

Early Cheere

BEIRUT (AP) — A stream of parliament deputies began calling on Gen. Foad Shehab today to congratulate him on election to the presidency even before the election.

Slightly Short

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 12-billion-dollar deficit for the government's current fiscal year was forecast today by Secretary of the Treasury Anderson.

Chennault Buried

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower led new tributes to Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault today in advance of a hero's funeral for the old Flying Tiger who died Sunday in New Orleans from lung cancer.

Blimp Away

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP) — A Navy blimp took off from here today on a historic, lighter-than-air flight to the North Pole. The 343-foot craft rose into the morning sky at 6:20 a.m. It will follow the Hudson River and is scheduled to land in Churchill, Canada, late tomorrow night.

Lover Released

LONDON (AP) — Dominic Elwes, the runaway lover who returned, was released from Brixton Prison today after serving two weeks for contempt of court. "He left by a back door at 4:30 this morning," said a prison official.

Jordan Bombing

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A time bomb wrecked the British library and information center in Amman and a second exploded outside the garage of a banker last night.

Bottle Lost

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Donald Kne's valiant fight for life ended today. The 13-year-old boy, whose temperature reached at least 110 degrees last week from a blood clot on the brain, died at 2:07 a.m. in the Good Samaritan Hospital.

LAWYER'S NOSE SLOWS BOWLES' MURDER TRIAL

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP) — A defense lawyer's concern for his partner's bleeding nose kept the Bryant Williams Bowles' murder trial off to a slow start yesterday.

Bowles, who founded the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, is charged with the shotgun slaying of his brother-in-law, James Earl Harvey.

Defense Atty. Joe Goodwin asked for a postponement until cooler weather because his colleague, Wyatt Baldwin, suffers from nose bleeds. He said Baldwin recently spent a total of 15 days in a hospital after an attack.

Judge H. A. Coe sympathized with Baldwin's condition but dismissed the motion for continuance and ordered jury selection started.

From AP Reports
Mrs. Bernice Evans reported to Kansas City police that she was bitten by a dog. Assigned to investigate, Patrolman Ben Way had no trouble finding the animal. Way was bitten on the hand. The dog, he said, got away.

Come On Home
If Betty Ann Summerville will come home, her mother will buy a dishwasher.

Mrs. Sally Summerville of Burbank, Calif., asked help in caring her missing 12-year-old daughter. She said the girl left home Friday after an argument

Stanley Richmond Gets Instructor's Okay Before Takeoff

No Time Wasted

Youth Turns 16, Makes Solo Flight

By EMERY WISTER
News Staff Writer

Bright-eyed Stanley Richmond is 16 today and he had a party all by himself in a tiny plane over the Municipal Airport.

Stanley celebrated his 16th birthday by making a solo flight in a two-seater Cessna.

He couldn't do it until today because the Civil Aeronautics Administration's minimum age for a solo license is 16.

"Matter of fact," said Stanley, "I won't be 16 until 3 o'clock this afternoon."

But with the approval of instructor Lindsay Hess, of Southern Flight School, young Richmond, a junior at East Richmond High School, took off at 9:46 a.m. He circled the field and at 9:51 his wheels touched

"Perfect," said Hess. "Couldn't ask for better."

The lad made two more takeoffs and landings as his mother, Mrs. Paul D. Richmond, watched through the viewfinder of a constantly clicking movie camera.

"How did the boy feel up there by himself?"

"Nobody to talk to," he said. "That's my only gripe."

Then turning to Lindsay Hess he said:

"Seems like it fits better when you're not in it."

2-MONTH JOB
Today's solo flights came after the boy had received 11 hours of dual instruction. He started last April.

"We didn't push it," said Hess. "No use. He couldn't get his license before today."

Young Richmond wants to be a commercial pilot and so far as he is concerned he's just graduated from primary school.

Next step is obtaining a private pilot's license.

The CAA says he can't get

Like Seeks Summit in 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has decided to propose that a summit conference on the Middle East crisis be opened in the U. N. Security Council in two weeks.

Eisenhower has drafted a note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev suggesting a range of dates between Aug. 10 and 15. The note is now being discussed with Britain and France. The consultations may result in some changes, but it is expected to be dispatched to Moscow within the next day or so.

One possible modification would be to propose a specific date.

One well-informed U. S. official said the United Nations headquarters in New York is the logical place to hold the extraordinary session but that Eisenhower is willing to go to some other city, probably Geneva—if others prefer.

NIKITA'S ANSWER
Eisenhower's latest note is in answer to an angry Khrushchev message Monday.

The Soviet leader accused Eisenhower then of virtually rejecting the heads of government conference, of being responsible for aggression in the Middle East and of plotting new military adventures there.

Khrushchev also called again for a five-power meeting involving the U. N. But the Soviet news agency Tass said last night this was not a rejection of a U. N. meeting, said Khrushchev, still is willing to attend a Security Council session.

The U. S. official who declined to be specifically identified called the Khrushchev note "a shocking disappointment" to the President and Secretary of State Dulles.

IGNORE TONE
He indicated they were determined generally to ignore the abusive tone and accusations of the Khrushchev letter and concentrate on two points. These are:

1. Khrushchev's insistence on holding a five-power conference to deal with the Middle East situation represents a policy of big power rule of the world. The United States rejects that concept. The United States insists that the projected conference should actually be an extraordinary meeting of the U. N. Security Council and not just a meeting of the chiefs of the big powers.

2. The United States is prepared to go into such a meeting of the U. N. Security Council on any convenient day in the period Aug. 10-13. Eisenhower would be agreeable to a later date, officials said, if the Security Council feels that more time is required to organize the special session.

Answers On Page 1-B

Business 6A
Classified 9-11B
Comics 12A
Crossword Puzzle 12B
Earl Wilson 14A
Editorials 4A
Everyday Counselor 14A
Obituaries 10A
Radio-TV 4B
Serial 14A
Social Security Game 2A
Sports 9B
Theaters 6B
To Your Good Health 12B
Women 2-3B
Worry Clinic 14A

Goldline, a friend of presidential aide Sherman Adams, faces possible contempt proceedings because of his refusal to answer 23 questions about business matters he contended were not relevant to the subcommittee's investigation.

If the committee approves the citation, the House itself would have the last word on whether to send the case to the Justice Department for possible prosecution.

So Long, Sucker
Highway Patrolman William Gregory, alerted to look for a stolen car, stopped a motorist in Springfield, Ariz., and ordered him out while he searched the car.

The man stepped into Gregory's car and sped away. The patrol auto was more than a match for the one left behind.

LATE SPRING TIME
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lake Bugbee, Wyoming rancher, says his second childhood is coming back.

He was the second-floor lady who outside Mrs. Greber's Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Greber stands 5-5 and weighs in at 103. Her opponent was a 170-pound six-footer in his 30s. Further tipping the balance

Faubus (right) Is Congratulated By Littlejohn

People's Sentiment

Gov. Faubus Wins By Record Margin

By CLIFTON WELLS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus has won an overwhelming mandate to resist school integration as he swept a third-term Democratic nomination.

"The results indicate clearly the sentiments of the people," Faubus said in a victory statement.

Crowds of jubilant supporters overflowed into the street in front of Faubus' downtown campaign headquarters here last night and a sound truck screamed, "Vote, the traditional Southern fight song as the outcome of the balloting in the preferential primary became evident."

Faubus bowled over two opponents by the widest majority ever accorded a gubernatorial candidate in Arkansas. In this heavily Democratic state, nomination is tantamount to election.

With 2,229 of 2,321 precincts reporting, Faubus amassed 253,096

5 Elephants

Kill Man,

Cause Panic

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Five elephants en route from a Miami zoo to a local menagerie escaped from a truck today, killed a man and spread panic in the city.

The victim was killed as he tried to grab a large, 30-year-old elephant by the tail and was trampled. The animal later was shot 26 times in the head. The North American keepers, Charles Butler and Robert Parker, who accompanied the elephants, were arrested.

The four remaining elephants were rounded up with the help of police cars, ambulances, fire engines and private vans.

The elephants arrived by train from Laredo, Tex. last night after a five-day journey from Miami. They were held at the railway station until midnight so they would not be alarmed by traffic.

But a locomotive whistle frightened them and they broke out of their van and began loping down narrow streets.

NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't the money but the principle of the thing that caused Mrs. Fleurette Greber, an 82-year-old light ing lady, to throw her Slimmy punch.

The arena for this female Deaf's clash with a modern Negro lady was the second-floor hallway outside Mrs. Greber's Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Greber stands 5-5 and weighs in at 103. Her opponent was a 170-pound six-footer in his 30s. Further tipping the balance in his favor was one razor — sharp.

RAZOR WAVED
"Give me your pocketbook," he snarled, waving the razor at her.

The bag contained only $3.50, but Mrs. Greber didn't like his manner.

"I will not, young man," she said.

Grabbed for the pocketbook, Mrs. Greber uncoiled her

Action May Forecast Chief's Resignation

By JOHN KILGO
News Staff Writer

Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn said today he doesn't know whether he is going to quit tomorrow or wait until the investigation of city court is complete.

The chief has moved most of his personal belongings from his office at the police station and taken them home. He has also filled out his retirement papers.

On June 11, during a hectic backroom session of the City Council, the chief said publicly he was going to resign in July.

"MAN OF MY WORD"
"I want to be a man of my word," Chief Littlejohn said today. "I told them I would leave in July and I'm certainly ready to take a rest from all this police work."

"But I don't know if I should leave before the grand jury gets through investigating the City Council, the chief said publicly. I haven't yet decided what I am going to do."

Chief Littlejohn instigated the city court investigation in May. The chief's remarks came this morning before the City Council meeting.

At the Council session, Councilmen Herman Brown and Martha Evans engaged in a heated discussion of published reports about plans for appointment of a new police chief.

Council failed to act today either on appointment of a civilian clerk of city court or payment of $300 to attorney Samuel Millette, removed by Police Chief Frank Littlejohn as his personal representative at the L. W. Hensel civil service hearing.

"Has Mr. Brown given you a personal application for the job?" Mrs. Evans asked Mr. Brown.

"He has not," Mr. Brown answered. "I know Mr. Murphy personally and he is a fine person. I would vote for him."

START AT TOP
Mrs. Evans then quipped, "Well, since you're doing all this I believe I'll throw J. Edgar Hoover's hat into the ring. He might as well start at the top."

Outside of the verbal tiff between Mrs. Evans and Councilman Brown, today's session was a fizzle.

It was originally scheduled to be one of the most significant meetings in years.

The News learned Monday that a majority of the council planned to demand Chief Littlejohn's resignation today.

After a story in The News, the council majority reportedly changed their plans and decided

See 18 on Page 2-A

Resigning Chief To Swap Police Work For Politics

Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn said today after he resigns from the police department he is "going to become one of the biggest politicians in Charlotte."

Chief Littlejohn said he isn't going to run for any office, but he is going to "do a lot of leg work and help in every precinct in this town."

"I'm not going to run for any office," the chief said, "I don't want any part of running for an office, but I'll be a free person and I'm going to do a lot of talking to people and tell them about this administration."

The chief was presumably speaking of the present City Council.

"I wouldn't run for dog catcher," he said, "But I'll do plenty of talking and telling of what I know."

Littlejohn, 22, a Negro, was charged with felonious assault, robbery and violation of the Sullivan anti-weapon law.

HARD PUNCH
So hard had Mrs. Greber thrown her punch, that a physician was called to treat her shoulder. Mrs. Greber did not require hospitalization.

"I learned how to handle men like this from my husband," she told police.

Her late husband, she said, as police Lt. Charles S. Greber.

—BRIGHTER SIDE OF THE NEWS—

Plenty Clues, No Arrests

about washing dishes.

Deadline Beater

When a customer ordered three large loaves of three-cent stamps in Cody, Kan., yesterday, clerk John Harris reminded her that first class letters require four cents postage after Aug. 1.

"Why do you think I'm stocking up?" the customer asked.

Obliging Man

"I'm guilty and I'll waive a hearing," the defendant told an Ardmore, Okla., justice. "What do you mean, you'll waive a hearing?" Justice G. W. Pany asked.

"I'll plead guilty, but I don't want to hear any more about it," was the answer. Justice Pany obliged and fined him $20 on a drunkenness charge.

So Long, Sucker

Highway Patrolman William Gregory, alerted to look for a stolen car, stopped a motorist in Springfield, Ariz., and ordered him out while he searched the car.

The man stepped into Gregory's car and sped away. The patrol auto was more than a match for the one left behind.

LATE SPRING TIME
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lake Bugbee, Wyoming rancher, says his second childhood is coming back.

He was the second-floor lady who outside Mrs. Greber's Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Greber stands 5-5 and weighs in at 103. Her opponent was a 170-pound six-footer in his 30s. Further tipping the balance

—RAZOR-TOTING ROBBER FOILED—

Fighting Lady, 82, Uncorks A Right

NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't the money but the principle of the thing that caused Mrs. Fleurette Greber, an 82-year-old light ing lady, to throw her Slimmy punch.

The arena for this female Deaf's clash with a modern Negro lady was the second-floor hallway outside Mrs. Greber's Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Greber stands 5-5 and weighs in at 103. Her opponent was a 170-pound six-footer in his 30s. Further tipping the balance in his favor was one razor — sharp.

RAZOR WAVED
"Give me your pocketbook," he snarled, waving the razor at her.

The bag contained only $3.50, but Mrs. Greber didn't like his manner.

"I will not, young man," she said.

Grabbed for the pocketbook, Mrs. Greber uncoiled her right. She hit the hand that held the razor and it flew up, cutting her assailant's nose.

He screamed and ran, taking the pocketbook. Mrs. Greber called police.

A patrolman found David Johnson on an operating table at a nearby hospital. He was lying in five stitches taken in his nose. The bag, with the $3.50 intact, was recovered in a subway station in the neighborhood.

Johnson, 22, a Negro, was charged with felonious assault, robbery and violation of the Sullivan anti-weapon law.

HARD PUNCH
So hard had Mrs. Greber thrown her punch, that a physician was called to treat her shoulder. Mrs. Greber did not require hospitalization.

"I learned how to handle men like this from my husband," she told police.

Her late husband, she said, as police Lt. Charles S. Greber.