

Charlotte News

And Evening Chronicle

Published by The News Publishing Company, Inc. ... Subscription rates: 12 cents a week, $3.00 a month, $12.00 a year.

Cotton Ed

It hasn't Changed A Whiff Not One ... Because we wouldn't have a South Carolina reader miss it for anything, we reproduce from Drew Matthews' column the following cartoon picture of Cotton Ed Smith in action:

Editorial Senator "Cotton" Ed Smith ... He has been elected to the U. S. Senate, strolled into a Senate hearing room ...

ing to be felt very keenly, now. Hence these changes. This week, and until the emergency is over, the News editorial page and certain other pages will appear in present form.

ing to be felt very keenly, now. Hence these changes. This week, and until the emergency is over, the News editorial page and certain other pages will appear in present form.

Football Sheets May Be Illegal, But ...

We hope you folks are satisfied, now. The office of the Attorney General, speaking clearly enough, has enlightened the State ...

I. That, under the State law (Section 4423B), a conviction could be obtained if football betting is shown to be a gambling device ...

The Plaintiff

Congress Would Like To Hear About the War

Congress, you see, can't get any sense from Moscow, Cordeil Hull says. He knows they are getting agreement at Moscow that caught up with the boys in Capitol Hill ...

Vain Hopes

Financial Ruin Won't End Threat of Nazis

No, there's another war theory we cannot swallow. The British have discovered that, since inflation is running wild in Nazi Germany, it is inevitable that the enemy is in danger ...

Battle Dress

We Make a Change To Meet Shortage

It is a traditional belief among newspapermen that lay readers never care little about newspaper layout ...

The Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson ... WASHINGTON—There may be a lot more than meets the eye behind the $30,000 fee paid to Frank J. Confort ...

Where's the Money? Meanwhile, Brewster, Lockheed, Consolidated and Curtis-Wright had raised a pool of $50,000 to pay for lobbying for this amendment ...

So far as can be ascertained, he did not deposit the cash in any savings account. Examination of his checking account shows that checks in this amount were distinctly unusual ...

"You Win, Tojo" ... By Dorian Smith ... "If I were the angel Gabriel, and you and Summer Wells should meet before seeking admission into the gates of Heaven, do you know what I'd say to you?"

Food The Weapon

By Raymond Clapper

NEW YORK—The price for a square meal in occupied Europe today is revolution against the Nazis, says a reasonably sane facsimile. The new United Nations relief organization, which Mr. Lehman heads, is willing to feed Europe on those lines ...

What would happen if we accepted Mr. Hoover's plan? We would then see Swes and Gwelled agents, all over it throughout the conquered countries, to assess starving women and children ...

At the same time, we would be hard at work in the skies, bombing day and night, in an attempt to bring about the opposite effect. We would have our great organization, our air force, filling munitions, our bombers, doing its utmost to reduce European industry ...

For Roosevelt Again

By Samuel Grafton

NEW YORK—The November Fortune Survey shows that a majority of the people, as of today, think they would vote for Mr. Roosevelt for reelection, if the war were still on. The sampling gives the President 51.5 per cent of the total, as against 23.5 per cent for Messrs. Dewey, Wallender, and Gwelled. The Republicans have lost three times had running, but most of them are still playing the same old game of trying to slip into the White House ...

Side Glances

By Galbraith Reporter's Notebook

over a table, examining a map by the light of a candle. It was midnight. The room was dark. The only light came from the candle on the table ...

"He must be worrying about something—I've never seen those gray hairs before!" ... "What is this about Footy? Brit? Footy had himself a hair, Mr. Gaurr chuckled, referring to Lt. Maurice Britt of London, A.R. ...

Everyday Counselor

By Rev. Herbert Spaulg

COLLEGE students as Christian students must oppose an "interim code of ethics and must demand permanent standards for moral behavior," declared Dr. Carl U. Bruch in a recent address to the North Carolina State Baptist Student Union Convention in Winston-Salem. Dr. Bruch is absolutely right in standing this warning. What has a year of bringing a tatoned in morals. Men and women in service are out of the home and church. Viewing the life itself, many seem to be unaware of the times and the times are taken up with the old philosophy of "eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die." Such an attitude is dangerous and perilous. Suppose, "Tomorrow we die" would say: "I've got out of this life breathing the fumes of an alcoholic debauch and hearing such him the fresh stain of violated morals."

There is a current idea afloat among many girls, which I have frequently expressed my disapproval of. They are actually guilty of sabotaging the war effort, because of their attitude toward the truth. It is one of the greatest sources of venereal infection which incapacitates our boys in battle, instead of helping them.

For personal reply address The Everyday Counselor, The Little Church On The Lane, 522 Moravian Lane, Charlotte 4, N. C., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

New Cassandras

By Dorothy Thompson

WASHINGTON, SOME months ago, Gen. Patton, in reply to the small number of a fallen soldier, promised the younger that he, too, would have a chance to fight for his country some day. On Wednesday, the Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, announced that the war that this was likely to be the last war. On Thursday, Alexander Bruever for making clear where every political and military move for the future. For him this second war is only a rest of the first war. He is already at present war is not yet provided few examples of pure air strategy. In the future, as aviation becomes a more important part of the next war in the air will be humane. Few people will be killed. The result will not be any longer, but "general chaos." Cautiously enough, I don't believe these predictions. I don't believe we are going to fight over Persia, oil, not even over air transport.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

I greatly hope that none of these gentlemen will have anything to say about the coming election. Mr. Roosevelt is betting against the success of their own plans, let us make our plan. Mr. Roosevelt is to be permanent universal military training, the world's peace will be made, and we are sure that we don't end this war too soon, and only when our troops stand in Berlin and Tokyo. We are to knock out Germany and Japan once and for all, leaving only the United States as power factors on earth. We are to make sure that the following peace will be a permanent one. It will be the most important thing that will be done by the United Nations. Knox considers will be our next step. Another thing to be done is to make sure that we don't end this war too soon, and only when our troops stand in Berlin and Tokyo. Senator Brewster picks a good point for his next war—Persia. American and British boys are to fight each other in the name of the conflicting interests of private companies. But there is another power, interested in Persia, though not in oil concessions, but in an