

500 Hunt Child

MALONE, N. Y. (AP) — An army of 500 searchers scoured the Adirondack wilderness today for a 5-year-old girl who vanished from her parents' camp Sunday.

Men Rescued

ANTONITO, Colo. (AP) — Two men trapped since Friday in a rugged southern Colorado canyon were reported rescued early today. One of them was believed seriously injured.

Cotton Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today estimated the acreage of cotton in cultivation on July 1 at 12,402,000 acres or 12 per cent less than last year.

Nearer Goal

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A retired sergeant making a 1,000-mile trek from Little Rock, Ark., reached Augusta this morning and headed for Florence, S. C.

Cold War Loss?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration told Congress today that unless it restores a House cut of $25,000,000 in money for overseas economic development loans, the United States "could lose the cold war by default."

Choice Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Arthur S. Flemming to be Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Integration Urged

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian Public Safety Committee today appealed to Jacques Soustelle, newly named by Premier de Gaulle as information minister, to help put into effect the committee's plans for integration of Algeria into France.

Tankers Collide

BOULOGNE, France (AP) — Two tankers collided in the English Channel off Boulogne early today. One sailor was known to have died and two others were injured.

3 Adopted German Tots Like U. S.

Picture, Story on 1B

Business	6A
Classified	7-9B
Comics	6B
Crossword Puzzle	10A
Earl Wilson	10B
Editorials	4A
Everyday Counselor	11A
Obituaries	7-8A
Radio-TV	8A
Serials	10B
Social Security Game	8A
Sports	4-5B
Theaters	7B
To Your Good Health	10A
Women	2-3B
Worry Clinic	11A

Air Force Declares Russians Shot Down Plane Over Armenia

Canadian Guard Of Honor Greet Ike

President Eisenhower walks between the lines of an honor guard drawn up at Uplands Air Station for his arrival at the Ottawa, Canada, base. The President went for a three-day state visit and talks with Canadian officials. Shown with him is Major Clancy, commander of the honor guard.

Burning Aircraft Exploded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Air Force said today two Russian jet fighters shot down the American transport plane which crashed-landed in Soviet Armenia June 27.

Five of the nine airmen parachuted. Four others rode the burning plane to the crash landing.

The Air Force said the Red fighters made another firing attack on the crippled transport as it was heading in for its landing.

The nine men were released by Russian authorities to American officials yesterday, returning to their home station at Teheran.

The Russian version of the incident was that the USAF transport was compelled to land after it had flown into Russian territory and that the plane burned on the ground.

Today's Air Force announcement said the American fliers reported they were intercepted by the MIGs and set alight at 15,000 feet altitude.

"A combination of extensive thunderstorms, instrument flight conditions and unreported high winds had caused inadvertent crossing of the Soviet frontier," the statement said, thus conceding the plane had strayed into Russian territory.

ANOTHER PASS

"Five crew members were forced to parachute to safety," the Air Force announcement said.

"The remaining four attempted to make an emergency landing at a crude strip 75 miles east-southeast of Lake Sevan. With five parachutes in the air and the aircraft in flames, the MIGs made another firing pass on the crippled plane while it was on its final approach for a forced landing."

The burning plane exploded on the ground after the four crew members who rode it down were able to reach safety.

All members of the crew are suffering from extreme fatigue and exhaustion, the Air Force said. In addition, Major 2nd Lt. Peter N. Sabo, suffered second degree burns.

Lake Sevan is located between the Georgian and Black Seas near the Turkish-Armenian border.

Landing with the plane were Maj. Luther W. Lyle, the plane commander, Capt. James T. Kane, 1st Lt. James M. Luther and Tech. Sgt. James G. Holman.

Parachuting from the burning plane were Capt. Dale L. Brannon, Maj. Robert E. Crans, Maj. Bennie A. Slope and Airman 2nd class Earl H. Reupper.

The Air Force said a scheduled news conference with the airmen at Teheran was postponed at the advice of military authorities.

The nine flew to Wiesbaden, Germany today from Iran after being held captive for 10 days. Hugs, kisses and tears from members of their families greeted the airmen as they stepped from the four-engine plane that brought them from Tehran to the U. S. air base.

Air Force officers shielded them from reporters and hustled them off to hot meals. A news conference will be held tomorrow.

Evening Prayer

O God, we confess that we have spoiled the loveliness of Thy prayer, for when we pray, from the garden of evil into the Garden of the cross that we may find peace. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Poor Liaison Slows Release Of Captives

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP) — Poor communications are reported delaying release of North Americans still held captive by Fidel Castro's rebels. Thirty-three Americans and one Canadian are still held.

Rear Adm. R. B. "Big" Ellis had been dispatching a helicopter to make the pickup when a Navy plane spotted white cloth marker panels laid out in jungle clearing.

1st Cmdr. John V. Gorman of Grand Pass, Mo., ferried out three Americans yesterday, bringing to 16 the number of men released. One of those flown out, James P. Stephens Jr. of Edmond, Okla., said, "there was no one else at the landing point when I left."

Stephens, an official of United Fruit Co., said rumors in the rebel camps were that after the other four civilians were released, Castro would free the 30 U. S. sailors and Marines he is holding. Some servicemen at the Navy base are angry that none of their buddies have been released.

Informed sources in Havana said the rebels were holding the 30 servicemen to bargain for U. S. recognition as belligerents. The legal status of belligerents would entitle the rebels to equal treatment with the regime of President Fulbright Batista which they are trying to overthrow.

The two men released with Stephens, were Sherman and White of New York, general manager of the American-built Nixcar nickel plant, and J. Andrew Poll of Grand Rapids, Mich., the assistant general manager.

"The only way I got her to stop shooting was when I told her I had another rent," Mrs. Knowlton was quoted as saying.

As a dozen city police and sheriff's deputies fanned through the woods, hunting for her, she fired several shots from the rifle, Isaacson said.

Defective John Hancock said Simard apparently told the girl crouched in some bushes near the side of the road.

As he talked to the girl, she fired two shots, Hancock said. One struck the officer.

Sandra's mother, who had joined officers in the search, reportedly helped take the girl into custody.

"The only way I got her to stop shooting was when I told her I had another rent," Mrs. Knowlton was quoted as saying.

As a dozen city police and sheriff's deputies fanned through the woods, hunting for her, she fired several shots from the rifle, Isaacson said.

Defective John Hancock said Simard apparently told the girl crouched in some bushes near the side of the road.

Girl Held For Killing Policeman

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — A 17-year-old girl was accused today of killing a policeman who tried to talk her into going home and patching up a family argument.

Lewiston Patrolman Paul J. Simard, 32, died from a bullet between the eyes.

In custody was 14-year-old Sandra Knowlton, who took a 22-caliber rifle and ran away from home yesterday, hiding in nearby woods.

Asst. County Atty. Philip Isaacson said the girl was arrested on a charge of murder.

Sandra, a slender, brown-haired girl, left home about midnight. Authorities said she had argued with her mother, Mrs. Everett Knowlton, about the location of their rented home. The girl wanted to move closer to town.

As a dozen city police and sheriff's deputies fanned through the woods, hunting for her, she fired several shots from the rifle, Isaacson said.

Defective John Hancock said Simard apparently told the girl crouched in some bushes near the side of the road.

As he talked to the girl, she fired two shots, Hancock said. One struck the officer.

Sandra's mother, who had joined officers in the search, reportedly helped take the girl into custody.

"The only way I got her to stop shooting was when I told her I had another rent," Mrs. Knowlton was quoted as saying.

As a dozen city police and sheriff's deputies fanned through the woods, hunting for her, she fired several shots from the rifle, Isaacson said.

Defective John Hancock said Simard apparently told the girl crouched in some bushes near the side of the road.

As he talked to the girl, she fired two shots, Hancock said. One struck the officer.

37 Names Listed

New York Mafia Dope Case Opens

NEW YORK (AP) — A sweeping indictment naming 37 alleged members of a Mafia international narcotics racket ring was opened today in federal district court. Among them was Vito Genovese, a reputed U. S. Mafia chieftain who was arrested last night.

Genovese entered a plea of innocent to narcotics conspiracy charges and was held in $50,000 bail.

Also indicted and arrested with Genovese was a major crackdown on the underworld, was lower - echelon hoodlum Vincent L. Gigante. Gigante was acquitted last May of the attempted murder of racket boss Frank Costello. His bail was set at $35,000.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams told the court that the conspiracy involved importation into and distribution throughout the United States of large quantities of heroin and other narcotics brought in through contacts in Europe, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Mexico.

PORT MAN
The numbers tabbed Genovese "the number one control man in this conspiracy." The prosecution added:

"The government is ready to prove that he made all the big decisions as to the areas in which narcotics were to be sold and made decisions as to whom would have the concessions.

"He was the man responsible for seeing that any annoying competition would be eliminated."

The indictment pinpointed some of the major sales areas as New York City, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Las Vegas, Nev.

Earlier, Williams had termed the arrest of Genovese as of major importance in the government's mounting assault on the underworld.

The arrest of Genovese is one of the most important arrests ever made in this field," Williams said.

door of the hospital. Hughes' condition was reported still serious today.

The carnival listed Hughes' home as Emden, Mo., but he became famous as a growing boy in Baylis, Ill. He weighed 325 pounds at the age of 18.

Doctors said an attack of whooping cough when he was three months old upset his glandular balance.

door of the hospital. Hughes' condition was reported still serious today.

The carnival listed Hughes' home as Emden, Mo., but he became famous as a growing boy in Baylis, Ill. He weighed 325 pounds at the age of 18.

Doctors said an attack of whooping cough when he was three months old upset his glandular balance.

Goldfine And Wife As They Left One Hotel For Another

Expected Tomorrow

Goldfine Granted Testimony Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Harris subcommittee granted Bernard Goldfine a one-day postponement in testimony today but said, "We are going to expect cooperation."

Rep. Owen Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the subcommittee in investigating the gift-giving Goldfine's relations with federal officials, gave this reply to a request from Goldfine's attorneys for a postponement.

Attorney Roger Robb said his Boston millionaire client came to Washington Sunday to prepare to answer committee interrogators again but had gone into a state of physical and mental exhaustion after a chain of spectacular events yesterday.

Little STEEP
Robb told the subcommittee at 10 a. m. — when Goldfine himself said — supposed to have returned to the witness stand — that the discovery of a hidden microphone near a hotel suite occupied by Goldfine and his wife had led to the committee questioning.

"He has every expectation that he will be able to appear before the committee tomorrow and answer these questions," Robb said.

In the aftermath of the microphone incident, the subcommittee fired its chief investigator, Baron I. Shacklette, who had rigged electronic recording equipment in a room next door to the Goldfine suite.

Shacklette denied any connection with the reported removal of Goldfine papers.

When agreeing to a postponement of Goldfine's testimony, Harris gave Robb and Goldfine's other attorneys a lecture.

"I can see that unless there is a change in attitude," Harris said, "there's going to be a clash, and if there is, the committee will be prepared to meet it."

EXPECT COOPERATION
"We are going to expect cooperation and compliance," the committee chairman acknowledged that Goldfine may have very little sleep since he had practically round-the-clock in custody yesterday.

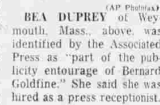

But he said he himself had slept only a few hours since he had said to work yesterday and today.

Then Harris recounted details of the case, saying that Goldfine since the House group first started checking whether Goldfine has received favored federal treatment because of his friendship with Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records.

Harris said every step of the way has been contested as to what the committee should have. He indicated he feels Goldfine has gone in for propagandizing the public.

Goldfine, 67, held the witness stand for two days last week in a hostile mood. Miss Mildred Papernan, a spokeswoman for Goldfine, reported some of her boss' bank records, correspondence and other documents were stolen from her hotel room. The material was brought from Boston for the subcommittee probe but it was not immediately clear how much of it was important to the investigation.

BEA DUPREY of Weymouth, Mass., above, was identified by the Associated Press as 'part of the publicity entourage of Bernard Goldfine.' She said she was hired as a press receptionist.

with Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records.

Harris said every step of the way has been contested as to what the committee should have. He indicated he feels Goldfine has gone in for propagandizing the public.

Goldfine, 67, held the witness stand for two days last week in a hostile mood. Miss Mildred Papernan, a spokeswoman for Goldfine, reported some of her boss' bank records, correspondence and other documents were stolen from her hotel room. The material was brought from Boston for the subcommittee probe but it was not immediately clear how much of it was important to the investigation.

Goldfine himself is testifying voluntarily, but there has been a long subpoena battle over his records.

Harris said every step of the way has been contested as to what the committee should have. He indicated he feels Goldfine has gone in for propagandizing the public.

Goldfine, 67, held the witness stand for two days last week in a hostile mood. Miss Mildred Papernan, a spokeswoman for Goldfine, reported some of her boss' bank records, correspondence and other documents were stolen from her hotel room. The material was brought from Boston for the subcommittee probe but it was not immediately clear how much of it was important to the investigation.

—TREATED IN TRAILER HOME—

Man Too Big For Hospital

BREMEN, Ind. (AP) — Half-ton Robert Earl Hughes, who claims to be the world's biggest man, lay sick today in a semi-trailer truck — too big to pass through a hospital door.

Hughes became seriously ill of measles, complicated by a heart condition while appearing in Nappanee, Ind., with the Goding Brothers Amusement Co. The carnival listed his weight as 1,065 pounds.

The massive 32-year-old man was brought Sunday to Bremen Community Hospital, 16 miles south of South Bend, but he could not be taken through the doors. Nor did the hospital have a bed big enough for him.

Oxygen tanks were taken into Hughes' house, built on the truck bed and mirrors attended him by climbing a ladder. He continues to be an out-patient in his truck, parked at the rear

WEATHER

Considerable cloudiness today with scattered showers or thunder showers, with not much temperature change today, to night and tomorrow.

Low this morning 70
Low tomorrow morning 72
High today 80
High yesterday 80
High tomorrow 88
Sunrise today 5:15 a.m., sunset today 7:41 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2-A