Yet it is possible that the solution Mr. Cliapper proposes in his column today may be correct—and that fear has driven Heast to desperate devices to bry to head off what he judges to be catastrophe. If Hiller has actually taken the declation—as seems probable—to turn his back once for all on the West, line Germany up permantly with Russia, and to cerry the war to Equity Mrussia and the Atlantic, Heas, a bitter authormunist, would inevitably be horrified—and would have ground for fear that it would bring the United States into the war and end in the total desirection of Germany.

Obviously Heats wert along with that because only is short time later, Hiller named him as the next in succession after Goering, Obviously Hiller was at that time convinced that Heat was thoroughly loyal.

Apparently Heat retained his standing until very recently. He was prominently on hand for Hilter's hirthday April 20 in the Eskins. On May 4. Hes was do the front row of the restrum when Hiller addressed the real-rum when Hiller addressed the Residuals. whatever it was that drove Hess to such a decision must have accurred during that interval.

IT IS PROBABLY MORE THAN PERSONAL PEAR

If it were a simple matter of Rittler having turned upon him, Hess might have been deeply hurt. He might have committed suicide, under the ancient code of a soldier who has unwittingly committee success, unseen the success, code of a soldier who has unwritingly brought down upon himself the contempt of his superior. If Hees had felt himself personally wronged, that would be the most likely extrems course who the superior of the superior of the superior of the superior of the strange desertion only with the hope, however fantastic and unbalanced, that it might away something which to hink was more practicular his highest properties of the war. splyidal coward.

HITLER IS PROBREXT

COMING TO ATLANTIO

To me this incident contacts with some great decision that Hiller has made within the last few days. Hiller has two basic courses open. One would be to turn east now into Russia and mail down his food and oil. The other, would be to push through Spain, reach the west coast of Africa, come out into Dakar, the Cape Verde Itlands and the Asorce and draw the see noose around Britain. European dispatches suggest the scoond ocurs is the one probably just decided upon. It means setting Russia off, choosing to go arm in arm with Communican down the long corridor of the future. If Sitter comes out into the Atlantic that, probably will draw the United Sistes into the war.

Anyway it is the most plausible in several donen theories as I lidek in it.
