

Doolittle Chosen
NEWPORT, R. I. — President Eisenhower picked Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle (left) and three others today to serve on the new civilian space agency council.

Suitor Kills Girl
NEW YORK — A man described as a spurned suitor whipped out a sawed-off rifle and shot a 23-year-old woman to death on an upper Broadway sidewalk today before startled passersby could stop him. He then shot and critically wounded himself in the head.

Plans Changed
TOKYO — Top Japanese military experts said today America's "hard line" in the Formosa crisis had forced Red China to abandon plans for an invasion of Quemoy in favor of an attempt to starve it into submission with an artillery blockade.

Border Arguments
NEW DELHI — Premier Nehru said today his government is having border arguments with Peking along the frontiers of Uttar Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh states. The area is in the Himalayas northwest of Nepal.

Five A-Power Plants
GENEVA — The United States will have five nuclear plants producing about 700,000 kilowatts of electric power for industry within two years, the atomic energy congress was told today.

Airplane Hunted
ADANA, Turkey — The U. S. Air Force carried on an intensive search today for an American transport plane with 17 persons aboard that disappeared two days ago near southern Russia.

Demand Growing
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — A marked upturn in new car demand in the year ahead was predicted today by L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp.

12-PART SERIES Billy Graham's Story To Start Monday In News

On Sept. 21 Billy Graham will return to the city of his birth to open a four week evangelistic crusade.

In ten years Dr. Graham has risen from an obscure tent meeting evangelist to the best-known Christian preacher in the world.

Starting Monday, Sept. 8, The News will present to its readers a 12-part series telling the story of Billy's beginnings, his family, his vast organization, and where he is going.

This series, "The Billy Graham Story," has been written by John Borchert, The News' religion editor.

The News will follow this with complete day-by-day story and photographic coverage of the crusade at the Coliseum.

Pledges Signed

WASHINGTON — The heads of both major political parties have promised to avoid smear tactics in the congressional campaign.

But in signing clean campaign pledges yesterday, the chairman of the Democratic and Republican National committees made abundantly clear they are not harboring their candidates from discussing such topics as racial integration and the way President Eisenhower does his job.

Meade ALCORN, Republican chairman, and Paul M. BUTLER, Democratic chairman, touched on their rare agreements at a news conference after formally endorsing a code of fair campaign practices worked out by a national committee headed by Charles P. Taft.

TWO AGREE

They agreed they don't like the statements and the attitude of the Arkansas school integration. Faubus has threatened to close any Arkansas schools that state federal court orders for integration.

Butler said Faubus' statements "do not constitute the attitude of the Democratic party, do not reflect the views and the Democratic Party repudiates such statements by Faubus."

TRANSGRESSION?

ALCORN was asked if he would classify as dirty politics the Democrats' charges that Eisenhower is a part-time President. The GOP chairman replied he felt the transgression the pledge has against the use of campaign material of any sort which misrepresents, distorts or otherwise falsifies the facts.

But Butler said he doesn't interpret the code as restricting the Democrats from making the part-time President charge "with some degree of public acceptance of it as a fact."

In signing the pledge, the two chairmen went on record as conceding that Stempel, long after he was off the program, tried to blackmail them by announcing he would make public charges that the show was rigged.

Barry and Enright earlier in which a voice, presumably Enright's, was heard to say "a blackmail scheme" was afoot and asked, "Do you agree?"

A voice purported to be that of Stempel replied "Oh, yes."

Stempel charged yesterday that the tape recordings "have been doctored."

A CONVERSATION

He said he had a conversation with Enright on the date specified — March 7, 1957 — but added: "I insist that I did not say yes when Enright asked me the question about the blackmail."

Asked what he did say, Stempel

Reds Post 'Keep Out' Warnings

TAIPEI, Formosa — Communist China posted a new "keep out" warning today to any American ships and planes that might be sent to help Nationalist Chinese in Formosa and garrisons on Quemoy and the offshore islands.

The Peking regime extended its territorial waters to 10 miles off shore, taking in Quemoy and Matsu which nestle against the Chinese mainland. The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast that all foreign ships and aircraft must have permission to travel in the new zone.

'ILLEGAL ACT'

The announcement charged that "U. S. military occupation of Formosa is an illegal act violating Chinese territory and sovereignty."

The new regime extended its territorial waters to 10 miles off shore, taking in Quemoy and Matsu which nestle against the Chinese mainland. The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast that all foreign ships and aircraft must have permission to travel in the new zone.

The new sea limits give Peking the pretext to regard any blockade-busting mission to relieve Quemoy as an act of invasion.

The Red Chinese move likely will be called illegal by most of the Western allies. But the alleged similar protests recently when the Soviet Union extended sea limits and got nowhere.

MOVE CONTINUES

The United States continued to ask for forces on Formosa. U. S. authorities announced the arrival of more American S-2 jets but did not say how many.

The new jet force is commanded by Maj. M. H. Frisbie of Powell. Wyo. His no record of flying such large numbers of planes.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U. S. Air Force deputy chief of staff and the top American exponent of long-range bombing, is due at Formosa Sunday for a look at the situation.

'Party' For The Bride

Nursing a black eye, Rose Marie Gemma, 17, of Lynn, Mass., holds down locks and her torn wedding gown. She claims five girls entered an apartment where she was baby sitting, cut off her hair and poured finger-paint on her scalp. She said the group accused her of making a remark about their morals. The girls pleaded not guilty today. Miss Gemma, released from a hospital yesterday, had planned to marry Saturday.

Little Rock Duty? School Security Marshals Enlisted

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The federal government has enlisted civilians to serve as deputy marshals if needed at Little Rock.

Several Southern schools integrated peacefully. Trouble, however, was reported at two points. Court-ordered integration proceeded at Van Buren, Ark., where white students Tuesday had jeered 15 Negroes.

LITTLE ROCK
Application blanks for deputy U. S. marshal did not mention the racial situation at Little Rock Central High School, but one applicant said there was no doubt he was signing for duty at Central if he responds as an integrated school.

The U. S. Supreme Court meets Sept. 14, four days before the school opens, to hear the Little Rock school board's plea for a 30-month breathing spell. The NAACP will ask that integration be resumed at once.

At Fort Smith, just across the Arkansas River from Van Buren, two elementary schools admitted Negroes. One of the youngsters attended school with white children last semester in Fort Smith, where integration is voluntary.

Four Kentucky high schools desegregated for the first time. Integration moved forward a step in one Virginia case but failed to advance in another.

U. S. Dist. Judge Walter Hoffman rejected the Norfolk school board's plea for a delay until next year in desegregation. The judge said he may reconsider his decision if the U. S. Supreme Court agrees to a delay in the Little Rock case.

Disorders occurred at Birmingham, Ala., as a result of fears that Negroes would try to enroll at a white high school, but no Negroes attempted to register at that school or any other white school. A policeman was slugged in the demonstration, one student

Would Use U. S. Arms To Halt Aggression

NEWPORT, R. I. — President Eisenhower today solemnly warned Red China he will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of the Nationalist offshore islands if he finds that necessary to the security of Formosa.

The President's position was set forth by Secretary of State Dulles in a statement authorized by Eisenhower after they had conferred at the summer White House for one hour and 45 minutes.

Dulles said Eisenhower will not hesitate to conclude that Formosa, the main Chinese Nationalist bastion, is threatened under an attack on Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands.

Dulles stressed that Eisenhower has not yet made any such finding under authority conferred on him by Congress.

"Presidential determination, if made, would be followed by action both timely and effective," Dulles said.

STILL HOPING

Despite the persistent bombardment of the Nationalist islands by the Reds, and Communist China's announced intention to invade, Dulles said the United States has not abandoned hope that the Communist government "will stop short of defying the will of mankind for peace."

Dulles added: "The President and I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communist regime will not again, as in the case of Korea, defy the basic principle upon which world order depends, namely that armed force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

Dulles went on to say such widespread use of force in the Far East which would endanger vital free world positions and the security of the United States.

Dulles said any United States acquiescence would threaten peace everywhere.

Meanwhile a high U. S. official said the summer White House said the United States would intervene swiftly if it thought the Formosa Strait situation was out of hand—that is, if the Nationalist Chiang Kai-shek forces could not handle it by themselves.

Asked if today's Dulles' statement could be regarded as a stiff hint warning to the Chinese Reds, this official—who asked not to be named—replied that if he were on the Communist side he certainly would weigh the consequences of further aggression.

Evening Prayer

Heavenly Father, we pray for deliverance from all the sins which constantly beset us and turn us to Thee for help, for Thou only hast the power to cleanse us from all our sins and to forgive us all our wrongdoings; through Christ our Lord . . . Amen.

Alabama Negro Wins Stay Of Execution

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — Jimmy Wilson, the Negro sentenced to die for robbing an elderly white widow, won an indefinite stay of execution today. He was scheduled originally to die in the electric chair early tomorrow morning.

The State Supreme Court, which has upheld the death sentence, said no decision would be handed down today on Wilson's request for a rehearing. That automatically put the execution off, since no condemned man can be put to death while his appeal is still in court.

When the Supreme Court rules on the rehearing petition, it can agree to reconsider its previous decision or let it stand. If the rehearing is denied, a new execution date will be fixed at that time.

TWO TERMS

Wilson, who previously had served two prison terms for grand larceny, was convicted of robbing 82-year-old Mrs. Estelle Barker of $185 at her home in Marion, Ala., July 27, 1957.

Bills Against Court Figures Due Shortly

By ANN SAWYER
News Staff Writer

Bills of indictment against Judge Basil M. Boyd and four others were expected to be returned in open court this afternoon by the Mecklenburg grand jury.

THE CHARGES

Judge Boyd is charged with willful neglect of official duty.

The indictment each faces charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the lower court and obstruct justice there. Embroilment is the charge against Mr. White, and there probably will be one more.

More particulars about these charges will be given in the bills of indictment, but they will not be made public until they are returned in Criminal Superior Court.

The grand jury this morning heard five more witnesses pertaining to alleged irregularities in City Court.

They were Sol Badamer, a volunteer witness who was not heard during the investigation; Auditors H. E. Coffin and Charles O'Daniel; James B. Sims and Elizabeth Lilly.

AGENTS ON CALL

Waiting to be called were two FBI agents — John Vanderford and J. W. Jessup — and Charlie Hunter.

A grand jury spokesman said it probably will hear Sgt. Charles Adams and Mrs. Ida Cooper, both of the City court clerk's office, and City Solicitor George J. Miller at this afternoon.

Fourteen of approximately 30 witnesses subpoenaed in connection with the bills of indictment have been heard by the grand jury. It is not necessary to hear all of them before acting on the bills.

Among those subpoenaed, but not called so far, is former City Clerk Frank N. Littlejohn, who was listed as a witness on the bills for Judge Boyd and Mr. White.

STAY IN SHAPE

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — "But he wouldn't even help me carry the groceries upstairs," a pretty red-head testified in divorce court. Mrs. Shirley Mae Brumfield, 25, a secretary, won the divorce from her husband, Paul, 25.
