BEACH FANS

WILL FIND

FAIR SKIES

Thinking about going to the beach over Labor Day? If you have any qualms about the weather, forget them.

Hurricane Daisy has left the beach in excellent shape. C. E. Prescott of the Myrtle Beach Sun today told The News, "The sun is shining as bright as I've ever seen it and the ocean is calm as a lake... honestly."

As for temperature, Mr. Prescott said "It's mild this morning... very nice... of course we'll turn on the air conditioner before noon."

Forecast for the weekend: "Fair and warmer."

Treatment For Pacifist

A Cheyenne, Wyo., housewife, Mrs. Ramona Erickson, pours a soft drink down the blouse of Erika Emer, 32, one of several pacifist pickets at an Atlas missile construction site. Mrs. Erickson reportedly first berated the pacifist, tried to force her to drink the drink, then poured it down the Cheyenne woman's blouse.

17 Allowed

Norfolk Schools To Admit Negroes

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Norfolk School Board, complying with an 18-month-old federal court order to end racial segregation in the public schools, announced today it will enroll 17 Negroes in white schools.

The board reported its action to U. S. Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman after three days spent in reconsidering previously rejected applications of 151 Negroes for admission to white schools.

Under Virginia's program of massive resistance to school integration, a school that is integrated is automatically closed.

The board said the 17 children will be enrolled for the school year beginning Sept. 8.

CONTRARY TO BELIEF

It said it took the action contrary to what all of the members of the board and the division superintendent of schools honestly and sincerely believe is in the best interests of the applying children, the children in the affected schools and the public in general.

The 17 children to be enrolled had previously been rejected for admission to white schools on the grounds that their presence there would cause racial tensions and isolation of Negroes among their schoolmates.

The board told Hoffman that after reconsidering the other 124 Negro applicants it had decided not to enroll them.

Board attorney W. R. C. Cooke, immediately after the report was read in court by Chairman Paul Schweitzer, told Hoffman a motion will be filed asking the court to delay or deny enrollment of the 17 Negroes until September, 1959.

"Let it be filed," said Hoffman. The judge told Cooke he probably knows what action he (Hoffman) will take on the motion.

Cooke said it will soon be necessary for the board to seek the court for protection against possible action by the state on the State Supreme Court's injunction restraining the board from assigning any pupils to schools.

Six dollars and a half seems a fair enough price, or having a watch repaired. If it's enough, that is, if the work is done in a reasonable amount of time.

Last week Mrs. James C. Wiggins of Greenville, S. C., got her watch back from the repairman, and the charges came to $6.50. Right now she's wondering whether she should settle the bill in monthly payments over the next 30 days.

That's how long it took to get her watch back.

Arkansas Assembly 'On Call'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus today kept the Arkansas Legislature on call until Jan. 10, a move designed to keep his ammunition against integration out of the reach of court action until he needs to use it.

Faubus this morning signed a legislative resolution extending the session.

The lawmakers plan to go home later today, but technically the historic special session will not end until Jan. 10 when a regular session begins.

A Supreme Court decision on whether Little Rock must remain integrated or get a 24-hour delay will not be handed down until after Sept. 11.

HOLDING BELLS

Faubus is holding anti-integration bills which he would have to sign within five days or let die if the session ended. But by keeping the lawmakers technically in session he will not have to sign the measures until Jan. 15—sooner if he needs them.

If he signed them into law now, presumably they would be subject to attack in the courts by an interested group like the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In Washington, the case was in suspension after a Supreme Court decision to delay a showdown for at least two weeks.

After hearing more than three hours of arguments in extraordinary session yesterday, the nine justices went behind closed doors and decided to hold another hearing Sept. 11.

At that time, the high court will consider the basic question of whether there should be a 24-hour delay in resuming racial mixing of pupils at Little Rock's Central High School.

There was some question as to whether Little Rock will reopen before the new arguments are heard and the high court acts.

TWO AGAINST ONE

Ranked on one side of the dispute were Thurgood Marshall, Negro counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and J. Lee Rankin, mild-mannered solicitor general of the United States.

On the other side was Richard

Just In Time

The bus used in a Kansas City theater production of "The Most Happy Fella" almost made the cut unhappy.

It serves as transport for the chorus and as a prop in the last scene. Last night, just before performance time, it had a flat tire.

It took 45 minutes before someone could be found to repair the tire. The chorus walked, but the bus made the last act just in time.

2 Held In $43,000 Greensboro Robbery

(AP Photos)

GREENSBORO—FBI agents and Greensboro police officers moved quickly to arrest two men this morning in connection with the $43,000 robbery of a Greensboro bank yesterday.

The Charlotte Division of the FBI announced arrest of two New Jersey men accused of robbing the bank at gunpoint. The two were identified as Henry Zienowicz, 42, and Michael Macejka.

They were arrested in a Greensboro rooming house by FBI agents and detectives J. W. Deaton and Garland Dempsey of the Greensboro police dept., at 9:40 this morning.

M. P. Chiles, special agent in charge of the Charlotte Division, FBI, said agents recovered an undetermined amount of currency, change, and checks.

PISTOL FOUND

A .45 caliber automatic pistol and remnants of a false rubber nose also were recovered, he said.

Two shabbily dressed men wearing glasses and comic noses held four bank employees at gunpoint at Friendly Center Branch, Guilford National Bank, early yesterday morning.

They made each of three tellers open his individual vault as soon as they arrived shortly before 9:00 a.m. They escaped with an estimated $43,276, the FBI said.

HEARING SET

Zienowicz and Macejka were charged with violation of the federal bank robbery statute in a complaint filed today before U.S. Commissioner Leonidas Herbin Jr. in Greensboro. They were to receive a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Herbin later in the day.

Mr. Chiles said the investigation which culminated in the arrest was the result of "excellent cooperation afforded by officers of the Greensboro Police Department under command of Police Chief Paul B. Calhoun, officers of the Guilford County Sheriff's office, the State Highway Patrol and Alcohol Beverage Control Board officers."

Contestants Claim $90 Prize Money

The News gave away $90 of the $100 offered in last week's Social Security game.

Mrs. Pauline H. Miller of 2420 Lola Ave. claimed the $50 first prize before the Tuesday deadline. Four of the five prize winners also claimed their prizes.

They were Marion P. Carter Jr., 1919 Kenwood Ave., and Miss Alice T. Wright, 221 N. Sycamore, both of Charlotte; Edith Meahan Melton, Cherraw, S. C.; and Mrs. J. H. Flowe, Concord.

Six winners for this week's Fill out hearts with "I love." to his office with a sheet of bills in his hand, saying he'd rigged the power meter at his home 25 years ago so it would run slower. Now he wanted to make up for it. Aldridge wouldn't identify the man or the amount he paid.

HONEST SOUL

SOUTHPATH—City Auditor W. L. Aldridge said a man came to his office with a sheet of bills in his hand, saying he'd rigged the power meter at his home 25 years ago so it would run slower. Now he wanted to make up for it. Aldridge wouldn't identify the man or the amount he paid.

SKATE SURFACES IN ARCTIC

The nuclear powered submarine USS Skate lies on the surface in the Arctic as two scientists, Dr. E. C. Laford (left) of San Diego, Calif., and Walt Wittman of Washington, D. C., collect data from an ice floe. The Skate surfaced nine times through openings in the Arctic ice pack during its passage beneath the North Pole.

'Done No Wrong,' Says Boyd In Stepping Down 'A While'

Judge Basil M. Boyd, facing a possible indictment for "willful neglect of duty," has turned over City Recorder's Court to Judge Pro Tem Peter H. Gerns.

In stepping down "for a while," Judge Boyd said, "I have committed no wrong."

The request for a bill of indictment against Judge Boyd was announced yesterday by Criminal Superior Court Solicitor Grady B. Stott.

Four others also are expected during the two-week term of Criminal Superior Court opening Tuesday. It may come at the Sept. 29 term.

All charges, with the exception of the embezzlement charge against former Clerk White, are misdemeanors.

In addition to embezzlement, he is charged with willful neglect of duty.

The bondsmen are charged with obstructing justice and interfering with due administration of justice in City Recorder's Court.

The Grand Jury investigation of alleged irregularities in City Recorder's Court came about after it was discovered a number of cases apparently had been improperly not pressed (dismissed) and approximately $30,000 in forfeited bonds had not been collected.

As a part of the total court controversy, Police Capt. Lloyd W. Henkel was dismissed after a Civil Service Commission hearing. He was found guilty of kiting checks and of violating police regulations.

Encephalitis Hits U.S. Servicemen

SEOUL (AP)—Dread sleeping sickness sweeping Japan and Korea has spread to U.S. servicemen and their dependents. One American died today and seven others were hospitalized.

U. S. Army engineers sprayed insecticide around military installations. The armed forces radio warned against exposure to mosquitoes that are spreading the encephalitis.

The 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere of the Vanguard rocket was intended to reach an altitude of 300 miles and then to go into orbit.

The second stage of the Vanguard rocket was intended to reach an altitude of 300 miles and then to go into orbit.

Instead, the second stage lifted the rocket to 298 miles, a Naval Research Laboratory report showed.

The second stage engine failed to cut off properly, causing the rocket to fly with its nose at an upward angle instead of parallel to the earth.

The third stage, flying in a high arc, fired at the wrong angle and climbed to a peak altitude of 2,200 miles.

The sphere flew for 20 minutes, the laboratory said.

'Moon' Took Long Journey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today the Vanguard satellite launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., May 27, traveled 7,500 miles into the South Atlantic instead of going into orbit.

Judges Express Faith In Youth

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A group of judges say they don't believe "the younger generation is going to the dogs."

The Advisory Council of Judges of the National Probation and Parole Assn. yesterday adopted a resolution criticizing comments of FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover on juvenile delinquency.

"We must not have America accept the notion that it is a crime to be young," said the judges' resolution.

It quoted Hoover as saying juvenile courts have to cope with a breakdown of law and order among youth, and said he advocated a "get tough" policy in a speech before the American Bar Assn.
