"Out of the Night"—

Valtin Tries To Dodge the Camera

For weeks after publication of "Out of the Night," its author, Jan Valtin, sought to conceal his identity, fearing the vengeance of Communism's GPU and the Nazi Gestapo, for the suppose he has written of their numerous atrocities. U. S. Department of Justice agents, enforcing immigration laws, revealed him as Richard Julius Herman Krebs, German refugee and reformed Communist. He contested deportation proceedings at New York, insisting that such action would mean execution under a Hitler axe or by a Stalin firing squad. He is shown, trying to avoid the camera, en route to Ellis Island where he was released under $5,000 bonds. The second chapter of "Out of The Night" is on page 6-B of this edition.

The Everyday Counselor

By REV. HERBERT SPAUGH

CLIMBING up a hill may be hard work, but it has its compensation in the joy of stopping and looking back over the way you have gone.

The same goes for surmounting difficulties. Climbing over them, climbing around them, removing them — all of that is not easy. But when you can stop, look back, then there is cause for gratitude.

There is a passage in the Bible which is always helpful to me when my spirits are low. "Consider how great things He (the Lord) hath done for thee." When I stop to count up my blessings, and recall all of the difficult situations through which I have been led by the Divine Counselor, I thank God and take courage.

Some of the letters which come to this desk are from those who have suffered much along the way of life, but they breathe a sweet Christian spirit. How many of them tell of Providential leading during the dark days!

Dear reader, if you are in a particularly tough spot just now, and feel as if the sky is closed down on you, STOP AND LOOK BEHIND YOU.

Many times you have repeated, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." If you meant what you said, you were taking the Lord as your guide, and daily Counselor. Think how many times he has lead you out of difficult places.

Stop and think! Did He ever let you down? If He has helped you before, He will help you now if you will let Him.

Stop letting all those worries and anxieties pile in and cut off your faith. The drowning man needs air, not more water, and a man in trouble needs God, not more fear and worry.

Who doesn't have to climb at times, and who doesn't have to descend into the valleys? The writer of the 23rd Psalm had both experiences, and the same Leader has taken him along the whole way. That Psalm is perhaps the favorite of all passages in the Bible.

It is one of the finest prayers on record. Many don't think of it as a prayer, but it is. Treat it as such and get the benefit.

Stop now and look behind you for a minute; look down the hill, and see from whence you have come.

Then look for the top and see where you are headed. Finally, trust your Guide and Counselor.

Warship Building 'Miracle' Asked By Secretary Knox

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Knox demanded a production "miracle" of the nation's warship building industry today in order to assure the United States and Britain of command of the seas.

"There can no longer be any doubt," Knox said, "that this war will be determined by two things —no, one thing—a successful combination of sea and air power."

Speaking to a conference of shipbuilders, he told them it was up to them to see that America and Britain were equipped with the warship half of the combination necessary for victory.

MORE LABOR EFFICIENCY

Knox suggested that the production "miracle" be accomplished by increasing immediately the efficiency of labor in shipbuilding yards since virtually all are now scheduled to do all the work they are capable of undertaking.

"There is no criticism of what has been done to date," he said, "It has been well done, but it is not enough. We've go to do more. We must have something more than an honest day's work. We must have the kind of spirit and the kind of sacrifice that our forefathers had when they established this country."

Rashid Ali Flees To Persian City

LONDON. — (AP) — Rashid Ali Al Gailani, fugitive anti-British premier of Iraq, arrived last night in Teheran, capital of Iran (Persia), a Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from that city said today.

Rashid Ali, who seized control of the Iraq Government in April, fled from Baghdad last week before British troops entered the city.

Calls Situation History's Gravest

SUMTER, S. C. —(AP)— The 31st (Wildcat) division reunion was told by Representative L. Mendel Rivers of Charleston last night that the present situation was the gravest in this country's history and that many people were not aware of the imminence of war.

"President Roosevelt has made up his mind," Rivers said, "that neither John L. Lewis nor any other man will henceforth be permitted to slow up national defense by strikes in key industries."

Snow Falls In Russia

MOSCOW—(AP) — Snow fell on Central European Russia today, prolonging this section's coolest Spring in more than a century.

Snowfall was reported at Archangel and Leningrad as well as Moscow, where a temperature of 42.8 degrees was recorded.

This was the first June snow recalled by residents of Moscow.

The first coins struck in what is now the United States were pine tree shillings, made of silver and worth 12 1-2 cents.

Life's Like That:

What A Cylinder Li'l Ol' Snake

LYONS, Kan.—(AP)—Add Miss Mabel Hammarlund's automobile to the list of snake victims.

Mechanics seeking to learn why the car wouldn't run found an eighteen-inch bullsnake wedged in the carburetor. They figured the reptile entered the exhaust pipe and crawled until it was trapped.

Say, "I saw it in The News." Thank you.

TOY GUN GUNMAN FOILED IN ROBBERY

KANSAS CITY.—(AP)—Taxicab Driver Leslie Roberts pulled up beside Patrolman Don Defoe and said:

"This passenger is giving me trouble."

Seeing a pistol in the man's hand, Defoe drew his own gun and ordered the man to drop his weapon. The officer picked up the gun, discovered it was a toy.

The passenger signed a statement admitting he robbed Roberts of $1.85.

RATS! EXTERMINATORS RUNNING REVERSE RACE

RICHMOND—(AP) — Richmond's rat-exterminating campaign has gone into reverse.

L. L. Friedman, city rat control director, kept three rats for experimental purposes—putting them to death, one at a time, by various kinds of poison.

Maxie went first and Agnes was to be next, but Friedman felt compelled to stay her execution: He found her with a litter of ten baby rats.

ICKES WOULD LIKE THAT

DANVILLE, Va.—(AP)—Unable to find the answer himself, Chief of Police George Price has asked his lieutenants to solve a department mystery.

Studying records on the performance of department cars, Chief Price discovered that—according to the records—police cruiser No. 4 operated throughout the month of May, traveling 900 miles, without using any gasoline.

Us Kids Could Use That Brand

CHICAGO. — (AP) — A chocolate candy bar containing oat flour to keep it from melting in a soldier's pocket now is issued by the Army as an emergency ration, Captain C. G. Herman of the Quartermasters Corps said today.

"It was only recently that we have been able to secure a confection which would simulate chocolate, which the soldier demands, and yet stand up under varying conditions and temperatures running from 20 degrees below zero to 120 degrees Fahrenheit," he told the National Confectioners' Association.

Belmont Pastor To Hold Revival at Mooresville

BELMONT. — The Rev. R. A. Kelly, pastor of First Baptist Church of Belmont is scheduled to conduct evangelistic services the last eight days of June at the First Baptist Church of Mooresville, of which Dr. E. L. Spivey is pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Kelly will conduct a similar meeting in the Baptist Church of Jefferson, Va., in his home county, Fauquier the last week of July.

Mr. Kelly is also scheduled to be away the second and third Sundays of August, preaching at University Place Baptist Church in Baltimore, Md.

Plan Health Department

BEAUFORT. — (AP) — Carteret County commissioners have agreed to set up a full-time health department. The action was taken after appearance of a delegation that referred to increased population in the coastal area because of defense projects.
