a pleasure boat were overcome by carbon monoxide.

Church Project

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury convened a world conference of Anglican bishops today and called on them to work for unity in the Christian church and peace in the world.

Homes Raided

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish Cypriots raided Greek homes in a Nicosia suburb today in continued communal violence over the fate of this British Crown colony.

Charlotte's Missiles Score

See Editorial Page, 6A

Business	5A
Classified	5-7B
Comics	8A
Crossword Puzzle	8B
Earl Wilson	9A
Editorials	6A
Everyday Counselor	8B
Obituaries	2A
Radio-TV	9A
Serial	12A
Sports	10-11A
Security Game	3A
Theaters	1A
To Your Good Health	8B
Women	2-3B
Worry Clinic	8B

Bergman To Wed 'Soon As Legally Possible'

LONDON (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman said today she will marry Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt as soon as it is legally possible.

"After our marriage," said the Swedish-born actress, "we plan to live in France."

It will be her third marriage. An Italian court is expected to announce its decision shortly on the application by Roberto Rossellini, Miss Bergman's present husband, to have their marriage annulled.

Miss Bergman said she expected her three children by Rossellini — twin girls Ingrid and Isa-

(News Staff Photo by Tom Franklin-Hutner)

There's Nothing Like Comfort — And Security

Water, water, everywhere! But hardly a drop for Kevin McAllister. Young Kevin took a pre-holiday trip to Charlotte's Municipal Swimming Pool today, but Kevin didn't want to join the other youngsters in the pool. Sure, he wanted water—but he decided not to leave his stroller. So a pool attendant obliged Kevin got just a little wet on a hot day—and still didn't have to leave the comfort—and security—of his vehicle.

—'YOU ARE A LIAR'—

Tradition, Silence Shattered

5-Mile-Square Iceberg Seen Near Ireland

LONDON (AP) — A killer iceberg, a submerged white giant estimated at five miles square in size, was spotted today in the eastern Atlantic.

Emergency radio warnings were broadcast immediately to all trans-Atlantic shipping to watch for the underwater giant. Its jagged edges could rip open a ship.

A Pan American airliner radioed that it had spotted the iceberg right in the heavily traveled shipping lane some 650 miles west of the northern tip of Ireland.

An Admiralty spokesman called the iceberg "a very dangerous menace to Atlantic shipping."

It was reported moving in the warm currents of the Gulf Stream at about 150 miles a day — a speed of six knots. It was reported heading for the north of Scotland.

Shipping men said icebergs are a rarity off the British Isles. The Admiralty spokesman said the iceberg originally "must have been of fantastic size to have drifted so far south without melting."

WRITING BOOK

TOKYO (AP) — William S. Girard, the ex-GI whose bring-range kidnapping of a Japanese woman developed into an international incident, has written his Japanese lawyer that he's writing a book.

Shipping men said icebergs are a rarity off the British Isles. The Admiralty spokesman said the iceberg originally "must have been of fantastic size to have drifted so far south without melting."

Shipping men said icebergs are a rarity off the British Isles. The Admiralty spokesman said the iceberg originally "must have been of fantastic size to have drifted so far south without melting."

Two Boys Held In Holdup Try

MORGANTON (AP) — Two Burke County youths were held by police today for attempted armed robbery of a Morgan City cab driver.

Sherrill Ray A. Simon identified the pair as Ralph Lee Pruitt, 17, and Alvin Houston Denton, 13. Simon said they admitted the attempt.

Taxi driver R. T. Alexander, 33, told officers the youths hired him last night for a trip of about 35 miles. About 11 miles south of Morganton, near the Pruitt boys' home, he said, they got out of the cab and Pruitt grabbed a shotgun hidden in some grass.

Alexander said he was taken into a wooded area and while the youths were tying his hands, he lunged and the shotgun fired, striking no one. Pruitt, who said he had only one shell in the gun, held police.

"That fellow has more nerve than anybody I ever saw," a passerby took charge of Pruitt and Alexander, taking them to him, drove to a country store and called officers.

RE LOST BEL

MONTCLAIR, N. J. (AP) — Police said Creel Puryear, 22, but his brother Alfred last night that he could duck faster than Al. Fred could swing a baseball bat. Creel lost.

Reds Ask Talks On Sneak Attacks

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called today for an East-West conference of military and civilian experts to work out an agreement to prevent surprise attacks by one nation another.

Khrushchev made his proposal in a letter to President Eisenhower delivered in Washington yesterday and released at a Foreign Ministry news conference in Moscow this afternoon.

He suggested the United States and the Soviet Union take the initiative in calling the conference, that the conference be held in the near future and that the participants include the United States, the Soviet Union "and possibly representatives of some other government."

An agreement against surprise attack has been one of the Kremlin's several standing proposals for discussion between East and West. Khrushchev's latest retreat from the proposal took it one step further—to a possible conference of technical experts.

At the same time, it received a general subject, dominant for the past few weeks, of an east-west summit conference.

Evening Prayer

Our Father, we pray for the Church universal. We pray that as Christians we may take our stand that the Church through us may be increased in strength. Vain against the Church the power of the Holy Spirit. Through Christ, our Lord . . . Amen.

Cashier's Checks Used By Boston Industrialist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine acknowledged today what he called Christmas present payments to numerous White House and congressional employees. But he denied a suggestion that may explain the mysterious disposition of three-quarters of a million dollars.

Score Drowned Or Missing After Flooding

AUDUBON, Iowa (AP) — Nearly a score of persons, either known to be dead or presumed dead, were listed today as victims of the flood waters of the East Nishnabotna River and its tributaries.

The number of lives taken yesterday when cloudbursts sent streams rushing violently out of their banks awaited an official check as work of relief and rehabilitation proceeded.

However, officials listed 13 dead and six still missing 36 hours after the floods ravaged this southwest Iowa area.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

So swift was the rush of the water as it swept houses off their foundations that the body of an unidentified man was carried 50 miles downstream before it was recovered.

Towns hardest hit were Audubon, Extra and Hamlin in Audubon County. One resident of Extra, a town of 1,130, estimated that scarcely a house in the flood area was left on its foundations and some homes simply vanished.

WIDE AS MISSISSIPPI

The East Nishnabotna, normally a stream 20 to 40 feet wide, was as wide as the Mississippi River.

From the air, the landscape was dotted with little lakes and ponds as the swirling waters began to subside.

Some of those who died or were swept away were caught in their homes. Others were trapped in their cars as the water poured down highways.

In Extra, Lee Thompson, 26, was awakened early Wednesday by the town siren. He grabbed his two young children and led his wife through chest-deep water to a neighbor's truck where driver took Mrs. Thompson and the children to higher ground and safety.

Thompson headed back to a parked gravel truck near his home to give assistance. About a dozen persons, including some youngsters, were standing on the truck.

"We men stood on one side of the truck and held the children above the water," he said. The water submerged the truck. It was at least 12 feet deep."

FLOATED 30 MILES

Mrs. Russell Smith was swept from her Extra home at 2:30 a.m. and rode floating debris 30 miles downstream before she was rescued at Grassyford. Her son was rescued from a tree near Extra but her husband is missing.

The Red Cross sent rescue workers to the flood area and set up rehabilitation procedure but only a start was made toward restoring order.

Iowa National Guard units were pressed into emergency duty in Audubon County and at Atlantic downstream where families were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

GOOD INDEFINITELY

The fact that the checks are outstanding—some of them for years—was brought out earlier in the hearings. They are cashier's checks or bank treasurer's checks and are good indefinitely. Liskman said such checks are good until the bank on which they are cashed tells, differing from personal checks which become invalid if not cashed within a year.

The first name mentioned on the list of those getting payments from Goldfine was that of Eugene T. Kinnally, administrative assistant and Rep. McCormack (Mass.) the House Democratic leader. Goldfine said his largest gift had gone to Kinnally and that he had known Kinnally for years.

Kinnally told a reporter the only gift he ever received from Goldfine was a box of fruit and food last Christmas. He said, "I have never received one red cent from Goldfine or from anybody else as gifts." Kinnally said Goldfine started his second year on the stand by finishing the last three pages of a 25-page state trial that he began reading yesterday. Then subcommittee Chairman Harris asked Goldfine for his public explanation of why gifts to

Score Drowned Or Missing After Flooding

AUDUBON, Iowa (AP) — Nearly a score of persons, either known to be dead or presumed dead, were listed today as victims of the flood waters of the East Nishnabotna River and its tributaries.

The number of lives taken yesterday when cloudbursts sent streams rushing violently out of their banks awaited an official check as work of relief and rehabilitation proceeded.

However, officials listed 13 dead and six still missing 36 hours after the floods ravaged this southwest Iowa area.

Property damage was estimated in the millions.

So swift was the rush of the water as it swept houses off their foundations that the body of an unidentified man was carried 50 miles downstream before it was recovered.

Towns hardest hit were Audubon, Extra and Hamlin in Audubon County. One resident of Extra, a town of 1,130, estimated that scarcely a house in the flood area was left on its foundations and some homes simply vanished.

WIDE AS MISSISSIPPI

The East Nishnabotna, normally a stream 20 to 40 feet wide, was as wide as the Mississippi River.

From the air, the landscape was dotted with little lakes and ponds as the swirling waters began to subside.

Some of those who died or were swept away were caught in their homes. Others were trapped in their cars as the water poured down highways.

In Extra, Lee Thompson, 26, was awakened early Wednesday by the town siren. He grabbed his two young children and led his wife through chest-deep water to a neighbor's truck where driver took Mrs. Thompson and the children to higher ground and safety.

Thompson headed back to a parked gravel truck near his home to give assistance. About a dozen persons, including some youngsters, were standing on the truck.

"We men stood on one side of the truck and held the children above the water," he said. The water submerged the truck. It was at least 12 feet deep."

FLOATED 30 MILES

Mrs. Russell Smith was swept from her Extra home at 2:30 a.m. and rode floating debris 30 miles downstream before she was rescued at Grassyford. Her son was rescued from a tree near Extra but her husband is missing.

The Red Cross sent rescue workers to the flood area and set up rehabilitation procedure but only a start was made toward restoring order.

Iowa National Guard units were pressed into emergency duty in Audubon County and at Atlantic downstream where families were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

GOOD INDEFINITELY

The fact that the checks are outstanding—some of them for years—was brought out earlier in the hearings. They are cashier's checks or bank treasurer's checks and are good indefinitely. Liskman said such checks are good until the bank on which they are cashed tells, differing from personal checks which become invalid if not cashed within a year.

The first name mentioned on the list of those getting payments from Goldfine was that of Eugene T. Kinnally, administrative assistant and Rep. McCormack (Mass.) the House Democratic leader. Goldfine said his largest gift had gone to Kinnally and that he had known Kinnally for years.

Kinnally told a reporter the only gift he ever received from Goldfine was a box of fruit and food last Christmas. He said, "I have never received one red cent from Goldfine or from anybody else as gifts." Kinnally said Goldfine started his second year on the stand by finishing the last three pages of a 25-page state trial that he began reading yesterday. Then subcommittee Chairman Harris asked Goldfine for his public explanation of why gifts to

WEATHER

Partly cloudy, warm and humid today, tonight and Friday. Widely scattered showers today and evening thunderstorms today and Friday.

Low this morning . . . 66
Low tomorrow morning . . . 66
High today . . . 90
High yesterday . . . 91
High tomorrow . . . 90
Sunrise today 5:13 a.m.; sunset today 7:41 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2A

See GOLDFINE on page 2A

See RAPID on page 2A

—LADY HUGGINS THROWS IN THE TOWEL—

Sir John's Fling To Cost Him Wife

LONDON (AP) — Lady Molly Huggins, 31, whose husband is vacationing in Italy with another woman, announced today she has started divorce proceedings.

The husband is 66-year-old Sir John Huggins, former governor of Jamaica and a grandfather.

The other woman is Mrs. Margaret Hitechcock, 45, who runs a fancy dress shop near London. She has a husband and a small daughter.

As the first photographs of Mrs. Hitechcock were splashed over the front pages today, the London Daily Sketch's columnist Candidus cheered Lady Huggins as the woman of the week.

"What does she do when her husband runs off with the lady in question today?" asked Candidus.

"Does she bite herself in tears and sell pity?" Does she complain in anger at her desertion?

"No, I think she is a woman of spirit. She talks openly, even gaily, at her husband's disappearance and she is not afraid to discuss the other woman."

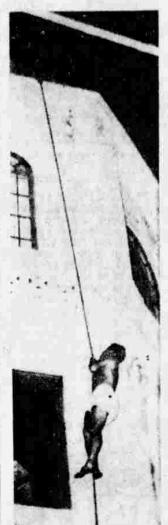

Lady Huggins said on Monday that Sir John came home. "I will forgive him," she said.

"He is being very silly," she said.

man. It all seems so completely out of character. Many men seem to like a change at a certain age, but you really don't think about these happening at your own home."

Concerning differences with Sir John, Lady Huggins said, "We had talked about things. Jack told me about this woman. We agreed to separate for a while and I thought this would all blow over."

Sir John and Mrs. Hitechcock were discovered living in separate houses in a hotel on Italy's Coast of Flowers. They have refused to talk to reporters.

(AP Photo)

EXTRA HOT was 35-year-old Spaldings of Miami, visiting in New York. To show his dislike for New York's heat, Spaldings stripped to his shorts and hopped onto the window ledge of a third story window. Police persuaded him to halt his shiny up a rope, which was lowered from the roof of the building, and return to his perch where officers grabbed him. Next time he tries a trick like this, police said, Spaldings will go to the cooler.

Broadcast Says All Hostages Ordered Freed

By BOB CLARK

GIANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — A broadcast from the mountain headquarters of rebel leader Fidel Castro has ordered the release of all Americans and Canadians held by rebels in the mountain jungles near here. Five of the 50 kidnapped by hands under Castro's brother Raul were released last night.

"I said Castro had ordered Raul to release the men, Raul commands rebels in the northern section of rebellious Oriente Province."

ONLY "OBSERVERS"

The broadcast, monitored in Puerto Rico, said, "We know they (the captives) actually were not taken as hostages but only as observers so they could see how (President Fulgencio) Batista's forces kill Cuban civilians, using arms furnished by the United States."

A speedy return of more kidnapped North Americans was expected here after U.S. Consul Jack Walcott came out of the hills with live captives in a U.S. Navy helicopter yesterday. Walcott returned with five of the 12 engineers seized by the rebels at the Moa Mining Co. in Northeastern Cuba last Thursday.

Darkness halted the flight, but the helicopter was readied to resume operations today.

In all, the rebels kidnapped 46 Americans and 3 Canadians and spirited them into the mountains of Oriente from which Castro has carried on a guerrilla campaign. Among those seized were 29 American sailors and Marines from the Guantanamo base.

Hollman and Vice Consul Henry Wiecha were sent over the weekend to make contact with the