Carole Talks With Attorney

Carole Tregoff, 22-year-old cocktail waitress accused of helping her doctor boy friend kill his wife, talks with her attorney after arriving in West Covina, Calif., for a preliminary hearing. The hearing has been postponed until Aug. 11 so that the attorney, Robert Neeb Jr., can familiarize himself with the case.

Poles Cheer Nixon As He Departs

WARSAW (AP) — Ten thousand Poles lined the streets of Warsaw today, waving and applauding, some with tears in their eyes as Vice President Richard M. Nixon left by jetliner for Washington.

"We came to Poland as friends," the Vice President said in a farewell speech at the Babice Military Airport on the edge of Warsaw.

Nixon sent Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev a personal letter before leaving, telling him he enjoyed his tour of the Soviet Union and found his talks with Khrushchev "extremely interesting."

The Soviet News Agency Tass reported that the Vice President wrote that he hoped that "some progress had thus been achieved toward a situation where the two governments, together with other governments, could get down to a peaceful settlement of the important differences between them."

GOES WITH PRESS

Nixon traveled in a TWA four-engine jet carrying members of the press party that accompanied him on his tour of the Soviet Union and Poland.

En route to Keflavik he was to give the newsmen a briefing on his trip, then switch in Iceland to the big military jet which brought him from the United States. The military plane, carrying Mrs. Nixon and other members of the official party, left about 10 minutes later.

Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and Vice President Oskar Lange were at the airport to see Nixon off.

Cyrankiewicz, who had not been on hand to greet Nixon on arrival Sunday but who has had several long talks with him since, held an animated conversation with the departing guest.

LINES WAVED

Men, women and children, nuns, priests and soldiers waved in an almost continuous line along the route as Nixon drove to the airport. Hundreds leaned from apartment windows to watch the procession.

Nixon waved back vigorously. Some of the Poles wiped tears from their eyes as the group moved by.

At the airport the Vice President stopped his black limousine as a little girl climbed over a fence with flowers for him. He got out and accepted her farewell offering with a broad smile and a hug, and he gave her one of his ballpoint pens in return.

In his farewell statement Nixon said the frank discussions he had with Polish leaders during his three-day visit would contribute to closer relations between the United States and Poland.

He emphasized again that both the people and the government of the United States are dedicated to world peace. He said his visit had been a very moving experience.

Commissioner Talks

N. C. Withholding Procedures Told

By EMERY WISTER
News Staff Writer

If you're a salaried employe earning $100 per week and single with no dependents the state will lift $2.56 from your paycheck each week beginning Jan. 1.

But if you're earning $100 a week are married and have four children the state's share of your check will be just $.94.

These are figures from the state's new income tax withholding tables. They were explained to revenue agents here at a meeting in Mecklenburg County Courthouse this morning.

The new withholding tax law goes into effect Jan 1. Employers will make deductions from paychecks just as they are doing for U. S. income taxes now.

FORM DISTRIBUTION

N. C. Revenue Commissioner James S. Currie, who spoke to agents this morning, said first procedure under the withholding tax plan will be distribution of NC-4 forms to all employers. All employes will be required to fill out one of these forms which listing marital status and number of dependents a person has will tell employers how much to deduct from his paycheck.

Self-employed persons will also be affected by the new law and must file declarations of estimated income just as they do now for the federal government.

DECLARATION RULE

Persons who receive as much as $200 from sources other than wages will be required to file declarations.

Declarations must be filed on or before April 15, next year. Persons affected may pay in full or may pay in quarterly installments on or before April, 15, July 15, October 15, 1960 and Jan. 15, 1961.

There is no change in the tax rate. The tax is 3 per cent on the first $2,000 or fraction of net income, 4 per cent on the next $2,000 or fraction, 5 per cent on the next $2,000, 6 per cent on the next $2,000 and 7 per cent on the remainder.

REGULAR EXEMPTIONS

The regular exemptions will be allowed persons who must file declarations, but no overpayment from 1959 taxes or those of any other year can be applied

U. S.-Red Relations Hold Key To Future

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nikita S. Khrushchev, beaming with good will over his invitation to America, declared today that a lasting peace could flow from friendly U. S.-Soviet relations.

When he and President Eisenhower get together, first in Washington and then in Moscow, Khrushchev said, "We must talk peace without any sabre rattling."

In Washington, congressional callers at the White House described Eisenhower as enthusiastic, too, about the trip he will make to Moscow.

But, in Geneva, once more there was the customary note of gloomy doubt that Russia wants amicable accords. The Western powers there blamed Russia for their failure to reach agreement on what to do about Berlin.

The West's foreign ministers said the Soviets actually are trying to annex West Berlin to their system.

MINIMIZES DIFFERENCE.

Khrushchev, in his Kremlin news conference, minimized the U.S.-Russian differences.

"There are no territorial disputes between our two countries, nor any insoluble contradictions, nor any issues which could prevent the establishment of a climate of confidence and mutual understanding," he said in a statement.

In off-the-cuff remarks, the Soviet premier sounded almost jolly.

He was asked whether he might show Eisenhower a Russian rocket base and replied, "That might give a bad taste to the meeting between us."

He raised the question of how it would look if he went to America with a rocket sticking out of his pocket.

WOULDN'T GO

And if he is invited to see an American military installation, he said "I would not go."

"I can go as a peaceful man," he said. His statement made this point:

"If these two powers establish good relations, if they cooperate for peace, there will be lasting peace on earth."

Khrushchev shed no new light on the timing of the trips; he said he would go to America in mid-September and Eisenhower would come to Russia later in the fall.

He did say that while he hoped for good results from the trips, they could not take the place of a summit conference of world powers.

The Soviet press exulted over the planned exchange of visits. One byproduct: The U.S. Exhibition in Moscow, recently a target of bitter criticism and suspicion, came in for praise.

Anti-Mixers Crying 'Foul'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —The Little Rock School Board was accused today of moving up the date for opening public high schools by almost four weeks to "force integration" even at the risk of exposing pupils to a polio epidemic.

"It seems our schools are in the hands of reckless daredevils who are willing to open schools in the height of a polio epidemic in order to force integration," Dr. Malcolm Taylor, president of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council, said.

The board unanimously voted last night to reopen the four high schools Aug. 12 instead of Sept. 8. The schools have been closed for a year against integration.

Dr. Taylor said he could see no logical reason for advancing the opening date. The board denied fear of special legislative action prompted its move. Dr. Taylor refused to say what the citizens council planned, if anything, to resist integration.

The new opening date was proposed in a motion by Ted Lamb, one of three board members who openly oppose Faubus' school policies. The motion was adopted, without discussion, after Supt. Terrell Powell had assured the board schools could be ready for opening by the new date.

Rights Bill Cut Again

WASHINGTON (AP)— The House Judiciary Committee today approved a civil rights bill providing federal criminal penalties in cases of bombings, mob action against school desegregation and destruction of election records.

But in a last minute switch, the committee struck out of the bill all provisions for technical and other aid to school desegregation.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) said this switch was the work of "the same, unholy coalition — Southern Democrats and a large number of Republicans."

It was the third major amputation on the bill accomplished by the coalition.

The bill, which now goes to the House, also would extend for two years the life of the existing Civil Rights Commission.

The measure follows in large part recommendations by President Eisenhower's administration.

But the committee, during more than a week of closed-door sessions, debated an Eisenhower proposal for a special commission on equal job opportunity under government contracts.

Also deleted was a proposal strongly backed by some Northern Democrats to extend the enforcement powers of the U. S. Attorney General. This section would have authorized the attorney general to seek federal injunctions in all kinds of civil rights cases, as he is now permitted to do in voting cases.

$3 Million Payoff

Senators Say Mob Got Teamster Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee charged today that James R. Hoffa paid "a long standing debt to the Chicago underworld" with three million dollars of Teamsters Union health and welfare funds.

The committee in a report to the Senate, said that Teamster President Hoffa personally swung the deals to please the underworld and benefit the family of Paul Dorfman. It said Dorfman is the man who introduced Hoffa to "Midwest mob society."

The committee said Midwest Teamsters Union members paid dearly for the deals since 1950, in drastic reduction of health-welfare insurance benefits and inflated charges for the insurance.

OTHER REPORTS

The committee also filled two other reports with the Senate on its 1958 investigations, alleging:

1. That the brothers Max and Louis Block, who since have resigned as officials of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, "milked the treasuries" of two New York locals. The report said they got $214,000 in salaries and expenses in three years 1955-57, and manipulated another $293,000 out of the locals' treasuries for other purposes.

2. That the A. & P. stores' eastern division "participated in an elaborate conspiracy" with Max Block to force 10,000 A. & P. employes into his union under a 45-hour work week contract instead of the 40-hour week rival unions demanded.

The three reports followed one filed by the committee yesterday charging that Hoffa will "destroy the decent labor movement" in this country unless someone curbs him.

The four reports, filed by the committee's chairman, John L. McClellan (D-Ark), break a log jam that has delayed an official statement of findings in the committee's far ranging investigation last year.

In its blast at Hoffa, the committee said, "There does not

Ike To Urge Labor Control

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower will make a nationwide broadcast tomorrow night to urge the enactment by Congress of effective labor control legislation.

Eisenhower will speak from his office at 7:30 p. m. (EDT) over the major radio and TV networks.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the White House had asked for 15 minutes on the networks "to permit the President to talk to the nation on the need of the Congress to enact this year effective labor reform legislation."

Eisenhower presumably will ask for legislation much like that of the Landrum-Griffin Bill, which has been offered in the House as a substitute for the bill drafted by the House Labor Committee.

At a news conference last week the President spoke favorably of the measure sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich).

Union leaders call this bill much tougher than the one reported by the House Labor Committee. The AFL-CIO is strongly opposed to it.

Vandalism Brings SAC Base Curfew

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) —Col. William C. Lewis, base commander, yesterday imposed a curfew on all "unescorted dependents" 16 years old or under following a wave of vandalism at this Strategic Air Command base.

Evening Prayer

Our gracious heavenly Father, we humbly thank Thee for all past blessings. Use us to lead others out of the bondage of sin into the promised land of new life in Christ. We give Thee all the praise, for Christ's sake. Amen.

3 'Rascals' Fake Killing On Course

(From AP Reports)

Asheville golfers gasped as a boy turned a rifle on another youth on the course and blazed away. The boy fell to the ground, red stain oozing along his shirt front. A third youth hustled up, helped the fallen boy into a car and sped off. Hospital emergency rooms were notified, but none of the youths showed up.

The police chief at last report was still scratching his head and muttering something about "those rascals." The first boy was firing blanks and that red stuff on the second boy's shirt was tomato catsup.

Gremlins Maybe?

An unmanned switch engine in Hartford, Conn., made a bid for freedom during the midnight hours. It eased down the tracks, picked up speed on a straightaway and ran head-on into a 110-car freight train just leaving the yards.

The result: seven cars of the freight and the runaway engine derailed, traffic slowed on two tracks for hours. Officials are still wondering how the engine slipped the handbrake.

Honesty Wins

Conscience weighed heavily on a former N. Y. tax department employe for a year and a half. Finally he wrote: "I mailed a personal letter through the office postage meter. Here's a quarter to pay for the postage." The quarter went into the till and the sender missed a bid for fame. The note was unsigned.

Stop (Puff) Thief!

A thief scooped up $27 from a San Francisco grocer's cash register and stretched out his 6-foot-6 frame into a gallop. The grocer, a mere 5-footer, gave wheezing chase and cornered the thief in a nearby men's room. The money was recovered.

The speedy grocer is 80 years old.

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)— The giant liner Queen Elizabeth will sail on schedule tomorrow despite her collision off New York with an American freighter.

5 Unhurt In Plane Crash

KINARDS, S.C. (AP) — A Columbus, Ga. man, his wife and three children were unhurt today when their private plane made an emergency crash landing on a farm near this Newberry County town.

Mrs. Sally Prevatte told The Associated Press the engine on their Navion plane quit at about 4,000 feet. Her 35-year - old husband Lee, who has been flying about nine years, quickly radioed the Spartanburg airport, about 50 miles away, that he was in trouble.

"We didn't have much choice of a landing field," she said. "It was mostly wooded area. My husband saw we wouldn't clear the trees as we came in so he turned sharply left and we stopped when we hit a fence.

NO SCRATCHES

"Nobody was hurt, not even scratched. But the plane probably was totally destroyed. My husband is down there now looking at it," she said, speaking by telephone from the farmhouse of John Earl Smith.

Their three children are Diane, 10, Tony, 5, and Sidney, 2. The family had left Columbus for Danville, Va. at 5:40 a.m.

"We don't do much cross-country flying," she said. "But a lot of local flying."

She said they had no idea why the engine quit.

Mrs. Prevette said they planned to return to Columbus. Her husband either would hire a pilot to would rent a plane himself for the trip.

—COMPANION LIVES BUT DISAPPEARS—

Man Dies Of Thirst In Ship's Hold

NEW YORK (AP)— When the freighter Cordoba docked yesterday in Brooklyn she carried 900 tons of reeking raw tobacco —and a tale of horror, agony and death.

She had been at sea four days since leaving Havana, but the first inkling anyone had that anything was wrong was when half a dozen dockers opened a hatch to start unloading cargo.

A wild figure came clawing upward from the hold. He was gaunt and unshaven, with bulging eyes. He clutched his throat, and one man said later "he looked like a maniac."

RAN FROM SHIP

The man was wearing a dirty undershirt, brown dungarees, and socks without shoes. He ran across the deck, down the gangplank, and weaving and stumbling, ran the length of the pier and disappeared into a bar and grill.

There he shouldered aside customers as if he didn't see them. He drank six glasses of water in rapid succession. Then apparently still dazed, he staggered into the street and was lost from view.

Seven hours later, while still unloading cargo, the dockers came on the other half of the story. Deep in a hold, where the tobacco fumes were rankest and where the heat had gone over 115 degrees during the voyage, the naked body of a man was wedged behind several bales of tobacco.

The dead man's fingers were clutching his throat, and there was an expression of agony on his face.

An ambulance surgeon said the man apparently died of thirst. He apparently stripped off his clothes in an attempt to survive the heat.

BELIEVED HID AWAY

Police believe the two stowaways hid in the hold, without food or water, when the ship was in Havana, and that one man survived only because he was strong enough to climb to the top of the hold, away from the worst of the heat and fumes.
